Sick Headache.

Silk headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Cossacks Defeat Kurds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Russian Cossacks have suppressed an uprising of the Kurds in Persia, according to mail advices received here by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church from the mission at Uramia.

RESIDENT WANTS THE FAIR PAVILION PARTLY REMOVED

QUESTION AGAIN PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL AT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The matter of removing that part of the fair pavilion that occupies a portion of Railroad street was again up for discussion before the council last evening. Judge Lowell, attorney for Elmer Searcey, who is the petitioner, appeared in person before the aldermen and requested that some action be taken, declaring his client, though humble, had the same rights as any other citizen.

Because the fair pavilion is the home of "Happy Canyon" and the granting of the petition would be a serious blow to the Commercial association's entertainment, the members of the council were loth to give orders for the tearing down of any part of the pavilion though recognizing that the law is probably on the side of Mr. Searcey. Councilman Murphy declared his opinion that Mr. Searcey showed poor grace in asking for the removal of the building in view of the nature of the house the police records show he has been running.

The matter had previously been referred to the police committee and another week was granted for a report. It was suggested that the Commercial association might be able to make a settlement with Mr. Searcey.

An electrical device has been invented to "cure" logs and lumber to prevent sap stains.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy—The Mothers' Favorite.

"I give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when they have colds or coughs," writes Mrs. Verne Shaffer, Vandergrift, Pa. It always helps them and is far superior to any other cough medicine I have used. I advise anyone in need of such a medicine to give it a trial." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

SPORTS

SPORT CHATTER.

(By Hal Sheridan, written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—One of the really interesting pastimes of the present winter league scheduled is picking a team for the 1915 Athletics. Ever since the depressing—not to say honestly discouraging—defeats administered by a tall Georgian whose name we shall not mention for fear of giving him too much publicity for his vaudeville ventures, the new lineup of the Mackmen has been chosen by the experts. And the baseball experts are almost as numerous this year as the military experts and give forth their opinions with equal abandon. Sufficient to remark at this time, Connie Mack has the final say in the matter.

A few things, however, may be permitted. One is that Wallie Schanz will continue at the old stand. The second is that the young blood on the Mack hurler corps will be very much to the front. The third is that a new face will be seen in the outfield. The fourth is that the Athletics will be more popular in 1915 than they have in the last few years—which is not saying much. The fifth idea is not such a lead-pipe cinch but there is a strong probability that someone else will be hovering around third base in place of Home Run Baker.

The Maryland slugger would like a change of climate, it is said. He had a bad slump, comparatively speaking, last summer and many were unkind enough to say that the former idol's feet had turned to clay—which is a literary way of saying that he is not what he used to be. It would be a brave man who would try to name his successor, however.

FRUIT-VEGETABLE DISEASES.

Some of Oregon's Worst Horticultural Disease Pests Will Be Considered at O. A. C. Short Course.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Dec. 10.—Results of recent spraying experiments in apple and pear scab control will be discussed by Professor H. S. Jackson, plant pathologist of the Oregon Station, at the O. A. C. annual short course, January 1 to 30, 1915. Laboratory and field experiments have been carried on extensively during the past year and it is the purpose of the department to give to the short course students the benefits of the additional information secured. Other subjects to be treated by Professor Jackson are fire blight of apple and pear, apple tree anthracnose, apple mildew, peach leaf curl, and California peach blight, brown rot of prunes and other stone fruits, gooseberry mildew, and other gooseberry and currant troubles, mildews of grain crops, dealing with both cause and control, important diseases of clover and alfalfa, and the rust of pear and quinces—a new western disease. Professor Jackson will also explain the methods of potato seed production with reference to diseases and disease control.

The growers of small fruits and bush fruits will be especially interested in Professor Bars' treatment and loganberry anthracnose and other can fruit diseases and some of the common and destructive diseases of cherries and mushroom rot as a disease in fruit trees will also be handled by Professor Bars.

Vegetable disease, such as potato rot and wilt, including rhizoctonia, potato late blight and common potato scab and powdery scab will be discussed by Professor Bailey. Other vegetable diseases as of onions, celery, cabbage and tomatoes, will be treated from the standpoint of cause and control.

The growth and production features of plants will be handled by Dr. Atwood, who will explain for the benefit of growers how plants draw from the soil and make use of the materials they need. In this connection will also be discussed the relation of green coloring matter of plants to the ability of making their own food, how plants increase in size and perpetuate their kind, and the natural rest periods of plants and seeds. Of special interest to cold storage men will be his discussion of the natural respiration in plants and its relation to cold storage and keeping qualities of fruits.

Florence Poultry Awards Made. FLORENCE, Ore., Dec. 10.—At the second annual Poultry Show held by the Siuslaw Poultry Association in Florence the silver cup for the best Leghorns was awarded to a pen of White Leghorns shown by I. B. Cushman, of Acme.
