Home Hints and Recipes

Bread in Jar.

If bread and cake and similar food-stuffs are kept in large stone jars or crocks instead of a tin bread box they will keep much better, as there is very little tendency to become moldy. The heat penetrates the tin so easily that bread often becomes moldy overnight; in the stone jar the bread does not become so heated. These jars have another appeal in that they are easily kept clean.

For Hot Dishes.

One way of protecting the hands from hot dishes is to make mats of round, heavy pasteboard and sew thick white buttons on them. By placing the dishes on the buttons a circulation of air is allowed under the dish and the table is uninjured from the hot dish.

To Keep Air Out.

Bottles of grape juice, ginger ale, fruit sirup or any liquid of a like nature, which are to be kept for any period of time, should be laid upon their sides or placed bottom up to obviate spilling. This is true of any liquid which is capable of deterioration, and whose only guard is the cork. If the liquid covers the cork the moisture keeps it expanded and there is no room for air, with its resulting effect, to enter.

PROHIBITION BIG ISSUE IN TEXAS DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES

DALLAS, Texas, July 25.—Prohibition was the issue in today's statewide democratic primaries for the nomination for governor, members of the legislature and other state officers. Thomas H. Bell of Houston was the prohibition candidate for nomination for governor and James E. Ferguson of Temple was backed by the "wet" forces.

The fight was even carried to the contests for nomination to the legislature, because it will be up to the people in 1915 to decide whether the people shall have another chance to vote for or against statewide prohibition. At the very top of the ballot in the primaries today the voter was given an opportunity to vote for or against "the submission of a constitutional amendment prohibiting within this state the manufacture, sale, exchange and intrastate shipment of intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal and sacramental purposes." Even if the drys nominate Bell the wets have hopes of defeating submission by controlling the next legislature. The referendum on the submission question taken today was intended only as a guide to the democratic leaders who will draft a state platform on August 11.

The nomination of a democratic candidate for governor is equivalent to election in Texas. The bitter personalities marked the campaign between Bell and Ferguson. Besides the prohibition issue the promises of the candidates have dealt with land rents, educational appropriations, prison reforms, and agricultural problems. A congressional-at-large was to be nominated today from among eleven candidates.

MOTION PICTURE ACTORS HAVE TO FIGHT FIRE

WHITE SALMON, Wash., July 25.—Louis Shearer of Portland, Harold Brown, of White Salmon, and Roy Edmon, a mountain guide from Trout Lake, after experiencing the thrills of taking risky moving pictures on the mountain side several days ago, were drafted into the forestry service and are held to fight forest fires at the foot of Mount Adams, near Trout Lake, instead of being allowed to accompany the remainder of the party home.

They belonged to a party headed by R. C. Bruce, which was taking moving pictures of the trip from Portland to the top of Mount Adams. Mr. Bruce with his equipment, and Roy Corey, a bulid who had hurt his foot, were not impressed.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is apt to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to soothe the muscles and to thus relieve the pressure resting on the nerves, that is, the natural strain upon the cords and ligaments is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many local distresses.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in constant use since our grandmother's earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women are greatly recommended. "Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to-day and write for a special book for expectant mothers. GENERAL GRANT'S KINDNESS AND ARMY RULES.

General Grant was a kind and warm hearted man in spite of a certain brusqueness of manner. There are many war-time incidents that prove it, and the Youthe Companion publishes a story that General Logan used often to tell.

At the time General Logan was with General Grant at Holly Springs, Mass., and many people without money to buy provisions were forced to apply to the northern army in their distress. Food was always given them if they would take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

One day a rickety carriage drew up before General Grant's headquarters, and from it alighted a woman and her young son. The woman was admitted to the tent, and the servant stood just inside the tent flap. Only a few words were necessary to explain matters. An officer who had charge of such cases told the woman that she should have food if she would sign the oath of allegiance. "I cannot do that," she said. "My husband and three sons are fighting under the Confederate flag. I thank you sir for listening to me."

The woman turned to leave. General Grant, who had been sitting at a table in one corner of the tent, glanced up from his papers. He called to the major.

"Now, did you ever hear of Abraham Lincoln? Do you know that he is trying to free you colored people? Are you willing to take sides with Abraham Lincoln—to take the oath of allegiance to the United States?"

Receiving an affirmative reply,

General Grant turned to the officer who had talked with the woman. "Administer the oath to Sam," he said, "and give him the provisions I see that he gets plenty."

The rickety old carriage, with its escort of soldiers, passed through the Union lines a short time afterward and into the seats with provisions, and Sam, probably thinking less of his oath than of the supper to come, grinned from ear to ear as he urged the two mules to a faster gait.

BIG EUCARISTIC CONGRESS IS READY TO CLOSE

LOURDES, FRANCE, July 25.—Interest of delegates to the Eucharistic congress of the catholic church here today centered on the elaborate program and ceremonies which have been prepared for the closing session tomorrow.

Early tomorrow morning a pontifical mass will be celebrated by cardinal Granito di Belmonte, the papal legate to the congress, at the miraculous grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes. Following the celebration of the mass there will also be dozens of simultaneous sessions of the delegates, divided according to the languages they speak. After this will come a final session of all those who have taken the priestly orders and finally a special session for the young of the church. Throughout the day the blessed sacrament will be exposed for the adoration of the faithful in the basilica, and open air sermons will be held in half a dozen different languages.

The last feature of the closing day will be the Eucharistic procession in the afternoon. In this, cardinal Granito di Belmonte will carry the blessed sacrament under a rich canopy, supported and surrounded by high-ranking dignitaries of the Catholic Church.

The ten other cardinals present, together with the 200 archbishops and bishops who have been in attendance at the congress, will participate in full robes and regalia of their rank. The congress will then come to a close with the papal benediction given by Cardinal Belmonte from the entrance to the miraculous grotto and shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes.

At today's sessions all business of the congress was finished. The final reports and discourses were read before each national group in Latin and the final discussions were also held in that tongue.

BURNING SHOWER FALLS ON DANCERS

HAMMONDSPOUT, N. Y., July 25.—A disaster was narrowly averted when the dancing pavilion attached to the Keuka Hotel, ten miles down Lake Keuka, caught fire while the floor was filled with dancers. A large oil lamp suspended from the ceiling set fire to some decorations, and the flames shot to the rafters, while the burning material fell in showers over the floor and scattered the dancers.

To cap the climax, the big lamp crashed to the floor, scattering burning oil over a large area, while girls clad in flimsy summer garments fled shrieking from the room.

Mrs. Bonnie Young, owner of the hotel, and Miss Nora Mount, of St. Louis, were the first to reach a fire extinguisher and dragging the heavy affair to the center of the room, succeeded in extinguishing the flames before the impromptu bucket brigade formed by the men could get into action.
