DRUGGIST'S ARREST WAS FOR POISON SALE

PHARMACY OFFICIALS PRAISE AID GIVEN BY LOCAL OFFICIALS.

Fred Donaldson, the local druggist, was not arrested Friday night for selling cocaine as was stated in this paper. He was arrested for selling anti-septic tablets, poison, without registering the sale which was made by an employe. The cocaine was obtained in China town. This statement is made in justice to Mr. Donaldson. Louis Mann, the Chinese cook charged with having opium in his possession, was Saturday fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Forkes upon his plea of guilty. Ah Yen, charged with the same offense, has not yet pleaded.

Frank S. Ward of the state board of pharmacy who assisted in Friday night's record says Pendleton and Umatilla county are to be highly complimented upon the excellence of its police and sheriff's force. He said that in no town where they have been have they received such willing and effective assistance as they received in Pendleton at the hands of Chief Kearney's and Sheriff Taylor's deputies.

MEXICAN REBELS MUTINY; MANY KILLED IN FIGHT

NACAO, Ariz., Sept. 28.—That a detachment of rebels under General Maytorena had mutined and many had been killed in the factional fight which followed was the declaration of General Hill, commander of the Mexican federals. Hill claims that 500 Villistas left the Maytorena command. Hand-to-hand fighting followed with heavy losses.

Italy May Enter War.

ROME, Sept. 28.—Small doubt that Italy will be dragged into the war eventually was entertained here. There was no question that Austrians are concentrating on the Italian frontier. Slav regiments were being brought from the east for service at this quarter. Forces from Italian provinces were being shipped to Hungary and Galicia to fight the Russians. Confirmation was received of reports that the Roumanian army had been mobilized within striking distance of the Austrian frontier. It was understood that Italy and Roumania would act unitedly. Russia was reported as preparing to demand Turkish demobilization.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Registration Books Reopened.

The registration books at the county clerk's office were reopened on Thursday of last week and will remain open until October 15. Many are appearing today to register.

Drs. Waffle Have Daughter.

Word was received here Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Waffle that a nine pound daughter had been born to their son and his wife, Drs. E. B. and Clara Waffle of Astoria.

Did Not Enter Protest.

Dan Clarke, O.-W. R. & N. livestock agent who took part in the steeplechasing contest at the Round-up, declares he did not mean to enter any formal protest against the time given him in Friday's exhibition. Because of interference by a horse of one of the attendants, he thought he should have been given a little better time, but had no intention of protesting the decision.

Pilot Rock Woman Dies.

Word was received here yesterday that Mrs. Kidwell of Pilot Rock had been found dead in her bed there in the morning, death having resulted from heart failure. The body was brought to this city and the funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock in the Folsom chapel. A daughter, Mrs. John Etter, and a son live at Pilot Rock and two other sons are en route now from Missouri to attend the funeral.

Pleasing Round-up Window.

During the Round-up much admiration was expressed by visitors for an attractively arranged window for the Peoples Warehouse. The special feature of the window was a landscape painting showing a section of range with hills in the background. The artistic work was by one of the employes of the store and is highly creditable work. The painting was used to set off a window display appropriate to Round-up week.

No Show Like Round-up.

"There has never been a frontier show like the Round-up," said C. F. Howard of Denver, who acted as one of the judges at the show, this morning. "I have seen them all from Los Angeles to Winnipeg and none can even compare with the Pendleton Round-up. The Friday exhibition last week, I consider, was the best show that could be put on any time, any place and under any conditions."

Ballplayers Back.

All Lodell, manager and captain of Pendleton's champion ball team, and George Naughton, star second baseman, arrived in Pendleton from Montana, where they had been finishing the season, in time for the Round-up and will leave soon for Portland. Naughton did not go to St. Paul, a change in management of that club just as his purchase was announced, caused a hitch in proceedings. However, Lodell has secured him a chance to show his ability with the Portland Beavers for the rest of the season.

Timber Claim Is Contested.

This afternoon Justice of the Peace Joe H. Parkes is taking testimony in a case brought by Lee M. Groff against Nona C. Fletcher involving a timber and stone claim of 150 acres which the latter took up near Willow Springs. She has applied for her patent and Groff is alleging that the land has not enough trees on it to be classed as timber and stone land. It is good for grazing only, he contends. The testimony will be sent to the land office.

Condemnation Suit Is On.

Today the circuit court is occupied with the condemnation suit which the O.-W. R. & N. Co. brought against George Geanakopoulos to secure 15 acres of land below Pendleton for terminal yards. Testimony will still be taken at present time. Raley & Raley and Frederick Stelwer were representing the Greek owner, and W. M. Peterson the holder of a mortgage on the land. Charles A. Carter and A. Robbins of Portland are representing the company.

Right at Home Here.

M. C. Dickinson, managing director of the Hotel Oregon in Portland, is one of the most faithful boosters the Pendleton Round-up has and each succeeding performance sees him present. This year when he came, he stayed at the Hotel Pendleton and he felt right at home. In fact, he felt like he owned the hotel though he does not have a share of stock in it. But there were Fred Bloch and J. C. Monahan running it and for years they worked for him both in Bellingham and Portland, the one as chief clerk and the other as manager of the bar room. There were John Page, the chief clerk, there were the bartenders, the chambermaid, the cook, the baker and the bellboys, all former employes of his. With these familiar faces about him, he felt like he was in his own hotel.

Young Lawson Was Here.

Though Thomas Lawson, the noted financier, was unable to come back for the 1914 Round-up, his son Douglas Lawson was one of the enthusiastic spectators during the entire three days. Young Lawson is now established on the Triange Dot ranch in Crook county and declares he, his father and the whole family are the greatest boosters for Oregon, Pendleton and the Round-up in the country. "I have been here two years as a spectator," he said at the train this morning as he was leaving, "and I expect to be back at every future Round-up. I am going to ask for some job next year so I can have some connection with the show." Lawson was accompanied here by R. B. Wigglesworth and John Hoar, two eastern friends who have been spending the summer in Oregon. Wigglesworth was formerly star quarterback on the Harvard football team.

Son Is Born.

A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pyle of this city.

Fined for Old Offense.

William George, one of the men indicted by the April grand jury for gambling, was arrested last week, brought before the court and fined $100 which he paid.

Had Round-up Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hamley had as their visitors during the Round-up, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Hamley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamley of Sprague, Wash., Dr. Eugene Hamley and son of Pasco and Dr. and Mrs. Elmore of Pasco.

"Bob" Twohy Very Low.

Word was received here this morning from Portland that Robert Twohy of Twohy Bros., who has many friends in this city, is not expected to live. He has been in a hospital in that city for some time and now has five physicians in attendance upon him. An operation upon the brain may be performed as a last resort.

A Railroad Party.

A private car party that was here for the three days of the Round-up included W. B. Foster, general superintendent of the Chicago & Milwaukee, E. Shields a lumberman of Seattle; W. Wilder, purchasing agent for the Milwaukee, and A. Henson, a banker and lumberman.

"Shepherd of Hills" Here Tonight.

As proof of the high standard of the company which will produce "The Shepherd of the Hills" at the Oregon theater tonight, Manager Welch this morning received a night letter from Manager W. T. Pangle of the Hotel of Portland, strongly recommending the attraction which appeared there three days. "The show more than pleased," he said.

Engine in Ditch.

The engine of westbound O.-W. R. & N. train No. 5 went into the ditch at Nolin this morning, tying up west and east bound traffic for several hours. Train No. 6 was held at Stanfield until the track was cleared and failed to make connections with the outgoing Spokane train. Train No. 1 left for Portland a few minutes late but was held this side the scene of the trouble for some time.

Both Jails Were Full.

Both the city and county jail were filled to capacity during the Round-up and they have not been entirely cleaned out yet. The regular officers, assisted by special men and outside detectives, picked up many "dips" and crooks of other species. In many cases they had nothing against them save their reputations but took no chances of letting them ply their calling upon the crowd here.

Compliments Pendleton.

In a letter received this morning by the East Oregonian from Dan Salt of Seattle, manager of Chet Neff, the lightweight fighter who boxed Jockey Bennett here, pays a high tribute to the hospitality of Pendleton. Speaking for himself and Neff, he says, "We have traveled many miles and have visited many cities but can truthfully say we were never accorded the welcome and kind treatment that we received from the people of Pendleton."

Suing for Divorce.

Though they have been married 22 years they have never been congenially nor happily mated states Mrs. Elizabeth Day, in her complaint against her husband, William Day, and she asks for a divorce. Her husband, she charges, has continually annoyed her and treated her unkindly. They have three children, two of whom have attained their majority. She asks for the custody of the third, Peterson and Bishop are her attorneys.

Use Our Alkali for Soap.

William Rahe went to Yoakum this morning to superintendent the loading of a car of alkali. The alkali is to be shipped to Chicago where it will be used in the manufacture of soap. This is the sixth car load which is to be shipped from this point by Mr. Rahe and his associates. They first considered the erection of a soap factory at Yoakum or in Pendleton but later decided to build in Chicago. The plant there is not completed, however.

Sharkey's Victim Recovering.

Sterling Sloan, and not Earl Peterson, was the man injured Saturday at the Round-up when Sharkey planted his hind feet in his ribs, breaking four of them. He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily today. It was found upon examination that the lungs had not been punctured. The reason he was not shaken from Sharkey's back sooner lay in the fact that he had thrust his foot clear through the stirrup and had taken a half hitch about one arm with a latigo strap so that he was virtually tied on.

Special Bond Election.

Pendleton's special bond election is on today with a very light vote being cast owing to the fact the Round-up excitement overshadowed the election and caused many people to forget to vote. The voting is light in all parts of the city unless it be on the north side of the river. In that ward 40 votes had been cast at 1 o'clock whereas the voting was reported much lighter in other wards. In some instances there being but a few votes for the forenoon. The polls close at 5 o'clock this evening. The election is held to authorize the city council to issue $40,000 serial bonds to complete the payment for the gravity water system. There has been no surface opposition to the bond issue and seemingly the bonds will carry by a safe margin despite the light vote.

ART SHAFER TO RETURN TO GIANT FOLD

Shafer at the Bat.

Out of the west comes the rumor that Arthur Shafer has tired of his life of inactivity and will soon return to the Giant fold. The young Californian is understood to have been going in strong for society out on the coast after having departed from Gotham town and is now growing weary of the game. The call of the smooth green diamond is tingling in his ear, his friends in the east say, and the announcement that he has decided to report to Marlin in the spring would be no great surprise. It is even possible that sympathy for the Giants in their present plight is cutting some figure with the wonderful Arthur.

FRONTIER VILLAGE CLOSING REGRET OF LARGE THROUG

crowd wanted for the rounding out of a great day of entertainment. It was a success financially, too, though it was with the idea of entertaining the visitors in the evening and not for commercial gain that the affair was planned. A total of $8735 was taken in and, after all expenses are paid, a neat balance will probably be left although the initial cost of preparation was heavy.

Residents and visitors alike feel grateful to President Tallman of the Commercial association and his committee for the splendid entertainment they made of "Happy Canyon" which will, hereafter, be a little brother to the Round-up in spreading the fame of Pendleton.

PENDLETON BACK TO NORMAL AFTER CITY'S GUESTS GO

the look is saved from a hint of depression by the glow of elation that comes with the knowledge that the streets and strain and the effort of it all has been worth while.

The fifth annual Round-up was a great success. Residents and visitors alike proclaim the fact. Great as has been all previous Round-ups, the one just past surpassed them all in excellence of entertainment. There were more cowboys and cowgirls present and they were by far more Indians, too. The contests were harder fought than ever before. The parades were more spectacular, there were no serious accidents, enthusiasm was sustained from start to finish and the Happy Canyon entertainment filled the gap which has heretofore existed in the evening. Though the crowd was not quite as large as last year it was larger than the directors anticipated and the revenue more than paid for the show despite the fact that it cost a great deal more this year than ever before.

Not one of the departing visitors but left with the declaration that Pendleton had provided a three days of enjoyment, the remembrance of which would last a life time and they will all be back, if they can, next year, they declared.
