

Look at Me, I am Well.

I cannot say too much for Ferrus. It has entirely cured me of my trouble. My eye lids were thick and red nearly all the time. My eyes were especially sensitive to light. Catarrh was my trouble. I had had my eyes treated and took a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Ferrus. I always use Ferrus when my family need it. Always find it very good; it helps wonderfully. You can use my testimonial anywhere you wish to." So says Mrs. C. Shehan, No. 414 S. Leavitt St., Chicago, Ill.

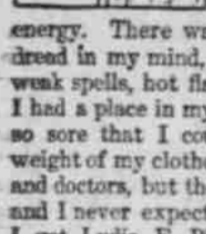

GIRL'S SLAYER DOES NOT REGRET CRIME
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20.—"I shot Emma because I could not have her and I didn't want anyone else to have her," said Fred Tronson, the confessed slayer of Miss Emma Ulrich. He is in the city jail facing a charge of first degree murder. Tronson was arrested late yesterday near Kalama, Wash. He shot and killed Miss Ulrich at her home on Monday night. Tronson showed no remorse. His only regret, he said, was that he was captured before he succeeded in killing himself on the same spot where he shot the unfortunate girl to death.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the had symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

GUY FAWKES DAY HAS BEEN PUT IN DISCARD

AUTHORITIES PROHIBIT DEMONSTRATION BECAUSE OF THE WAR.

LONDON.—One of the time-honored institutions put out of business by the war is Guy Fawkes Day, November 5, and this year for the first time since he failed to blow up James I and his parliament, the name of the arch-conspirator was consigned to oblivion. The customary "guys" were not to be burned this year, for the police have forbidden the lighting of bonfires, while fireworks are also prohibited for fear that the populace will mistake the explosions for shells or aerial bombs.

LONDON.—The way Englishmen cling to their sports, despite the efforts of Lord Kitchener to raise an adequate army, is the subject of much adverse comment by the more patriotic element of the populace. "It makes me boil with indignation," writes Coroner Graham of Newcastle, "to read that at three football matches the other day in the north of England there were as many spectators as would make two army corps. It is perfectly scandalous that when we have an enemy at our gates and we are threatened with invasion, there are men who go on playing the fool in this way. Nero's fiddling while Rome burned was child's play compared with what these men are doing."

AMSTERDAM.—German prisoners are being well treated in England, according to a letter from one of them printed in the Berlin Vorwaerter. "Don't worry about my being a prisoner," he writes. "It isn't as bad as it sounds. We are at Aldershot, in a large field like Mulheim Heath. We sleep in tents, with good thick blankets. We are well fed, receiving each half a pound of meat and sufficient quantities of potatoes, tea, sugar, bread and butter daily, and we can buy in the canteen tobacco, marmalade, cheese, etc. In short, we are well treated."

LONDON.—But for the honesty of a British Tommy, says a Paris dispatch, a famous French actress would have lost her satchel containing jewels valued at $25,000. She had dropped the satchel as she was getting into a taxi, and the soldier, who was passing along, picked it up and restored it to her. So grateful was the actress that she took off a valuable ring from her finger and presented it to the finder, saying: "This ring for your little English amie."

POISONOUS PLANTS ON WESTERN RANGES

Some of the Principal Varieties That Cause Heavy Losses to Stockmen
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Six of the poisonous plants that cause the heaviest losses of livestock on western ranges are described with the aid of full-page photographs in a circular just published by the United States department of agriculture under the title, "Principal Poisonous Plants of the Western Stock Ranges."
Despite the damage that these plants do every year there are many stockmen who do not recognize them and in consequence are unable to protect their stock effectively from being poisoned by them. It is probable that there are on the ranges a large number of poisonous plants but the heaviest losses are those produced by the plants named in the circular. These are the zygadenus, or death camas, the lupine, the rattlesnake or white loco, one of the worst of the many varieties of loco plants, the tall larkspur, the low larkspur and the clover or water hemlock. Of these the clover alone is dangerous to man, causing violent convulsions and even death. The root of it, however, is the only poisonous part. In the case of the other plants, that with the exception of the lupine, all parts are poisonous to stock. Both the tall and the low larkspur lose their poisonous qualities after blossoming.
The illustrations in the circular are accompanied by brief descriptions of the plant which should enable the stockman to identify them readily. The symptoms peculiar to each form of poisoning and the remedy, when there is one, are also set forth.

NICARAGUA VOLCANO HAS FIRST ERUPTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Volcanic ash from the belching crater of Cerro Negro, in Nicaragua, is said to have fallen an inch deep in and about the city of Leon, and has been blown 25 miles to the decks of ships in Corinto harbor. Commander Ziegemeier, of the cruiser Denver, reported today to the navy department. During the early part of the month, two columns of smoke arose from the crater, and at night the burning lava mingled with the smoke resulted in a fountain-like appearance. Cerro Negro is near several active volcanoes, but this is the first eruption.

WHAT the Press Agent Has to Say of Present and Coming Attractions

Orpheum—Today Only. Kentucky Gentleman," two reel Victor, featuring Jack Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sison.

Jack Randolph is a typical southern gambler who is in love with Nell the daughter of Colonel Hastings. The colonel forbids them to see each other on account of Jack's profession. One night in a gambling house quarrel a man is shot and the colonel thinks he did it as his pistol was discharged at the same time. Jack takes the blame and is about to be hung when the guilty man confesses and the colonel gladly consents to the marriage of Jack and Nell.

"A Shooting Match," two reel Ford Sterling comedy. Full of original and side-splitting fun is this burlesque on an aristocratic shooting club and its members. Smits and Hans, rivals for the hand of pretty Emma agree to a shooting contest to decide which shall win her. The day arrives and Smits by bribery and the assistance of Louie wins the contest. Meanwhile Louie and Emma fall in love and Louie exposes Hand plot. It is a signal for war between the factions and ends up in a general mix-up and many ridiculous incidents.

Orpheum—Sunday. "Steel Ribbons" the next installment of the Trey O' Hearts will be shown at the Orpheum tomorrow. It is a thrilling number of this popular series of film adventures.

When we left the characters in the last installment of "The Trey O' Hearts" story, Tricene's special was vanishing around a bend in the track. At the opening of the present installment Alan's light engine comes to a standstill in the Kansas prairie. The fireman and engineer balk at either going ahead or returning, as it is a single track section. Judith stands aside, outwardly indifferent, inwardly furious now that Rose, her sister, is of the company. Alan attempts to bribe the engine crew—there is an argument, followed by blows. When the fight is finished, the engineer is a prisoner and the fireman lies at the side of the engine, insensible.

In the course of the day's run, hell brews on the special. Alan, introduced to Trine, mocks him and orders him locked in the drawing-room. Judith is the only one willing to attend her father. Through her jealousy for her sister, Rose, Judith is finally reconciled to him. Judith at first, however, refuses to renew her vow of vengeance, but on observing Alan embracing Rose, she flies into a rage, and is only prevented from hurling Rose from the train by Baracus. Later, Judith promises her father to carry out her vow of vengeance.

Alan, Rose and Baracus suspect and plan to lose Judith and Trine. The opportunity comes when the special is side-tracked at a water tank in New Mexico. The engine crew mutinies, uncouples the engine and leaves the Pullman stalled. Alan, knowing that Marrohat must be in pursuit, secures a hand-car. On this the three start off down the track. Later, a freight train passes and Judith, disguised as a man jumps on with her father's blessing. Shortly after, Marrohat, in the lone engine, discovers Trine's stalled Pullman, couples it on and takes up the pursuit.

Pastime Saturday Only. "The Butterfly," Vitagraph in two parts, featuring Helen Gardner, assisted by Harry F. Morey and Rose Tapley.

"The Girl of the West," featuring Arthur Johnson and Lottie Brisco. "An Arcadian Maid," Biograph featuring Mary Pickford.

Heart-Selig News Pictorial. Late war news from European wars.

Pastime—Sunday-Matinee. The reproduction of the gigantic spectacle from the New York Hippodrome, the wonderful play "America," Kenner, Sunday and Monday.

Cosy. Mr. Cooper, the manager of the Cosy Theater has been fortunate in securing Culligan's Famous Nashville Students for a three days engagement at the Cosy, starting Sunday matinee. This is the same aggregation of talented negro entertainers that played here last season and created such a favorable impression on the theater goers of Pendleton. It is doubtful if ever that a more versatile group of performers has ever been gathered together within the history of the amusement business; every one is a talented musician, singer, dancer and comedian. There is not a dull moment in the show, from the time their world-challenging band starts playing outside, until the last curtain is run down. Every number they put on is good and a feature. They present a very high class musical act this season, using saxophones, xylophones, chimes, trombones and cornets. The four dancing Nays, their great comedy act and their famous quartette, are all worth going miles to see. Their old-fashioned minstrel first part is worthy of more than passing mention. Two shows nightly and matinee Sunday at 2:30. Band concert in front of the theater before each performance and a band parade Monday and Tuesday.

Oregon Theater Tonight. At last the Pendleton theater goes over to see "Peg o' My Heart," the play in which Laurette Taylor has broken all records for consecutive performances at the Cort Theater, New York. This exquisite and wholesome comedy from the pen of J. Hartley Manners will be seen here tonight at the Chicago Theater under the management of Oliver Morosco. Those who have been to New York and have been fortunate enough to

UNIVERSAL PEACE WILL END WAR, BISHOP SAYS

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 21.—Universal peace, more general brotherhood and an increased impetus in mission work will be the outcome of the European war, in the opinion of Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City who addressed the Interdenominational Medical Missionary conference "Preparations for war have been so gigantic and the ensuing slaughter so terrible," said Bishop Hendrix "that the feeling of revulsion among men and nations will be a potent factor for peace and brotherhood."

Recent experiments indicate that round timbers of all the pines, of Engelmann spruce, Douglas fir, tamarack and western larch, can be readily treated with preservatives, but that the firm, hemlock, redwood and Sitka spruce, in the round, do not take treatment easily. This information should be of value to persons who contemplate preservative treatment of round posts, poles or mine props.

ON THE FIRING LINE

What It Means to Most Men. There are many true heroes that have perished in the European war who "never smelled powder," but who succumbed to sickness after hard campaigning—coupled with bad water and lack of food. The sick and debilitated man is as much out of place in his struggle for life and existence as he would be on the firing line. On the other hand the strong, vigorous man, his veins filled with rich, red blood, has an enormous advantage in whatever position he may be fated to occupy in war or business.

The prompt and certain action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in driving all harmful germs and impurities from the blood, sets in motion the repair process which works actively on the diseased members where Catarrh flourishes unchecked or where the skin gives warning of the bad blood beneath by showing pimples and boils, also the skin clears up and becomes wholesome and ruddy.

Thus by building up a new and perfect covering and carrying out of the system the Catarrh infested matter by way of the blood, liver and kidneys, Catarrh is overcome and permanently conquered.

There is not a drop of alcohol or any narcotic in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but in this safe vegetable remedy there is a mighty alternative power which by replacing the blood impurities with pure, rich blood, not only ends Catarrhal conditions wherever located, but vitalizes the kidneys, stomach, liver, bowels and every organ of the body. People who suffer humiliation and mental misery because of Pimples, Skin rash, Blisters, Eruptions, Holes, Carbuncles are especially benefited. It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper. Send for free book on the blood to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Trappers Seek Animal. LA PINE, Ore., Nov. 19.—A strange animal has been terrorizing the homesteaders between Twin Junction and Loma Vista during the past few weeks. The animal is reported by the various farmers who have seen it, to be about seven feet long, standing nearly four feet high. It is light brown or yellow in color, has a heavily furred head, long, wolf-like nose, and a heavy and busy tail. Seen from the rear it resembles a large cougar, while a front view gives the appearance of a timber wolf of large size. Trappers in this section, to whom the strange animal has been described, claim that it is a cross between a cougar and a timber wolf. Several of the trappers are making a determined search for the animal.
