

NOTED SOCIALIST DIES BY ASSASSIN

M. JAURES IS SLAIN AS HE SITS AT DINNER—ARREST IS MADE OF MAN.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Jean Leon Jaures, the noted socialist leader, was assassinated last night when dining in a small restaurant near the bourse. The assassin was arrested, but refused to disclose his identity. Later he was identified as Raoul Villain, 23 years old, and said to be the son of a clerk of the civil court at Rheims. The minister of the interior, Louis Malvy, on learning of the crime, left the meeting of the council and ordered precautions to be taken to prevent demonstrations.

M. Jaures was seated at a table near an open window, facing the Rue Montmartre, chatting with several socialist deputies and the editors of the L'Humanite. As though by prearrangement, the curtain covering the window was lightly brushed aside and a hand, holding a revolver, was thrust through.

Two Bullets Bring Death.
Before M. Jaures could move he received two bullets in the head. Without uttering even an exclamation he fell forward with his head on the table.

The reports of the shots startled the diners and passersby and the assassin was seized. In his pocket was another loaded revolver. The police rescued him from the crowd, which shouted:

"Assassin! Death to the assassin!"
The body of the noted deputy was placed in a city conveyance which, surrounded by weeping comrades and friends, proceeded to his home, followed by a detachment of republican guards. There were shouts of "Vive Jaures" by some of the crowd, with similar shouts and a demonstration in front of the office of L'Humanite, and in the boulevard when the news became generally known.

Jaures' History Told.
Jean Leon Jaures was for years one of the most prominent socialist leaders in Europe. He was always a strong opponent of militarism and the capitalists and a firm believer that international peace could be maintained only by the economic relations of the world.

In debate he was forceful, and when necessity arose his invective was scathing. Many times the chamber was thrown into turmoil as the result of utterances of Jaures for or against a measure under debate. With the pen he was as forceful as on the rostrum.

In 1905 a sensation was created in France and Germany by the refusal of Emperor William to permit Jaures to deliver an address to the socialists in Berlin. Jaures was to have spoken on the task of the social democracy in the preservation of the world's peace and the solidarity of the international proletariat. The speech published later in Jaures' newspaper, L'Humanite, was a powerful appeal to socialists to adopt a common program against militarism and the capitalists, and to work together for the cause of peace. It pointed out that if France, Germany or Great Britain went to war with either of the other powers it would prove a disaster to the world, each country being necessary to civilization, and each having a noble aim.

M. Jaures was born in 1859.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

POLISH CITIES ARE FIGHTING FOR RIGHTS

SELF-GOVERNMENT IS AMONG DEMANDS MADE ON IM-PERIAL HEADS.

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 1.—With the defeat in the Russian Imperial Council of the bill to introduce municipal autonomy in the kingdom of Poland, this country continues to be the only one in Europe whose cities and towns are non-self governing. Controlled by officials named by the imperial authorities at St. Petersburg Polish municipalities generally are unable to make an expenditure on their own account. Even the two biggest cities, Warsaw and Lodz, are required to obtain sanction from the governor-general and the minister of the interior—often months delayed—before they are permitted to pay for the repair of a broken municipal window.

"In such towns, ruled by distant and often hostile authorities," says a statement secretly circulated by the Polish National Bureau, "questions of public health and education, naturally, receive little or no attention. The proportion of expenditure on education in these towns is only 7.3 per cent while in Lemberg, in Austrian Poland, it is 24.7 per cent, and in some German towns as high as 45 per cent. In the whole of the towns in Russian Poland there are only eighty-eight hospitals with a total of 4,832 beds—the lowest figure in all civilized Europe. The responsibility for these abominable conditions rests solely on the Russian imperial government, and its barbarous rule.

"SAMPLE PACKAGE" FARM TO BE SOLD

CHICAGO, July 31.—The "Sample Package" farm, consisting of but four acres, but which came into prominence several years ago because a woman raised sufficient garden truck on it to care for herself and family, will be sold at auction.

This miniature farm was owned by Mrs. Alice McMillan, now dead, and on it she raised more varieties of vegetables and fruits than the average gardener with twenty acres. To comply with her will the place will go under the hammer.

er, Mrs. Eugene E. Newman does not yet seem to realize the full horror of the shocking crime. She defends her father in what he did, saying "he thought he was doing the best by me." "I loved Gene," says the pretty, young widow, "but first of all I am my father's daughter. If he shot my husband—and I still feel that there is some dreadful mistake and that it can't be true—I say, if he shot Gene he thought he was doing the best by me."

MEXICANS AGREE ON TERMS FOR PEACE IN A JOINT CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Secretary of State Bryan was informed by a representative of the Mexican government that Provisional President Carranza and General Carranza had agreed upon a basis on which it was expected peace in Mexico would be restored.

A message to this effect was received by Jose Castellot, personal representative of Carranza, who immediately visited the state department. The message stated, it was said, that General Villier and Justice Allende, Carranza's two delegates to Carranza had been instructed to carry out in detail the general details of peace already agreed upon.

Castellot interpreted this to mean that a definite understanding had been reached for a peaceful transfer of the government at Mexico City to constitutionalists. Regarding amnesty and guarantees, Castellot said he believed Carranza would promise immunity to all except those responsible for the overthrow and assassination of the late President Madero.

HINMAN MAY BE MOOSE GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE

Harvey D. Hinman
OYSTER BAY, July 29.—That Col. Roosevelt has practically decided upon Harvey S. Hinman, anti-Barnes republican, to head the bull moose ticket in the fall, is the latest report that comes from Sagamore Hill. The colonel has finally decided that no progressive shall head the ticket. The only other name mentioned as candidate for governor on the bull moose ticket is John A. Hennessy, independent democrat.

SERBIAN CAPITAL IS DESCRIBED BY WRITER

ONCE QUIET SCENE TRANSFORM-
ED INTO ARMED AU-STRIAN CAMP.

Belgrade Is Not Fortified Because of old Treaties With Austria Which Prohibited It—Mountain Passes, However, Garrisoned—Roads Guarded by Machine Guns.

(Correspondence in Chicago News.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 1.—Eighteen months ago, during the first Balkan war, Austria was on the verge of invading Serbia. Austrian troops were mobilized on the Serbian and Montenegrin frontiers ready at any moment to begin hostilities. What no journalists are now permitted to see can be described by analogy by the present writer, who during the former crisis passed through those regions as a correspondent of the Daily News.

Two scenes will suffice. The straggling city of Belgrade stands on a hill on the south bank of the River Save, a couple of miles from its junction with the Danube. Almost opposite, upon the low wooded Austrian shore, lies the tidy Austrian town of Semlin. A short distance above Semlin a long viaduct carries a railroad across the river. According to reports, the gray and blue uniforms of Austria now swarm in the damp woods about Semlin, their tented camps extending far along the shore in both directions.

Gunboat Not Laden Waters.
The Austrian gunboats of the Danube squadron lie like black beetles upon the leaden waters. The little passenger steamers which habitually ply between Belgrade and Semlin have already been seized in the claws of these dark Austrian beetles.

The railroad viaduct, under which deadly Serbian mines have been waiting these many months, was yesterday reported to have been blown up by the retreating Serbs and it will probably be several weeks before the Austrian army can repair it.

Belgrade Is Unfortified.
According to old treaties with Austria, Serbia was never permitted to fortify Belgrade. Half-way down the slope between the town and the river stands a medieval brick fortress in which Turkish prisoners were herded during the Balkan war. This dilapidated structure constitutes the city's sole defense. Therefore, the city today is practically deserted, the shops, the houses and the historic royal palace being left at the mercy of the invading Austrians.

Mountain Passes Garrisoned.
The second scene which the correspondent desires to recall is the dizzy mountain side dividing King Nicholas' unconquered aerie kingdom from a lean strip of Dalmatia, which it half encircles like a closing hand. Down these precipices, regular as a stairway, zigzag back and forth the automobile road connecting the Montenegrin capital with the Austrian port of Cattaro, which is one of the most picturesque towns on the Adriatic.

Machine Guns Guard Roads.
Here also Austrian uniforms now swarm. Small detachments of Austrians with machine guns guard the lower steps of the Cetinje road, which Austria will doubtless make every effort to preserve from destruction. If this road should be destroyed it would almost be impossible to scale the precipices against the "black mountain men." Cattaro harbor, world famous for its grand scenic effects, consists of a deep mountain rimmed by divided into three small bays, the waters of which are amazingly blue like those of mountain lakes.

Half of Austrian Fleet Here.
Upon these waters, awaiting any eventuality, fully half the lead colored cruisers of the Austrian fleet now repose with their attention directed to the deserted mountain side. Should the Montenegrins attempt to gather about Cattaro, these cruisers, withdrawing into the second or third basin, could disperse them with a few well directed shells. The Montenegrins themselves have practically no artillery.

TWO LIVES SAVED BY BARREL OF PASTE

CHICO, July 31.—A barrel containing paste saved the lives of J. A. Gorman, director general of the Butte county rice exposition, and W. P. Green, a capitalist of Gridley, when an auto in which they were riding turned turtle off a bridge near here. The barrel, which had been in the machine, held up the auto and saved the men, who were pinned beneath it, from being squeezed to death. They were rescued, painfully bruised.

FAILS TO SEE WRONG IN FLEEING BANKER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Geo. Ward, a railroad man of Salt Lake, appeared before Judge Van Fleet in the United States district court, charged with using the mails to defraud. "I did not defraud anybody," said Ward. "My cousin, Hoyte Gilreath, is a banker of Dakota. I can't see how you can defraud a cousin, especially if he is a banker."

Judge Van Fleet ordered Ward removed to St. Lake, where the alleged violation was committed.
