Elks Select Memorial Day. Francis V. Galloway of The Dalles has been selected by Pendleton lodge 288, B. P. O. E., to deliver the annual address to the order on Sunday, December 6. Mr. Galloway, who is a young attorney, is a partner of Judge Bennett, and is a speaker of unusual eloquence. The local lodge feels that in securing him the members and friends of the order will have an opportunity of hearing an address worth while. The music for the annual memorial services has not yet been selected.

Firemen See Fire Drill. Joe Ell, chairman of the fire committee of the council, and Fire Chief Bellinger yesterday witnessed a fire drill at the high school and were surprised at the rapidity at which the building was cleared of students. Unknown to the students, Supt. J. S. Landers turned in the alarm and at once the students in all rooms formed into line and filed out in an orderly manner. Within a minute and a half, the building was emptied. At Mr. Ell's request, the superintendent questioned the students as to the location of alarm boxes in their home communities and the great majority knew the locations. About half of them also were able to tell the number of their box.

Mrs. Perkins Dead. The Oregonian contained the following story about a well known former Pendleton woman: Mrs. N. M. Perkins, one of the prominent clubwomen and musicians of Boise, Idaho, died Monday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. Maxwell, Mordant street, from an illness of four months. Mrs. Perkins came to Portland in the hope of recovering from her illness but for several weeks she sank gradually. The body will be taken to Boise probably today. Besides Mrs. Maxwell, a son, Enoch, who lives in Alaska, survives.

Boyden collided with a delivery wagon and sustained painful though not serious injuries. His forehead, presumably, came in violent contact with the nut on the handlebars of his wheel and a deep hole was cut to the bone. The accident happened in front of the residence of Charles M. Stype and Mr. Stype carried the boy into his house. His father was summoned and dressed the injury. No blame is placed upon the driver of the wagon.

Portland Couple Will Be Freed of Murder Charge. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 11.—Because of failure to establish proof of the death of Mrs. Eloise Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms, sisters, of Atlanta, Georgia, prosecutor Linden announced the pending murder indictment against Victor Innes and his wife of Portland, Oregon, will be dismissed.

Charges of misappropriation of funds belonging to Mrs. Dennis are still pending in Atlanta against Innes and his wife.

LADIES WILL CANVASS CITY FOR CHILDREN'S PRESENTS. ORPHANS OF EUROPE WILL BE REMEMBERED—SHIPMENT NEXT TUESDAY.

For the purpose of soliciting presents for the orphan children of Europe, committees of ladies will canvass the entire city within the next few days. The city has been divided into fifteen districts and there will be a committee to work in each.

It is the intention to make the shipment next Tuesday and all presents should be sent to the Wohlberg Department Store by that day. Those who cannot deliver them personally should telephone to Penland Bros., or Wohlberg's and collections will be made without charge.

It is suggested that articles of clothing, new or second hand, if good, would make the most practical presents though candy and toys will be acceptable. KING GEORGE ASKS MORE MONEY TO CARRY ON WAR

ENGLISH PARLIAMENT CONVENES TODAY—USUAL POMP IS NOT SEEN.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Money to carry the war to a successful conclusion was urged today in King George's address to the house of commons which convened today.

"The energies and sympathies of my subjects throughout the empire," said the address, "are concentrated upon the prediction to bring to a victorious issue the war in which we are engaged. Throughout the area of conflict, our army and navy, continue to maintain their glorious traditions. We watch their steadfastness and valor with thankfulness and pride."

Wheat Market Inactive.—Though the high price still remains in force there is little business underway at present in the local wheat pit. Club is still quoted at $1.95 and perhaps more but the buyers do not seem anxious to obtain grain as they say the Portland market is congested temporarily. Farmers who have wheat are not anxious to sell as they are encouraged by Kitchener's view of a three years war to hold on to their wheat, expecting higher prices in the spring.

LOCAL HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM GOES TO BAKER TOMORROW

GRIDIRON WARRIORS WILL CLASH WITH RIVALS FOR HONORS.

The local high school team is to leave tomorrow for Baker to engage in the first game for the eastern Oregon championship. All the games up to this time have been with teams not booked within the eastern Oregon district, and although Pendleton has failed to win from Walla Walla, their right to the eastern Oregon champion has not been impeded.

The chances for victory with Baker are bright, even though the game is to be played at that city. The Bakerites have long been the most bitter rivals of Pendleton, despite the fact that they are also considered as one of the best friends of the local high school.

Every year the game with Baker is looked forward to with great interest and expectation, and the happiest time of the football season is when the locals carry off the victory from their great eastern Oregon rivals.

The line-up of the men to represent the local high school, as submitted by Coach Livingston this morning consists of Paul Callson for center, Enoch Friedly and Russel Wilbur for guards, Charles Ruesel and Wilbur Badley for tackles, Sheldon Ulrich and Emil Seibert for ends, Ernest Boylen for quarter, West Mimms and Paul Kerrick for halves, and Harold Brock for full-back. Roscoe Vaughan, half; Ned Fowler, center, and one or two other men not yet decided upon will go with the team as subs.

G. M. Rice, cashier of the First National Bank, is in Portland upon a business trip.

Couldn't Buffalo Him. A congregation of teaching nuns established a summer home in a backwoods portion of Jersey. The citizens of the community, mostly Methodists and Presbyterians, looked curiously at the flowing robes of the sisters as they passed. One more outspoken than his neighbors asked the postmaster:

"What for kind o' folks is them, dressed up so funny?" "Them," said the village information bureau, "them's Sisters of St. John the Baptist." "Sisters of whom?" "St. John the Baptist. They live up the road a-piece." "Get out!" scorne the indignant native. "Don't you s'pose I know nothin' at all? John the Baptist has been dead more'n a hundred years."

"Hiking Nell" In Jail. LA GRANDE, Or., Nov. 11.—"Hiking Nell," a female hobo now headed east on her 12th trip across the continent, passed a few hours in the La Grande jail. Her wild appearance frightened the citizens in the eastern part of town and caused them to turn in a riot call to police headquarters. "Hiking Nell" in appearance is a disgrace to the hobo fraternity. With her few clothes in tatters, her face unshaved and her hair uncombed, and her long, talon-like finger nails, she presents the appearance of a wild woman. She however, is sane and says that her only reason for tramping as she does is that she enjoys it more than working for a living. When released she resumed her eastward march.

In order to make a quick sale the price has been put down to $22.50 per acre, half cash, long time at 6 per cent on balance. E. T. WADE, Pendleton, Ore.
