LONDON, Nov. 4.—The new Admiralty mine regulations for the North Sea will cause a diversion of all vessels carrying food supplies for the relief of the people of Belgium through the English Channel, but as several of these relief ships expected to take this latter route, comparatively little delay in delivery of the supplies will result.
These relief steamers will be escorted through the mine fields by English ships, and the English authorities have promised every assistance to expedite their passage.

Moving Wireless Sought.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—A wireless station on wheels is being sought by United States radio inspectors. Code messages to the Japanese cruiser Iduxmo, which has been patrolling the California coast, have frequently been picked out of the air by government operators. Reports were sent to Washington, and the news that the government was on the lookout for the sending station was published here. Then the messages ceased. Presently they reappeared again, and answers could be heard, sometimes by one and sometimes another station, and in such varying degrees of intensity that finally the theory was evolved that an automobile has been equipped with a portable apparatus, stored away during the day and used only at night in lonely districts and never twice in the same vicinity.

FAMOUS REVOLUTIONARY LEADER BACK IN RUSSIA

PETROGRAD, Nov. 4.—Vladimir Bourzoeff, the famous revolutionary leader, has returned to Russia, although no political amnesty has been granted, in order to offer his services to the czar. Such is the news that has excited nihilist circles and which provides perhaps the most dramatic example of the way in which the war has drawn all classes in Russia together.

Bourzoeff was exiled in Siberia in 1888, but escaped and settled first in Paris and then in Switzerland, where he was expelled by the Swiss government. He made several unsuccessful attempts to return to Russia, and eventually started a revolutionary journal in London called the "Will of the People." He was arrested by the British police, at the instance of the Russian embassy, and sentenced to 18 months imprisonment for an article which it was alleged contained an indictment to murder the czar.

On his release he went to Paris, and during the brief era of constitutional government in 1905 he lived in Petrograd. Two years later he was compelled to fly to Paris, and it was while living there that he startled the world by the exposure of the notorious police spy and agent-provocateur Aesff, Harting and others. He published a journal "The Future" in Paris, and one of his greatest coups was the publication of a copy of the secret MG journal which daily reports to the czar the activities of the secret police.

Bourzoeff declares that this war will bring regeneration to Russia, that there will no longer be any room for political reaction, and that the firmest national unity will be obtained by an era of free political life.

Zepplin Performs Stunts

ZURICH, Nov. 4.—Queer stunts are being performed almost nightly on the German side of Lake Constance by a Zepplin from Friedrichshafen. For several hours, usually starting about 11 o'clock, the big dirigible has been maneuvering over the lake, letting down from time to time by means of long cables round objects which upon being detached sink immediately. The natives are convinced that these are dummy torpedoes and that the Zepplin is practicing for a possible attack on the British fleet in the North Sea or upon English coast towns and possibly London itself. The airship has been known to release 19 of these fake projectiles in the space of a few minutes.

Boys Went Too Far.

LA GRANDE, Ore., Nov. 3.—Nearly a score of boys and young men of this city were arrested Saturday night for wanton destruction of property committed under the guise of Halloween pranks. While nothing serious was perpetrated many pranks were costly. Most of the boys were simply detained in the jail corridors without actual arrest.

American Ships Greeted.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 4.—The American oil tank steamer John D. Rockefeller arrived here. The steamer United States sails for America. She had 1200 American passengers aboard.

TOMORROW!

Jack London's "Odyssey of the North" with Hobart Bosworth in the leading role.

Better than "The Sea Wolf." A wonderful film showing Bosworth at his best.

The story is a sweet sad one and only in the last act does it bring us to the warfare caused by a trivial incident.

The war scene is so well staged that some thought the war scenes in present war last night were a part of the play.
