It will be a core dam banked up with a dirt levee forty feet on each side. The approximate cost is $5500.

Dr. Frank E. Boyden of this city, has been apprised of his election to a fellowship in the American College of Surgeons by its board of regents and has been notified to appear at the annual meeting of the organization in Washington, D. C., on Nov. 15 to sign the membership roll. Dr. Boyden will make an effort to get away to attend the session. A fellowship in the American College of Surgeons is deemed an honor by all practitioners and is much coveted. At present there are only five surgeons in Oregon who hold such fellowships.

Forecasting New Astoria.
A. S. Dopplemaier, who is associated with M. J. Kinney in the development of New Astoria, is in Pendleton today and intends to remain a week for the purpose of interesting some local people in property in the new town. New Astoria, Flavel and Warrenton are really but separate additions of the same town and Mr. Dopplemaier believes that within ten years the town will have become a seaport city of importance. Already he says the Hill lines have almost completed big docks there and the Harriman lines have acquired property.

Installing New X-Ray.
Paul Thornton Shaw, secretary of the Shaw Supply Co., of Tacoma, is here today superintending the installation of the new X-Ray apparatus in the offices of Drs. Boyden. The electrical machinery for the taking of photographs of the bones of the body is very complicated and elaborate and Mr. Shaw will remain here until the local physicians are thoroughly competent to operate it. Last evening a demonstration was held in the doctors' offices and among those submitting themselves for examination was Sam R. Thompson. His head was placed beneath the light and the resultant plate showed plainly five different shots embedded in different parts of his head. Mr. Thompson was accidentally shot in the face while duck hunting years ago but was not aware that so many of the shot had not been extracted.

The university has been giving out roses to most of the high schools of the state and as soon as the local grounds are in shape it is proposed that Pendleton shall also share in their generosity.

Debating Class Active.
Since the election the debate class of the local high school has been working industriously on the question of government ownership of public utilities, and on the tariff question. The question of government ownership was submitted by the high school debating league to its respective high schools to decide the state championship for this year. A brief was worked out this morning on the question "Resolved: That the time has now come when the policy of protection should be abandoned in the United States." It is proposed to submit this question for debate before the student body, but it will first be thoroughly discussed and studied by the class.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Submarine and electrical experts of the U. S. navy who have inspected a special storage battery on which Thomas A. Edison has been working for the last two years pronounce it a marvelous improvement over the old lead ones now in use in submarines. The present batteries generate chlorine gas, which weakens the lungs of the crew.
