She could not come but wrote a very interesting letter. She was 10 years old at the time of the massacre.

In all of the other Presbyterian churches of Oregon similar services will be held tomorrow, the day having been set aside for that purpose by the synod.

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 27.—Governor West, in his message to the legislature will recommend the repeal of all appropriations but those for educational purposes, according to an announcement just issued. He, however, thinks the continuing appropriations should remain.

BREWERY AT ASTORIA WILL QUIT JANUARY 1

ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 28.—W. E. Schimpff, president of the North Pacific Brewing company, has announced that the local brewing plant will be closed the first of the year. Mr. Schimpff says that nothing can be gained by operating for just another year, until statewide prohibition becomes effective, and that he has decided to quit now so that he will have so much more time to look about for another location.

Mr. Schimpff gives it as his opinion that it would be cheaper to build a new plant than to attempt to convert the brewery into a cannery or any other enterprise. He has not announced what he will do with his plant. A number of family men will be thrown out of employment by the closing of the brewery.

Oregon gave a dry victory in every county but two, and carried the city of Portland dry. Nothing like it has ever been done before. Precincts in the notorious "North End" red light district in Portland in many instances broke nearly even. The inside story of how it was done reads almost like a dime novel.

R. P. Hutton, state superintendent of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, will tell the story of the campaign and discuss the workings of the proposed law at the Pendleton Baptist church on Sunday night, Nov. 29.

This law is based on the Kansas law, with some modifications recommended by the Kansas officials after trying it out. You will be interested in the story of the desperate expedients to which the liquor traffic resorts, and the manner in which the lawless traffic can be broken up. Hear the exposition of the law, and then watch the legislature. The following are the points of the proposed law:

1. The attorney general to be ex-official state commissioner of prohibition, with full power and sole final responsibility for enforcement; he to have the privilege of employing special deputies, and power to enforce the law when county officials fail.
2. Ouster proceedings for delinquent county officials.
3. Making it unlawful to sell, barter, furnish for sale, or keep for sale anything for which the U. S. government requires a liquor dealer's tax.
4. Making it unlawful to advertise liquors by newspapers, bill boards, or otherwise.
5. Fines to be a lien against property where offense was committed.
6. Making it compulsory for convicted persons to give bond that they will not again offend for two years; on failure or refusal to furnish bond, to go to jail for two years.
7. Making it unlawful to solicit or receive orders for liquors.
8. Making it unlawful to keep or furnish liquor to members in any club house or place of public resort.
9. Making place where intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale a common nuisance, and providing for abatement of the same.
10. Strong search and seizure law; liquors to be destroyed upon conviction.
11. Ownership of government liquor dealer's stamp for possession of liquors in quantities to be prima facie evidence of illicit selling.
12. Making the sale of near-beer and all other malt liquor substitutes unlawful.
13. Providing a way for county courts to appropriate funds to be used by prosecuting attorneys in securing evidence, and providing that one half of all fines shall go to the witness securing the same.
14. Providing that organizations or individuals may employ counsel, who shall be recognized as associate district attorney; no case to be dismissed over protest of associate counsel except by order of the judge, and providing that in case of conviction, reasonable attorney's fees for the plaintiff shall be assessed and collected with the fine.

Bulldog Saves Master.
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The fighting prowess of a white bulldog assisted the police in killing a mad dog that terrorized residents on Oglesby avenue, at Seventy-ninth street, recently.

The bulldog was chained in the yard of J. Link, its owner, 7896 Oglesby avenue, when the mad dog ran in. Link advanced in an attempt to frighten the animal away, when he was attacked. The bulldog waited until the maddened animal came within reach of his leash and got a throat hold. The police arrived soon afterward, but the grip of the bulldog could not be loosened until 15 minutes after the mad dog had been shot.
