Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Improving Residence.

E. A. Schiffler, the retired merchant tailor, is having a fine, large porch built upon his residence at 415 Madison street.

Young People to Wed.

A marriage license was issued today to Joseph Baker and Olga Hulick, a young Freewater couple. The bridegroom is only 19 years old and the consent of his father, J. A. Baker, was necessary.

Back From Condon.

"Happy" Day, Earl Couits and "Dusty" Rhodes have returned from Condon where they went to see a try-out of some of the fast horses which will soon race in that city. A number of local horses, including "Little Fred" and "Brandy" will be entered.

Dray Load of "Jungle Stiffs."

Police Officer John Russell secured an auto truck yesterday afternoon, drove to the "jungles" near the slaughter house and returned with a full load of that species of itinerant mankind known as "jungle stiffs." They were given a night's lodging and admonished to be on their way this morning. The police have posted notices in all of the hobo haunts in the city, warning them against tarrying there.

Boak Here Tomorrow.

In local Woodmen circles there is much interest taken in the coming tomorrow of I. I. Boak, head consul of the order. The distinguished Woodman will give a lecture at the M. E. church early tomorrow evening and the public is invited to attend. Following the meeting at the church a session of Pendleton camp will be held at the Eagles-Woodmen hall and a class initiated.

Let the Fountains Flow.

A good deal of complaint is being made over the bubbling drinking fountains, recently installed on the main streets, because of the fact that they do not bubble with enough force. Not only does the present flow fail to feed fast enough to make drinking easy but it destroys the sanitary features of the fountains, the complainants say. Inasmuch as most of the drinkers fit their mouth over the fountain cup in order to drink faster.

OCCUPANTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

S. N. YEEND SUSTAINS SEVERAL BROKEN RIBS WHEN CAR TURNS TURTLE.

WALLA WAALA, May 21.—S. N. Yeend, prominent Valley Grove farmer, received several broken ribs and painful body bruises, four of his children and Forest Merryman, a young friend, were badly shaken up, when the automobile in which they were returning home from town last night, turned turtle about two miles from town on the Valley Grove road running just north above Garden City Heights.

While running at good speed, without warning, the car turned completely over, as one side went into a ditch. Mr. Yeend was pinned directly underneath, the back of the front seats resting on his abdomen. The children were thrown bodily from the car as it was in the air, and all escaped with the exception of Charles, who was pinned down by one arm.

JACK ROSE TWO YEARS AFTER HE AIDED IN ROSENTHAL MURDER

Jack Rose, who, according to his story in the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant of New York City, was Becker's chief agent in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, again took the witness stand when the case against Becker was called. He told much the same story he had given on the first trial.

Rose has changed considerably since the first trial. He has lived in the country, and had reformed or pretended to reform, for he has been preaching temperance and honesty. He was calmer and showed fewer traces of the life he had led when he was a habitue of the east side in New York.

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE URGE PORTLAND AS BIG WOOL MARKET

BIG SALES SIMILAR TO LONDON AUCTIONS SUGGESTED BY GROWER

Present Little Sales Days of No Value To Growers Say, Howard Stephens, Wool Will Go East by Water After This Year.

If instead of selling their wool as at present the wool growers of the whole northwest would concentrate all their wool at Portland and hold there a big sale similar to the London auctions they would stand a better chance of securing real competition from the buyers and therefore better prices. This is the view of many people familiar with the wool situation and among those urging the plan is Howard Stephens, well known local grower.

Mr. Stephens believes that the present sales day policy means nothing to the growers. He prefers private sales to the sales days but believes that if the wool could be assembled in Portland sales might be arranged that would bring more spirited bidding. He figures that such sales would attract buyers from all over the world, manufacturing houses as well as brokers.

After this year it is the supposition that all the wool will go east by water and consequently Portland will become a naturally shipping point for the northwest wool. It is the opinion of Mr. Stephens that the Wyoming, Montana and even Utah wool could be brought to Portland.

Spud Raisers Lost Money.

Through not selling their potatoes some time ago when they were offered as high as 75 cents many farmers on Weston mountain have lost out. The market is now down and they are hauling spuds to Weston for 50 cents.

Made Beef Shipment—Horace Walker has shipped a car of beef to Portland from his ranch near Stan- field.

London Wool Auction—The third series of London Colonial Wool Auc- tions have closed. The prices of the last day were equal to the highest paid at any time. During the fifteen days about sixty-five million pounds were sold, less than nine million pounds of which was taken for Amer- ican consumption.

American purchases were generally of the better class of Merinos and Fine Crossbreds. (These grades, by reason of their lessening production in this country, have practically forced their purchase abroad.) Active manufacturing demand was in evidence from all sections of the Continent and England, and the withdrawals aggregated less than two million pounds.

The next series, beginning July 7th, will have available about 150,000 bales, or approximately fifty million pounds. Cable advices indicate the expectation that the present strong market conditions will continue.

The following cable from Brisbane, Australia, has been received, covering a sale of 45,000 bales, or about fifteen million pounds: "The market is very excited. United States buyers are buying freely the Queensland new clip. Prices of greasy Merinos are fully equal to the highest current London rates."
