

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer and Wage-Earner of Pendleton WOULD YOU GO BACK TO THIS?

Below are reproduced actual photographs showing the business condition of Pendleton during the Prohibition era of 1908-1911. Would you drive away our present prosperous times, increase your taxes, vote yourself out of a job and home and go back to these conditions. This is what will happen again if Prohibition carries at the election next Tuesday. You can help defeat it by voting 333 X NO. Think it over!

- Gritman block in heart of Pendleton business district, both store rooms empty during Pendleton's prohibition period, now occupied by the French Restaurant, one of the best known restaurants in the northwest and by Peters & Morrison, wholesale and retail liquor dealers carrying the largest stock and doing the largest business in Eastern Oregon.
- Brownfield building, empty during prohibition times and now occupied by the Hub, one of Pendleton's thriving stores. The room next door, part of which is shown, was empty during prohibition times and now occupied by the State saloon.
- Betz building, empty during prohibition times, now occupied by Frazier Book Store.
- Corner room of Despain block, no tenant during prohibition times, now occupied by grain offices and Farmers' Union.
- Elks' building, empty during prohibition's rule and now occupied by Hamley & Co., one of the largest saddle and harness manufacturing establishments in the northwest.
- Opera house block, empty during prohibition times. Note the dilapidated condition of front of building. One room now occupied by Griggs' thriving grocery and one room by Anton Kraft's Opera bar. Top floor was empty, now all taken.
- Martin building, Main street, empty during prohibition times, now occupied by "Doc" Evans cigar store.
- Basler building (now Temple building) empty during prohibition times, now occupied by Cozy Theater and Boynton's grocery. Was one story then—now two stories with entire top floor rented.
- Store room in LaDow block empty during prohibition times, now occupied by E. L. Smith & Co.
- Milarkey building on W. Court street, empty during our dry era, now occupied by Bowman Cleaning works and Pendleton Electric Supply house.

Mrs. J. S. Danforth, Mrs. W. Eselstyn, Mrs. Esteb, Mrs. Coppenger of Echo were in town Thursday.
The Womens Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Baker Thursday.

Papers were read by Mrs. Bagan and Mrs. M. Barragar.
The republicans held a very enthusiastic rally Thursday evening. A number of speeches were made by the different candidates.
F. R. Bridges and wife gave a very enjoyable entertainment Wednesday night. Mr. Bridges is trying to get up a class in music.
F. M. Murphy of Pendleton was in town this week.
T. O. Yates and family motored to Pendleton Sunday.
S. N. Ebo was looking after business interests in Pendleton this week.
Mrs. Wm J. Howe who has been visiting her sister Mrs. W. P. Ward returned to her home at Fargo, North Dakota.

The teachers of the public school of this place are attending the institute in Pendleton this week.
Asa Fulford went to Weiser, Idaho, to bring back a carload of sheep for H. E. Bartholomew.
Spies sought on liner. LIVERPOOL, via London, Oct. 29.—Having received word that 22 German spies were on board the Cunard line steamer Mauretania with fraudulent passports, several officers of the home office subjected the passengers of the liner to a rigid examination on her arrival from New York.
The officers were assisted by a corps of interpreters, who devoted most of their time to questioning French and Scandinavian maids of American passengers. Through the courtesy of the foreign office, Edward Bell, second secretary of the American embassy in London, and Horace Lee Washington, the American consul at Liverpool, were present at the investigation.
No spies were found on board the steamer. The only victim of the inquiry was the agent of an American arms manufacturer, who had with him samples of American rifles. Nobody escaped observation, not even Timothy Healy, the Irish member of parliament, who evidently did not rellish the cross-questioning he had to undergo.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH
Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.
Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-inflamed or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, the head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
