OFFICE OF ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR IS CREATED

CITY COUNCIL TAKES ACTION TO LOWER INSURANCE RATES HERE.

In order to remove another obstacle in the way of lower insurance rates, the city council last night passed an ordinance creating the office of electrical inspector and providing that all future installation of electrical wiring or apparatus done under his supervision under penalty of fine or imprisonment.

The council will appoint Fire Chief Cliff Bellinger electrical inspector and he will attend to his new duties in connection with his present office. No additional salary is provided. Mr. Bellinger will be given a course of instruction by the board of insurance underwriters and that board will thereafter accept his inspection upon all buildings and make insurance rates accordingly.

The ordinance provides that all electrical work shall be done in conformance with the national electric code in which the electrical inspector must be versed. The ordinance will not be retro-active and the fire chief can condemn present wiring only where it is considered absolutely a menace. The same ordinance is in effect in 15 other cities in the state and the underwriters are making an attempt to make it universal.

Finds Things in East Different.

Chief of Police John Kearney is in receipt of a letter from Assistant Chief Alex Manning who left recently for Grand Rapids, Michigan, with his family for a visit. Mr. Manning finds things very different in the east from here. Speaking professionally, he declares the police departments are not near as up-to-date as in the west but he appreciates the absence of the hobo element. A "floater" there, he says, gets a stiff sentence of from 15 to 30 days. Grand Rapids he finds bears a great deal of resemblance to Portland save that the merchants have not yet generally adopted the idea of using electric signs in front of their places of business. His greatest surprise was in finding so many people who have not been a hundred miles from home. A 20 mile trip there, he says, is something of a journey.

Judge In Demand By Graduates

Judge Stephen A. Lowell left this morning for Dayton, Wn., where this evening he will deliver the address to the graduating class of the school of that city. The judge is in demand as a commencement speaker. Last Friday he delivered the graduating address at Hermiston, tomorrow evening he speaks to the outgoing class of Weston high school, Saturday evening at Arlington and on Friday, June 5, to the graduates of Walla Walla high school.

Governor John K. Turner of Pennsylvania, president of the National League, who predicts that despite the opposition of the Federal League, the two big leagues of organized baseball will this year enjoy the most prosperous seasons since their inception.

Sam Oldaker, well known Hermiston resident, is among the visitors from the west end today.

Herbert Boylen, prominent Pilot Rock farmer, was among the delegates to the republican committee meeting last evening.

George W. Done, prominent Pilot Rock business man, was here last evening to attend the republican central committee meeting.

Mediators in Session

NIAGARA FALLS, May 21.—Preliminary formalities disposed of the mediators are ready for actual business. They had first a talk with the Mexican envoys at noon which lasted an hour. They expected to have another interview with the Americans tonight and a second with the Mexicans tomorrow. By these alternate interchanges of views it is hoped ultimately to reach a satisfactory agreement.

ROOSEVELT AT HIS DESK ANSWERS CORRESPONDENCE

NEW YORK, May 21.—Colonel Roosevelt was at his desk in the Outlook office for a while today. After dictating several letters he visited the American museum of natural history and superintended the unpacking of some of the specimens he brought back from Brazil. Nearly everyone he saw had questions to ask concerning the new river. It was clear the Colonel was piqued by doubts cast on the genuineness of his discovery.

"It's there," he exclaimed, "at least a third of it is navigable. If anyone wants to see it for himself, I'll tell him how to get to it."

His health didn't seem to trouble him.

MELLEN SAYS ROOSEVELT PREVENTED MONOPOLY.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Why Charles W. Morse failed to get an absolute monopoly on Atlantic coast wise shipping was given the public when Charls S. Mellen resumed his testimony before the commerce commission. Only the personal intervention of Roosevelt, then President, blocked such a condition, he said Morse offered Mellen $20,000,000 for the New Haven steamship lines. Mellen said he wanted to sell but consulted Roosevelt, fearing the government was about to prohibit railroad owners competing with water lines.

Mellen asserted he told Roosevelt that if Morse's offer was not accepted New Haven might be forced to sell later at a lower figure. Roosevelt promised, according to Mellen, that if the New Haven rejected the offer this corporation's steamship holdings wouldn't be interfered with while he was President. Mellen said he rejected Morse's offer.

LOCAL MAN MAY GO TO MEXICO AS INTERPRETER

AL PIKE MAKES APPLICATION FOR POSITION UNDER UNCLE SAM.

Indicating that the government officials are still maintaining a preparedness for hostilities in Mexico is a letter received by Al Pike of this city from a military officer in Washington, D. C., in response to an application for a position as interpreter in case troops are sent to Mexico. Pike acted as interpreter for the U. S. at the surrender of Manila. He recently resigned his position as day clerk at the St. George and is ready to leave at an instant's notice. The following is an excerpt from the letter:

"* * * * Remember, I am doing this unofficially, but wish to keep in touch with you in case you are needed. * * * * The establishment of a new separate brigade would, of course necessitate the employment of an interpreter, who would have to be a man of clerical ability to fit in general office duties as a civilian employee. * * * * our employment, as a civil service employee would not be practicable unless you are on the eligible list in the first grade, clerk, list. But there is no reason why you could not be engaged as an emergency clerk under G. O. 12, which provides for such exigencies. * * * * Personally, I believe the occasion will arise for creation of a number of emergency clerks, and a man with your record as interpreter, and your military service in Manila, would receive consideration. Believe me in saying I will do my best for you, as a friend, and in any official capacity in my power."
