LAWRENCE MADE STATE PRINTER BY THE BOARD

PLIMPTON IS FOUND INELIGIBLE BUT IS GIVEN ANOTHER POSITION.

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 28.—Arthur W. Lawrence, of Portland, was appointed state printer by the state printing board to succeed R. A. Harris January 1.

The board receded from its action of a few days ago in appointing W. M. Plimpton temporary state printer, for the term beginning January 1, it appearing that he was disqualified by a constitutional provision which says that only those who have had 10 years experience as a practical printer shall be eligible. The attention of the board was called to this position Thursday by a delegation from the Portland Typographical Union.

Saturday the board appointed Plimpton as secretary of the state printing board for a term to begin January 1. This will give him practically the position he has held since Harris became state printer a year ago. Plimpton was also manager under Dunaway.

Lawrence will be superintendent in the printing office and this will save $1500 a year, the salary paid the present superintendent. Plimpton will be representative of the board in the printing office and will have active charge of the business end. The law provides that the state printer will receive a salary of $1800 and a similar salary will be paid Plimpton.

The temporary appointment of Plimpton, had it stood, would have thrown the permanent appointment into the hands of Governor Withycombe, Treasurer Kay and Secretary of State Olcott. It became apparent, that even a temporary appointment of Plimpton would not stand.

Lawrence was a member of the last house of representatives, being elected from Multnomah county as a republican-progressive. He introduced the compensation act and was prominent in securing progressive legislation along other lines. He has been lately employed as instructor in printing in the Jefferson high school, Portland.

Salem Santa Generous.
SALEM, Ore., Dec. 28.—Christmas was observed generally in the state's capital. Special services were held at the Episcopal and Catholic churches and entertainments of various kinds were given at the state institutions. Under the auspices of the Cherrians Presents were distributed from a big Christmas tree on the courthouse grounds to all children who applied. Despite the rain more than 3000 persons were crowded on the lawn. Rev. H. T. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered an address to the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus left nuts and candy in all the wards of the state insane asylum. Superintendent Lawson provided a big dinner at the penitentiary and at night a moving picture entertainment was given. Entertainments were given at the blind school, the industrial school for boys and the girls' industrial school, not an inmate of any of the institutions being overlooked in the dispensing of gifts.

Only one modern sawmill is operated in the territory of Hawaii.
