Home Hints and Recipes

Dictates of Fashion. Dashing sport coats of golfine or wool are refined, while the quiet tail-here today for, the first exclusive cat ored coats have the most brilliant "pussy willow linings." The great novelty of this season in tailored suits is the return of the redingote, for all of the tunics are merely adaptations of the circular ruffle ing the three days of the show. The In the evening at the theater you should carry a long knitted and beaded purse with a little bag attached to one side of it which will contain a folded fan. Charming wraps of absinthe, charmeuse or water-moss green golfine are lined with self colored liberty and fastened with cartridge shaped buttons of pearl.

Many women are carrying little leather vanity cases which measure about five by four inches, and are four inches deep. These cases contain little gold toilet requisites, as well as a place for the purse.

Some coats are almost as wide as are the short capes. Very pretty hats are made of a kind of very light crinoline lace through which the hair is quite visible, a delightful invention for fair haired girls.

What Women Ar Doing.

Twenty-eight nations are represented in the International Congress of Farm Women. This congress met in convention last year at Ghent, Belsium. The Belgian government gave $500 that a model village with model buildings might be one of the exhibits. The congress was made up of the most aristocratic women of Europe, many of them women of title. Mrs. Bell Van Dorn Harbert of Manfor him tanola, Colo., was an American delegate and addressed- the congress on topics pertaining to the kitchens of the homes. Mrs. Harbert was elected president of the organization, The American division of this great
