Her husband was a soldier in the union army during the civil war and they afterwards moved to Missouri. The husband died there in 1889. #### FOR SALE, STOCK RANCHES

1400 acres, all fenced, good buildings, and orchard, close to good outside range, P. O. and store. 150 cattle and 25 horses if desired. Price of land is $8 per acre, and if the stock is bought at a low price, there will be 150 tons of hay, and all the farm implements thrown in as a gift.

1600 acres, all fenced and cross fenced, good improvements, close to the reservation, with a reserve right with it. This ranch can be bought, including a lot of stock, crop, and farm tools for $10 per acre; easy terms.

2000 acres, 70 acres meadow, and plenty of plow land besides. This fine ranch is in the best section of the country for wintering stock, as the snow seldom lies longer than a few days, it being in the chinook belt, and has good house, two barns, fine orchard, and many other desirable features. It can be bought with or without stock at $10 per acre; easy terms; 65 tons of hay goes with it.

I have been in the stock business 12 years in this county, and know these ranches well, and know they are the best bargains to be found in the county or eastern Oregon.

Small Fire at Noon.

Fire from the engine of the Warren Construction company's mixing plant in the railroad yards back of the Burroughs lumber yards at noon today fell out onto some crude oil and started a blaze that soon attacked the supports of the plant. #### Primary Election Cost $4000.

The primary election in Umatilla county cost a little over $4000 according to the records in the office of the county clerk. Mr. Scholl has gone into partnership with a Walla Walla man and the two plan extensive manufacture of the "new live fly" as it is called. It is made after the fashion of the ordinary trout fly but the patent is in the difference the fly is attached, the fastening being made in the middle of the body of the artificial bait, this arrangement making the fly more life-like when it is cast into the water, it is claimed. The patent was issued June 29.

At the conclusion of the state fair, the exhibit will become part of the state exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Storm Misses Grain.

The thunderstorm of this afternoon has apparently missed the heavy grain belt on the reservation. Telephone conversations with farms in that section up until press time indicated that but very little rain had fallen there despite the fact that Pendleton received a downpour of short duration. Pilot Rock reports that the storm went east of that town and toward Pendleton. Only a slight sprinkling was noted on the Herbert Thompson ranch on the southern reservation while up Wild Horse the report came

LOSES FIVE TEETH WHEN HE SLIDES TO SECOND

Curley Coen, diminutive shortstop on the Pendleton team, and Nick Fuller, blond first sacker and change catcher on the Baker club, are on the hospital list today as the result of a collision in the first inning of yesterday's game. Coen sustained a bad gash just above the knee which might have crippled him for life had it been a fraction of an inch lower, while Fuller lost five of his front teeth and suffered a cut lip.

The injuries were sustained by an entirely useless play just as the day before George Pembroke received a sprained ankle in making a slide after he had been put out. Fuller was a baserunner on first in the opening inning with two men down. After the batter had two strikes on him, he started to steal second. The ball went for the third strike and the slide was retired. As he received the ball, Pembroke, who was catching, pegged to second and Fuller, not knowing the batter was out, attempted to slide to the bag. Coen attempted to receive the throw and, just as he jumped in the air, Fuller's head struck him just above the knee. Both players were temporarily stunned by their impact.

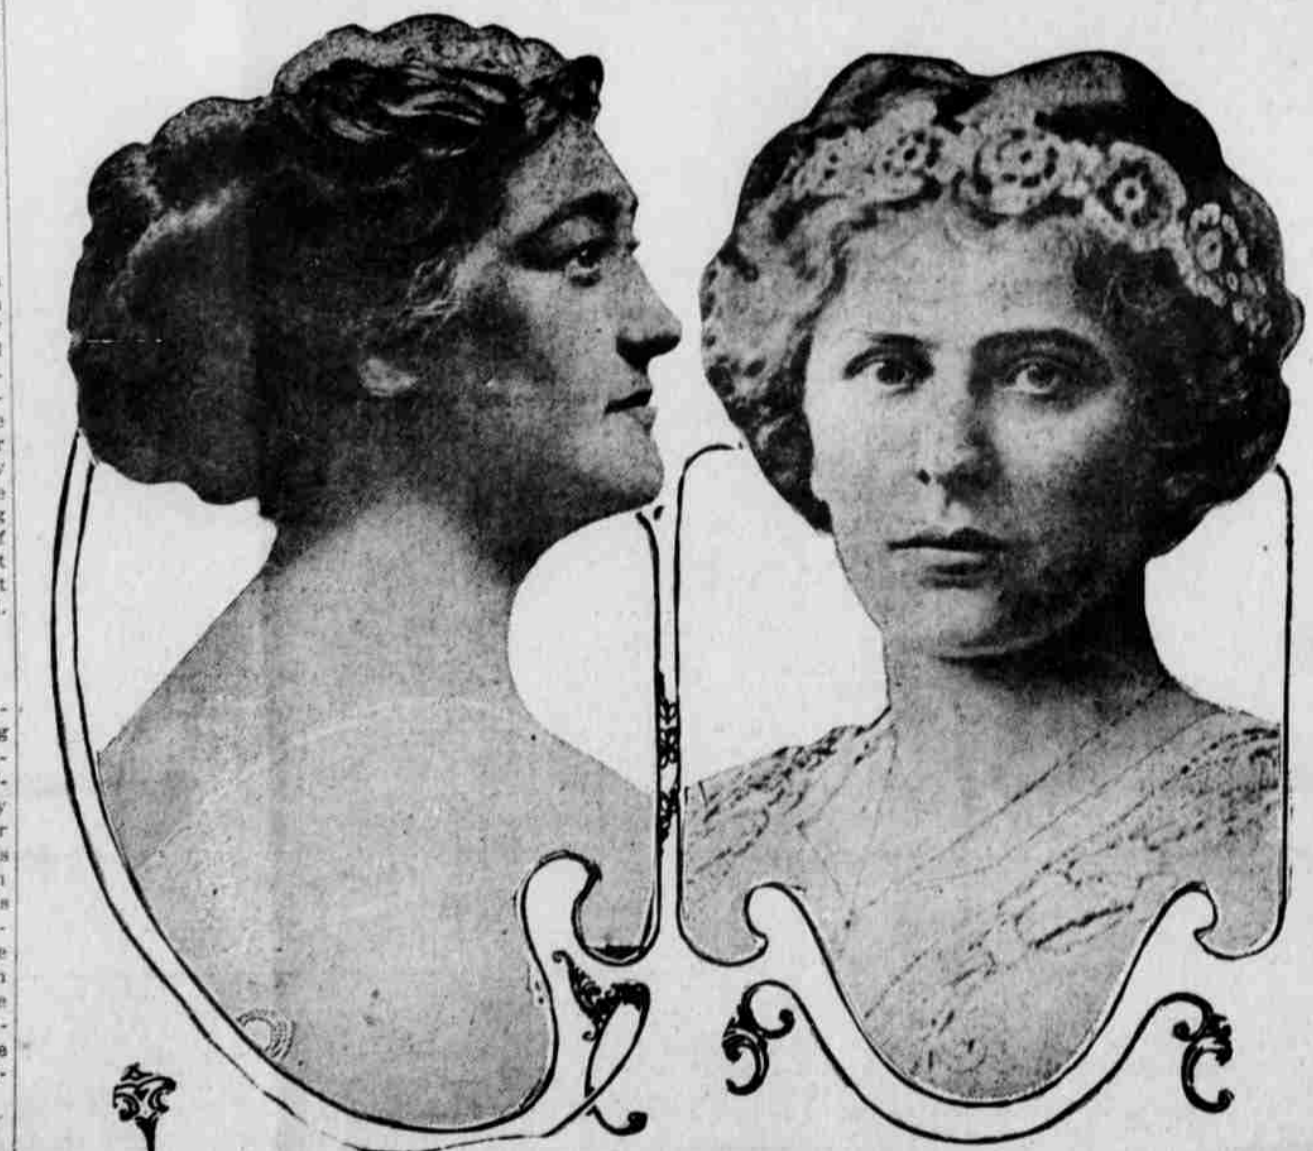

An examination showed that Fuller's teeth had struck Coen's leg and had inflicted a painful gash. Fuller lost five of his front teeth and his mouth was badly cut. Both were hurried to a physician who dressed the injuries. Fuller was sent to the hospital but is able to be down town today. Coen had a bad night and will probably be out of the game the longer of the two.

Another collision occurred in the outfield yesterday, Nadeau and Tognert running together in an attempt to get a fly ball. Their heads came together and both were stunned for a time.

5000 POLICE AWAITING ANARCHIST MEETING

NEW YORK, July 11.—Five thousand policemen are held at the station houses in readiness to deal with the Union Square demonstration promised by local anarchist leaders in memory of the four fellow radicals killed July 4 by the explosion of a bomb which the police believe was being manufactured to assassinate Rockefeller, but which the anarchists assert was "planted" by tools of their capitalist enemies. Inspector Schmitt said he wouldn't interfere with a mere gathering provided it is orderly, but would disperse any semblance of an organized parade or anything in the nature of a formal demonstration. Mayor Mitchell issued orders forbidding the display of urns in which were the ashes of the cremated quartet.

WOMEN PRINCIPALS IN TWO AMAZING MURDER MYSTERIES.

From left to right, Mrs. Helen H. Angle and Mrs. Florence Carman. Two women and two murders, strangely following the same channel of the day's news, are the chief features in parallel tragedies that are far more interesting in details than are fanciful flights of story writers made famous by fictional crime.

Mrs. Helen M. Angle, of Stamford, Conn., daughter of Leonard Bondell, a wealthy retired merchant of that city, is being held as a material witness because of the death of Waldo R. Ballou, who was found in front of her apartments unconscious shortly after visiting Mrs. Angle in her rooms. A flat iron found in Mrs. Angle's apartment stained with blood fitted the police in Ballou's straw hat, and the police believe that the iron was the instrument used by his assailant.

Mrs. Florence Carman, the beautiful wife of Dr. Edwin Carman of Freeport, L. I. Her husband had many women patients. She was jealous of them. She installed a dictagraph in his office in order that she might hear the conversation which took place between him and his women patients. While Mrs. Louise Bailey was being treated in Dr. Carman's office she was slain by an unknown person. Dr. Carman believes that the bullet which killed Mrs. Bailey was intended for him. Since then three shots have been fired at him. Both women say they know nothing about the crimes.
