SHEPHERD SAYS "DON'T WORRY" ABOUT NEWSPAPER-MEN—TREATED WELL.

(By William G. Shepherd, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 12.—(By Mail to New York)—Now that there is no censor between me and the United States, I can write that the allies are giving the newspapermen all the best of it, except when it comes to censoring cables. There are strict rules, it is true, about keeping too close to the scene of action, but the punishments are not severe and any newspaperman who paints them as such needs a sense of humor or deliberately exaggerates.

"I was led into... chained to a German prisoner with the crowd hooting at me for a spy," one "war correspondent" told me. I suppose that he published it that way too. It just happened that this occurred in the town where I was being held myself and I saw this young man "led in." As a matter of fact he passed through the town to headquarters walking beside a very courteous French officer, who later requested him to take his bicycle and leave the place.

Now that I can slip it by the censor, let me tip it off to America's millions, who, perhaps, are worrying a trifle about how terribly American newspapermen are being treated:

"Don't fret. Most of us will get through somehow, thank you!"

"If you, as an onlooker, want to get out from behind one side in this conflict and get over behind the other, there's no use of trying to break through the lines. You've got to go out of bounds and off to the sidelines. And this brings me to Switzerland, with a railroad ticket in my pocket for Vienna. I have swung around the right end.

The last soldier I talked to wore the uniform of France with a black little Senegalese who had a bullet in his right lung and had been sent back home. His jacket was still bloody. Two other wounded Senegalese were with him. He was tough, and half drunk. Though an Arab he spoke Spanish and when he discovered that I spoke Spanish, too, he cut loose against the French in the presence of a half dozen Frenchmen, who could not understand.

"We've been treated like dogs," he said, "the food was scarce and abominable. There was no Red Cross to take care of us and we were all suffering in the field from cold. That man over there went crazy," he added pointing to a comrade.

The man made some very unusual sounds, afterwards, but perhaps he was only speaking Arabic.

This little "last soldier of the allies" during our talk opened his shirt with one hand and took off his fez with the other. In one hand he held out a charm of Christian creed. With the other he grasped an odd little tuft of hair on the back of his head, otherwise well trimmed.

"My father is a Mussulman," he said, "and if I came home without this tuft of hair he'd say, 'My son has gone back on his religion.' And if I didn't wear this charm back my mother would say, 'My son is no longer a Christian.' So I wear them both."

"But what are you really?" I asked. "Mussulman," he said. "I don't like the way you Christians kill each other."

He tucked the charm away, flattened out the tuft of hair, put on his fez, said "adios" which in his Arabic is "Ahmselhair," and got off to take a train for Marseilles, whence a boat would carry him to his peaceful Africa where folk's aren't civilized.

WARSAW, Russia, Nov. 30.—Organization of a Polish National Council is announced in a proclamation published in Polish newspapers.

ENGLAND TREATS HER GERMAN CAPTIVES WELL

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Chandler P. Anderson, a special representative of the United States state department who has inspected the German detention camp at the Newbury race-track, concerning which many complaints have been printed in the German newspapers, is preparing his report for presentation to the German authorities.

Mr. Anderson says the only criticism he found of the present conditions was based on the lack of heat. The prisoners now are living in tents, but shortly will move into huts and stables, where the conditions will be almost identical with those at the race-tracks in Germany. The commandant and the prisoners at Newbury camp are on good terms, Mr. Anderson said, and the food is adequate.

Defense Need to be Topic.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—With its object to convince Americans of the unpreparedness of this nation for war, the conference which will be held in Chicago on December 23-24 will resolve itself into a permanent organization to be known as the United States Safety League. The purpose of the league, according to Colonel Henry L. Turner, of Chicago, will be to "convince every American citizen that immediate steps should be taken towards placing the nation in ample preparation for self-defense, and to electify this conviction into action."

The convention expects to have as its guest Colonel G. W. Goethals, ex-president Taft, General Nelson A. Miles, Mrs. General Jas. Longstreet and Mrs. General George A. Picket.

Inspects Camps in England.

Got to Go Deep to Cure Rheumatism

Liniments Help Locally, But the Disease is Way Down Inside.

To get at the source of rheumatic pains it requires the deep, searching influence of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Rheumatism is primarily a blood disease that, since it is in this vital fluid that rheumatic tendencies are carried, lodges in the joints and muscles, there to irritate the nerves and produce pain. And in order to drive out these pain-inflicting poisons it requires S. S. S. to sink deep into the tiny glands imbedded in the innermost tissues. S. S. S. travels wherever the blood goes and never loses its medicinal influence. This explains why it overcomes the most chronic forms of rheumatism, why it dissolves those hard deposits that thicken the joints, for it acts as a solvent and assists the blood to provide in the tissues those natural elements for which the body-building process continually craves and must have.

If you have never used S. S. S. for rheumatism, get a bottle today of any druggist. Use it as directed and with some simple home helps you will soon detract the worst and most painful forms of rheumatism. Write the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 62 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for additional advice. Yours may be a case where a slight help from a specialist whose advice he free, will save the misery that has been making life miserable for you. When you ask for S. S. S. insist upon it and refuse all substitutes.
