PRIVATE AUTO GIVEN TO FIRE DEPARTMENT

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Nov. 21.—In Frank B. Cram, an orchardist, who is making his home in the city, Hood River has an effective fire fighter. Only last week Mr. Cram offered to the Volunteer Fire department his automobile, which will at all times be equipped with chemical extinguishers. Yesterday he had his first opportunity to prove the worth of his addition to the fire fighting facilities. A blaze was discovered in Wood's grocery on one of the principal business streets. The Cram auto was standing nearby and the fire extinguishers were rushed into the building. The blaze, which might have proved disastrous, was extinguished and but little damage was done.

A short time later Mr. Cram's machine was summoned to a shack on Cascade avenue to extinguish a small blaze probably started by tramps sleeping in the building.

Telephone Tax Fixed. WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Instructions were issued by the internal revenue bureau designed to facilitate collections of the war revenue tax on telephone and telegraph messages with as little inconvenience as possible to the companies.

The companies, the instructions say shall make one report and one return as a whole in the district in which its central office is located. They will be allowed to make their returns for a fiscal month, and additions may be made for errors in a previous month.

Messages originating in automatic telephone stations are subject to the tax—1 cent on messages for which a charge of 15 cents or more is made—and the companies are left to design their own methods of collection in such cases. All telephone messages where the initial rate is less than 15 cents, but where the overcharge makes the amount due exceed 15 cents, are subject to tax.

BRITISH FOREIGN MINISTER ON WEEKEND OUTING

Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, who was perhaps the most prominent figure in European politics outside of Germany just before the war began, now has time to rest. Ministers of war and the navy have taken up the work he tried to prevent. This photograph shows him at the country home of his cousin, Earl Grey, for a weekend rest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An investigation of the interview attributed to Captain Walter Hill, in charge of American marines at Vera Cruz has been ordered by Secretary Daniels.

"There will be nothing and incendiary fires at Vera Cruz probably before nightfall," Hill is quoted as saying, "if the American troops leave today as scheduled."

Daniels would not comment on the alleged interview, but added "Any man who would make such a statement is unfit for service in the American navy."

The return of Funston, it was said, will cause a shift in departmental commanders. It was planned to bring Major General Bliss, now commanding the American forces at El Paso, here as assistant chief of staff, preparatory to succeeding General Scott as chief of staff later. If Funston desires a leave of absence the changes will be postponed until after his return. Otherwise he may take command of the central division with General Bell succeeding General Bliss.

NONUNION MINERS WORK PROTECTED BY SOLDIERS

PRAIRIE CREEK, Ark., Nov. 23.—Under protection of United States troops, operation of the Basche-Denning mining interests were resumed in Hartford Valley by nonunion labor. It is planned by the receiver gradually to extend operations until several of the mines will be running.

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Guarding Against Epidemic—In accordance with the requirements of the Livestock Sanitary Commission the O.-W. R. & N. Co. has thoroughly disinfected its local stockyards and all the stock cars here. A solution of carbolic acid and lime was used and all told 30 gallons of crude carbolic acid was used. There has been no foot and mouth epidemic in this state and the measure was merely precautionary.

Wants Growers to Wait—That wool prices next year will be between 23 and 25 cents is the declaration today of prominent Baker wool men, who declared that the English embargo on Australian wool would create a prohibitive market in America.

Byron Gale, secretary of the Wool-growers' association, advises against contracting for wool at this time and urged growers to wait until the market became clearly fixed next year.

Walla Walla Barley Sales.—Early men were active at Walla Walla Saturday. Several hundred tons were sold at prices from $23.50 to $24. The price usually noted was the lower one but farmers say the higher price was paid. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 bushels of barley were produced in the county this year.

KLAMATH PINE LOGS FOR OREGON BUILDING

KLAMATH FALLS, Wash., Nov. 21.—Because the Klamath county pines retain their bark better than some of the other timbers sent to San Francisco for use in the Oregon building at the fair grounds, an order is soon to be placed here for 90 logs, 10 feet in length and from 18 to 20 inches in diameter, to be used in the interior finishing of the building. Local lumbermen will be asked to submit bids for furnishing the logs. Recently two carloads of slabs and poles were donated by local lumber companies for use in the building.

WIDOW SUES RAILROAD FOR $40,000 DAMAGES

ALBANY, Ore., Nov. 21.—Suit has been brought against the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad for $40,000 damages by Mrs. L. A. Phillips, widow and administratrix of the estate of H. D. Phillips, deceased. Phillips was employed by the railroad as brakeman, and while in the performance of his duties was crushed between two cars and instantly killed.

Sir Knights, Attention.

All members of Umatilla Tent No. 27, K. O. T. M., are requested to meet at L. Greenwald's place of business on Cottonwood street, Tuesday evening, November 24, 1914.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kraft left yesterday for The Dalles where they will spend Thanksgiving week at the home of Mr. Kraft's sister.

Mrs. N. A. Ashby, mother of Mrs. J. Newton Burgess, returned to her home in Forest Grove Saturday after a visit here of several weeks.

Members of the Wataah Pakaahin camp of the "Campfire Girls," recently organized in Pendleton as a branch of the national organization, enjoyed a "bacon hat" Saturday up the river. A number of the young ladies left early in the afternoon to establish a camp, leaving a trail by which they could be followed by the others. Over a roaring fire they prepared a simple meal after which they "hiked" back to the city.

The Wataah Pakaahin camp is the first to be organized among the school girls of the city but applications have been made for two other chapters. Miss Carolyn Bonney is guardian of the organized camp and Miss Marian Love and Miss Lina of the two now being organized. The Wataah Pakaahin camp includes in its membership the Misses Lillian Boylen, Anna Shea, Marie Peringer, Thelma Thompson, Katherine Thompson, Daphne Swearingen, Esther Shea, Mildred Finnell, Jean Reber, Pauline Rice, Margaret Coleworthy, Beulah Smith, Vera Temple, Jennie Murphy, Angela Bowler, Ada Dickinson, Gladys Lane and Olga La Fontaine.

The "Campfire Girl" movement is destined to provide healthful exercise for girls and at the same time preserve something of the romance of Indian legends and traditions.

Mrs. Herschel H. Bond and baby son, Henry, will arrive in Pendleton this evening from Seattle for a visit at the home of Mrs. Bond's mother, Mrs. Anna Shea. Mrs. Bond was formerly Miss Mary Shea and prior to her marriage was a popular member of Pendleton's younger society.

AMERICAN TROOPS AT VERA CRUZ TO QUIT CITY TODAY

co were contained in cablegrams received by the state department today. In Mexico City all was said to be tranquil. General Blanco is in control.

EL PASO, Nov. 23.—Five thousand Mexicans, commanded by General Angeles are assaulting Guadalupe. Villa has instructed Angeles to capture the city, even if it is necessary to level it. Twenty thousand Carranzistas, under General Diguez are defending the city.

The vanguard of Villa's army halted Sunday on its advance on Mexico City at Casadero, 50 miles from Tula, where resistance was expected. Several miles of railroad have been destroyed and Villa has awaited repairs before proceeding. This work will require a week.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—An investigation of the interview attributed to Captain Walter Hill, in charge of American marines at Vera Cruz has been ordered by Secretary Daniels.

"PEG O' MY HEART" REACHES THE HEART

Those who saw "Peg O' My Heart" at the Oregon Saturday evening witnessed a show that is full of heart interest and bubbles over with Irish mirth and enthusiasm. It is the heart appeal that makes the play a winner and Marion Dentler as "Peg" fills her role as though it had been built for her especial benefit.

The story in the main is a sordid one and gives a typical view of the selfish, snobbish English family. In to this family is sent "Peg" by her eccentric uncle who wishes to see if she can be made refined and cultivated. Sent to be taught she teaches a greater lesson to them and of course all turns out lovely and she becomes engaged to a man with a title. "Peg" is all there is to the show unless mention be made of Michael, her dog. Other members of the troupe there are and they fit their parts but they serve only to bore and make their Irish star glow the brighter for their presence.

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER ONCE MORE A HERO.

The Duke of Westminster, who, according to a story printed in La Gaulds of Paris is once again hailed as a hero. This time, according to the story as printed; the Duke, who had previously saved the life of his friend, Captain Grenfell, in action, was carrying military dispatches near Lille to Sir John French, whose aid he is, when he was attacked by Uhlans. They showered the duke's motor with lead. One bullet struck the duke's companion who lay dying. As his companion collapsed, he tried to struggle to his feet to salute. But he could not, so the duke stood up in the car and saluted the dying man, saying: "Good-bye, boy; good-bye."

War Maps and Peace Maps

Far more interesting than the war maps that mark the devastation of armies, are the peace maps that picture the great constructive work on this continent. North America is finding itself. It is developing its own resources; developing its strength.

The advertising columns in this and other leading newspapers are the American peace maps. They tell of the march of industry, the great work of construction and upbuilding.

No man can be a daily reader of advertising without being a better patriot.
