WIND OF WINTRY WEATHER

I.
 Wind of wintry weather,
 Where and where away?
 Have you dreams of summer—
 Memories of May?
 Know you of the palace
 Where the high snow-angels stay?
 II.
 Wind of wintry weather,
 Where and where away,
 Singing of your sorrow
 To a sky of gray?
 Know you of the gardens
 Where Love makes holiday?

Today the East Oregonian publishes a sworn statement from a reliable farmer saying that A. E. Eberhart admitted to him he had made $5,000 above his regular profit, by the change in plans on the Umatilla bridge and had divided the boodle with the county court.
 The Cooley affidavit is another powerful link in the chain of evidence showing how this county was shamefully swindled in regard to bridge contracts during the Gilliland term as county judge.
 Eberhart's own statement is thorough proof as to whether there was graft in the Umatilla bridge. His confession made to Mr. Cooley bears out the statements made by Judge Maloney, by C. H. Martin, by Geary Kimbrell and by J. W. Kimbrell upon this subject.
 But the Umatilla deal was a small affair compared with the loss the county suffered through the systematic swindle that was worked for several years and under which Eberhart secured not merely one contract but 25 bridge contracts all totaling to over $21,000.
 As has been shown time and again Eberhart drew the bridge plans for the county and was engaged to supervise the work. That arrangement in itself was enough to keep out any competitor for competitors did not dare risk taking contracts under such conditions. Furthermore when they did want to bid they could not secure copies of the plans save at great inconvenience and expense.

 The results of the "Eberhart system" are shown in the Umatilla bridge deal and in the case of the six bridges erected in 1909 and on which plans were substituted so as to let Eberhart build lighter bridges for the same price he had contracted to build heavy bridges. The results of that system are manifested in the fact the county paid Eberhart from nine to 13 cents per pound for steel when the city of Pendleton erected bridges, much superior to any of the Eberhart bridges, at prices based on a cost of from five and a half to six cents per pound for steel.
 There is evidence, compiled by engineers who have checked up the work, that Umatilla county was bonked out of more than $20,000 by Eberhart above and beyond the regular profits he might have made.
 The case against Gilliland is so complete and thorough it must be convincing to all save those wholly blinded by prejudice. The case does not rest on rumors or suspicion but as has been shown is based on the official records of the county and upon statements made under oath by men in whom people may justly have confidence.

 The people must vote for Marsh or Gilliland next Tuesday. A vote for Marsh will be a vote of remonstrance against those old conditions; a vote for Gilliland will be a vote to vindicate all that was done and has just been exposed.
 There is keen interest in the wet and dry fight in this county. Yet a subject of equal importance is the matter of law enforcement. It is futile to enact a law unless it is to be enforced. In the enforcement of the laws of the state the governor more than any other man holds the whip handle. He can put the fear of God and respect for the law into the hearts of men more effectively than can all other forces combined. This has been proven.
 In this campaign, from start to finish, Dr. Smith has been distinctly the law enforcement candidate. He means business on the subject and he is backed by men who mean business

He is entitled to the support of all people, be they wet or dry, who believe that laws should mean what they say. The best evidence Dr. Smith stands true on this subject is found in the fact saloonmen are almost unanimously against him. This is true here and in every part of the state. There is absolute proof upon this point. This being the case those who are not in the saloon business should know who to support for governor.
 It is a sorrowful and humiliating spectacle the standpat "advisors" have made of Dr. A. Sorrowful Withycombe. They have gotten him into a position where they can expect nothing but ridicule and reproach for their candidate.
 In a statement made here during the primary campaign and shortly before he was nominated for governor Dr. Withycombe said he opposed state wide prohibition. He is now trying to convince dry workers he is for prohibition, at least they so assert.
 In several different speeches in western Oregon Dr. Withycombe roasted the single item veto plan as "dangerous" and as a "two edged sword." He is now striving to show he favors the single item veto.

 From the time the plan was first broached Dr. Withycombe has favored and boosted the assembly plan which is deadly poison for the direct primary. Yet he strives to claim he is a friend of the direct primary.
 How can people have confidence in a man who is so notoriously "two faced" on such important subjects as these. Who knows where he will stand and what he will do upon any subject should he be elected?
 After having been elected to office as a progressive C. A. Barrett completely changed front. He Betrayed after his son-in-law His Friends. had been appointed by a reactionary acting governor as superintendent of the Eastern Oregon state hospital two years before any superintendent was needed. The appointment in itself was enough to "cook the goose" of Mr. Barrett, but he made matters worse by throwing his former political principles to the winds. The records of the 1911 and 1913 legislative sessions show C. A. Barrett aligned uniformly with the standpat crowd on every important measure that was considered. It was a straight betrayal of the forces that had placed him in office.

 A vote for Barrett Tuesday will be a vote to invite and approve of political skulduggery; a vote for Scott will be a vote to rebuke such business.
 So fearful are Withycombe's "advisors" that their candidate will say something wrong that they refused the Journal information as to where he was going to speak next and all the Journal wanted was a verbatim report of the speech; what a spectacle.
 Umatilla county has long wanted recognition at Salem; next Tuesday there'll be a chance to get it by voting for Smith.
 For a time the war cloud that overhangs Europe is almost forgotten in the smoke of political battle at home.
 To endorse Wilson vote for Smith and Chamberlain; to rebuke him vote for Withycombe and Booth.
 THE MASTER.
 Onethere is above all others, Well deserves the name of Friend! His is love beyond a brother's. Costly, free and knows no end; They who once his kingdom prove Find it everlasting love!
