EMPTY WHISKY BARREL A DANGEROUS WEAPON

Grady Herndon and Charley Rose, young farmers of Reed and Hagley mountain, have declared war on nobody, but were nevertheless subjected Tuesday afternoon to a heavy and disastrous bombardment from a singular source, says the Weston Leader.

They were proceeding to convert an empty whiskey barrel into a water barrel, and to that end were using a red hot poker to enlarge the bung hole. Suddenly the head of the barrel shot out with terrific force and with a noise like the explosion of a twelve-inch gun—or maybe, fourteen-inch. Both were in close range and were stretched senseless on the ground. When they recovered consciousness and began to take an inventory of the damages, it was found that Rose had been the chief sufferer. His face was cut from the middle of the nose to the outer corner of the mouth, the wound reaching to the bone, and two bones in his left hand were broken. Herndon escaped with an injured hand and a few scratches in the face. Rose came at once to town, bleeding quite badly, and had his wounds dressed by Dr. Smith.

It is supposed that gas had collected in the barrel and caused the explosion. The warring powers of Europe might get a pointer from this incident and use empty whiskey barrels for bombs—first permitting the enemy to empty the barrels.

Milking Makes Cow Move.

ITHACA, Aug. 8.—The best way to get rid of an obstinate cow that plants herself across the highway and will not permit an automobile to pass is to stop and milk the cow, according to Carrol Horton of Okmulgee, Okla., who is visiting his father, ex-Supreme Court Justice Horton, here.

Young Horton was a member of an automobile party speeding toward Newfield when the road was blocked near that village by a large Jersey cow which had sprawled across the road. The cow refused to heed neither horn nor claxonette, and not wishing to run into the ditch, the automobile party stopped.

All efforts to get the Jersey out of the way failed until Horton alighted, called, "Here, bossy; here, bossy," took off his Panama hat and proceeded to milk the cow. When he had finished the milking the cow agreeably walked off the road and the party proceeded with a bountiful supply of milk.

LUXEMBURG, TINY FREE STATE, HAS TO REMAIN PASSIVE

The grand duchy of Luxembourg, the tiny independent state between Germany, France and Belgium, which now contains a host of German soldiers, has less than 1000 square miles of land—998, according to the geographers—and is ruled by the Grand duchess Marie, 20 years old. The population of the grand duchy in 1900 was 236,543, of which 20,928 lived in the capital city of Luxembourg.

A treaty signed by the powers in 1867 guaranteeing the independence of Luxembourg, with the provision that it should remain forever a neutral state. Dispatches say that Germany has officially assured the Luxembourg minister of state that no hostile act against the grand duchy is contemplated, but that Germany is merely making a necessary passage through the grand duchy and is heeded as a part of the German national system. Full indemnity is promised for any damage which may be done.

As Luxembourg has no army, and as it had one, the Germans could overpower it with no difficulty; there is nothing for the Luxembourg folks to do but to sit tight.

Bullion Still Aboard Ship.

Home Hints and Recipe

Concerning Women.

Nearly 400 women applied for patients in England during the past year. Paris is now taking the place of Reno as a divorce mecca for Americans.

New York is to have another hotel for the exclusive use of business women.

Nearly 5000 trained nurses are now enrolled in the American Red Cross. Paris has a woman's club in which only divorced women can gain membership.

There are more than 1000 woman suffrage organizations in the United States.

Mrs. Clara Dikeman of Lee, Mass., is weaving a rug carpet for President Wilson.

Chemists of the department of agriculture are warning women against the use of salicylic acid as a preservative.

Mrs. Annie Ray of Boston and twenty other women have offered their services as sharpshooters in the event of war with Mexico.

Miss Annabel Turner of the University of Wisconsin has originated a method of teaching young mothers how to dress their babies by a model doll large enough for clothes the approved length for a baby.

Dictates of Fashion.

Charming negligees are developed in voile.

The newest lingerie is trimmed with plaited tulle.

White craquelé mesh veils are an important feature.

Normandy-Medici and cowboy collars are worn by all women from 16 to 60.

Vests of striped lined are used in separate blouses of white organdie.

Small Panama hats are trimmed with scarfs of heavy white chiffon or richly colored ribbon.

Lovely little frocks for hot days are fashioned of striped wash fabrics. A model of rose and white striped linen is embroidered with deep pink on the collar and cuffs.

Some of the new frocks conceal the waist line entirely. One such costume shows unrestrained embroideries of crystal beads threaded on silk where the waist line would be.

Save Egg Shells.

Egg shells are very useful for clearing soups and jellies. That there may be shells in readiness make it a point of always washing the eggs before using them. Put the shells aside in a bowl in the refrigerator.

BOY SCOUTS TO PLAY PART IN WAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Dispatches from abroad mentioning activity on the part of the Boy Scouts in connection with military operations in the European conflict have led to the belief here that the Scouts will play an important role in the general war, although their activities will be incidental rather than a part of the campaign. Already dispatches have told of the capture by Boy Scouts of spies in Belgium, their guarding of British bridges and the plans of Scouts to assist in harvesting crops.

There are approximately 500,000 Boy Scouts in Europe, divided as follows:

Great Britain, 200,000; Germany, 50,000; France, 80,000; Austria-Hungary, 15,000; Russia, Poland, 30,000; Serbia, 40,000; Scandinavia, 30,000; scattered, 35,000.

England was the pioneer in the movement. Shortly after Sir Baden Powell established it there Holland and Scandinavia took it up. Belgium, Italy and Poland followed, then Germany and France. More recently Russia, Turkey and the Balkan states have encouraged the movement.

Essentially an organization working for peace, there is nothing in its teachings that would discourage the taking up of arms in self-defense. Ludwig S. Dale, an authority on the movement and a friend of Sir Baden Powell, said today in the connection:

"It should be remembered that though we are not against self-defense. It follows that every patriotic scout, should necessarily arise, will respond to his country's call for such aid as he might be able to render." By their training in signal work and drill Mr. Dale thought older members of the Boy Scouts would be of great value to military officers as attendants, orderlies and messengers. Whatever part they might play in such roles, however, would be in their individual capacities and not as Boy Scouts, but simply as young men well trained for the duties required of them.

HONEYMOON SPENT IN UNIQUE FASHION

LENTS, Aug. 8.—To spend their honeymoon in a tent at a church encampment is the novel experience of Miss Louise Dewey and Frank Dawson who were married Tuesday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Dewey, in Lents.

The bride's father, B. C. Dewey, an evangelist of the Free Methodist church, performed the ceremony, and after a dainty wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Dawson went to a tent prepared for them at the Free Methodist campmeeting at East Sixty-first street, on the Hawthorne carline, where they are now at home to their friends until August 15, when the wedding ends. The groom is a member of Lents Friends church.

$500,000 Fire in Newton, Kas. NEWTON, Kas., Aug. 8.—Fire, the origin of which is unknown, destroyed a block of business buildings here. The loss is estimated at $500,000. Guests in the Newton hotel hurried down fire escapes clad in their night clothing.

The fire loss would have been much greater but for the prompt arrival of the Wichita fire companies on a special train.

Greatest Event in Woman's Life

All human experience looks back to motherhood as the wonder of wonders.

The patience, the fortitude, the sublime faith during the period of expectancy are second only to the mother love bestowed upon the most helpless but most marvelous creation—a baby.

Women are quick to learn from each other these helpful agencies that aid to comfort, and yet are perfectly safe to use and among these they recommend "Mother's Friend."

It is entirely an external application designed to lubricate the broad, flat muscles and skin that protect the abdomen. It has been in favorable use for nearly half a century and is known to mothers in almost every settled community in the United States who highly recommend it. You will find it on sale in drug stores. "Mother's Friend" is utterly harmless, contains no dangerous drugs, very beneficial, very soothing and a wonderful help.

Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today at any drug store and write to us for our instructive little book to mothers. Address: Bradford-Regulator Co., 312 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

"RUSSIA IS CRAZY FOR WAR"

This is the News an American Woman Carries to Berlin

(Special Dispatch in Chicago News) BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 3.—I had an interview today with an American woman who arrived in Berlin on the train from St. Petersburg, in which city she had spent a week visiting in the highest official circles.

"St. Petersburg is crazy for war," she said. "A grand duke told me: 'If we do not have war we shall have a revolution.' There is no doubt but that Russia knew from the beginning that war was coming and played shamelessly to gain time. We saw much artillery and ammunition and many soldiers on the Russian border. Indicating preparations on a large scale. Our train was fired at."

It is officially announced that a French aeroplane dropped bombs over the city of Nuremberg, but without doing any damage.

The grand duchy of Luxembourg has been occupied by a German army corps as a precaution.

The French have crossed the frontier at Belcast.

The general staff learned last night that a number of small ex-couriers had taken place on the Russian border and that Cosackes had crossed the line into Germany. Thus Russia began war on Germany.

Americans at Berlin still have two days in which to leave the country. While scheduled trains are yet in service these after two days will be used solely for military purposes and will not be available for passengers. Ambassador Gerard has no printed forms of passes and so has to have them written on a typewriter. There is a great throng of Americans at the embassy and Mr. Gerard is doing his utmost to help them. Mrs. Gerard is also doing all she can for them.

The cost of foodstuffs in Berlin has increased greatly and the misère have been in conference as to the best measures to be taken. It is probable that prices will be regulated by law. Women belonging to organizations for the care of the sick held a large cren air religious service near the Bismarck monument Sunday afternoon.

It is officially announced that the Russian ambassador received his passports at noon Sunday. The French ambassador up to that time had not been given his passports.
