INDOOR GOLF

BY HAL SHERIDAN

(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—No matter how hard the wind blows or how it snows or rains in fact let the elements do their worst the good ancient sport of golf will not suffer during the long and weary winter months.

The latest innovation here is the indoor golf game. Many of the leading hotels and restaurants are having indoor courses installed. Of course, the conditions will be far from those encountered on the out-door course. Drives of 350 yards can not be made but then the player can enjoy the sensation of having a swing at the ball.

Amateurs and especially those who have gone stale welcome the indoor game with open arms. After putting through several weeks at the indoor practice they find marked improvement in their playing. Of the several courses already installed the nine-hole putting green is the most popular. The space occupied by this takes up only thirty feet. To keep the ball on a true course a special woven carpet with a heavy nap is laid around the holes a very fine sand is spread. To give the layout a golfy appearance a painted outdoor scene is furnished as a background. Practice facilities are almost perfect as the course is partly surrounded with mirrors so the players can see his mistakes and correct them.

One idea that did not pan out while the baseball magnates were holding their meetings recently was the launching of another outlaw league in the East that would take over the surplus talent from the Federal league. Several promoters with high hopes arrived in "Peacock Alley" with the sole purpose of putting this deal through. Their plan called for the consolidation of the two leagues and the elimination of the weaker cities in each. If the plan had gone through there probably would have been another big mixup in baseball-dom. But why dwell on the topic any longer—it died aborning.

Little Benny Kauff, diminutive in size but great in power and ability, stood out among the batters and base runners in the Federal League last year even brighter than the famous Tryon has appeared in American league surroundings for the past several seasons.

Kauff was the king bee in the Gilmore circuit with a vengeance. Not only did he show the way with his bludgeon, with which he clubbed out 210 hits, twenty-seven more than his nearest competitor, but he finished way out ahead in the stolen base column. He pilfered seventy-five sacks.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE?

When your kidneys are weak and torpid they do not properly perform their functions; your back aches and you do not feel like doing much of anything. You are likely to be despondent and to borrow trouble, just as if you had a real ailment. The old reliable medicine, Hood's Sassaaparilla, gives strength and tone to the kidneys and builds up the whole system. Get it today.

in the 154 games he took part in. Kauff's hitting was of the real kind, too—long distance stuff. He slammed out forty-five bingles that were good for two sacks each. Two base walkups seemed to be young Mr. Kauff's favorite rule for getting triples and doubles several others passed him. Aleck Zwilling, of Joe Tinkers Chifeds, who is sometimes known as "Dutch" had a penchant for home runs. The roly-uoly outfielder hung up sixteen homes runs during the season, which was the league's best record. Bill Kenworthy, of Kansas city, crowded him for the honors by bumping out fifteen.

Kauff showed his class in another division, also. In getting runs he had it on the flock of athletes who make up the Federal league roster. Benny chalked up 118 tallies during the season. Bill McKechnie, a teammate of Kauff's and a former Yankee and Pirate, was second and was the only other player in the league who had more than one hundred runs to his credit. McKechnie also finished second in the base-swiping game, getting fifty-two.

Indianapolis probably will let Kauff name his own figures for his salary during the coming season. Several managers in organized ball have been after him after seeing his work in the Fed circuit. McGraw, of the Giants, is declared to be particularly sweet on the youngster.

Kansas Farmers in Annual Meeting
MANHATTAN, Kansas, Dec. 28.—Hundreds of Kansas Farmers and their sons arrived today for the annual State Farmers' Institute at the Agricultural College. In addition to courses of lectures and demonstrations by authorities the following annual sessions: Hog Breeders' Association; Crop Improvement Association; Poultry Federation; Dairy Producers' Association; Horse Breeders' Horticulturists and Sheep Breeders. Prizes offered by the various organizations will be awarded during the week.

BLAMES SOCIETY FOR THE EUROPEAN WAR

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—"The war is a necessary and logical outcome of the present condition of society, which is international anarchy," said Dr. John Mez of the University of Munich and president of the International Federation of Students. "Corda Frates," in speaking before the City club on the "Economic and Practical Reasons Underlying the Peace Position."

"I am a pacifist," declared Dr. Mez. "I am not going to try to show causes or accuse or defend anybody, but to point out the underlying reasons for our still having wars notwithstanding our civilization and progress."

"False ideas and misconception of the advantages to be secured by the employment of military power; the misconception of the relationship of physical force and national welfare; jingoism and militarism—these are only the natural result of certain ideas, and 'Rule Britannia' is just as much a cause of the war. The remedy must not be so much in finding other means of settling disputes, such as arbitration, which would seem natural in organized world society, but rather in the removal of these underlying causes."

"The main psychological factor in international relationship is the desire for material gain—trade colonies, conquest, expansion, etc. In former times colonial expansion was of great importance to various nations, but in modern times there are new factors in existence, as steamship lines, railroads, the telegraph, cable, wireless, for instance, which have created a state of mutual dependence of nations international division of labor and cooperation in the great struggle of mankind against nature in the development of natural resources."

STREET CAR COMPANY IS GOOD TO CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Twenty-five hundred children of employees of a local street railway will be guests tonight of the company at a Christmas festival. The company will supply free transportation and have a Christmas tree with gifts for every child.

QUAKER COLLEGIANS REFUSE TO DRILL

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 23.—Military drills are compulsory at the University of Wisconsin. Nevertheless, there is a body of students who don't drill. They are Quakers, and in addition to defying the commandant they meet in the Y. M. C. A. building every Sunday and discuss the advancement of peace ideas. The young Quakers and the officials of the University have not yet settled their differences in this respect.

Society

One of the most beautiful and enjoyable dancing parties ever given in the Eagle-Woodman hall was the annual ball last evening of the Lambda Sigma fraternity. The young men, who are members of this organization, achieved a brilliant social success and it will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be guests of the occasion.

In decorating the hall for their party the young men departed from the conventional plans by carrying out an idea that converted the big hall into spacious club rooms. At the west end of the hall a massive imitation stone fireplace, in which blazed a gas log, had been installed and the illusion was perfect. On the mantelpiece rested a skull and other articles associated with student life and above the fireplace hung a huge replica of the fraternity badge with the Greek letters illuminated. About the walls were athletic paraphernalia of all descriptions, one corner being devoted to tennis, another to baseball, another to golf, another to winter sports and others to still other branches of outdoor life.

To help out in the decorations, evergreens, streamers of blue and white, the fraternity colors, and electrical effects were employed and the whole made a scene which elicited many compliments for the young hosts.

The dancing was unusually enjoyable, several pretty effects being produced at different numbers. In moonlight dances a searchlight played down from the gallery upon the dancers and electric lights blinked through a hedge of evergreen in front of the stage. The music was splendid and aided much in making the party an unusually pleasant one. Punch was served to the guests from an alcove under the balcony and a cozy smoking room made an attractive retreat for the men between dances.

Patronesses of the event were the mothers of the active members of the chapter of Lambda Sigma. They were Mesdames Frederick E. Judd, Wilson E. Brock, Charles Greulich, Ida Fowler, W. S. Bradley, J. J. Hamley, J. R. Dickson, Elmer Snyder, Thomas Boyler, E. J. Murphy, James W. Maloney, Charles F. Colesworthy and H. Struve.

Cards have been sent by Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Vincent for an at home Thursday evening, January seventh. Cards will be the form of entertainment.

Local friends of Alexander K. Goldman of Seattle have received announcements of his marriage to Miss Minnie Finkelstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Finkelstein, which was celebrated in Seattle on Christmas day. Mr. Goldman is a representative of the Great Western Smelting and Refining Co. and visits Pendleton frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kennedy of Wapata, Wash., are visiting relatives here.

A. J. Douglas of Pendleton and Miss Reba Oliver, daughter of Arthur Oliver, a prominent stockman of Baker county were quietly married on Christmas day in Baker by Justice of the Peace E. L. Hubbard. The young couple intend making their home in Pendleton.

As a compliment to Mrs. Elmer Storie of Walla Walla, Mrs. George C. Paer entertained a few friends informally at her home on Lewis street yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer E. Baer and daughter Wilhelmina, spent Sunday in La Grande as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Livengood, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Lina H. Sturgis entertained the members of the Duplicate Whist Club yesterday afternoon at her home on the North hill.

Mrs. Charles M. Stype has as her house guest Miss Elsie Gross of Walla Walla.

This evening in the Oregon theater the University of Oregon Glee Club will give its annual concert and a large audience will greet the collegians. Alumni of the institution and many others who enjoy a program of wholesome entertainment will turn out to hear the songs and jokes of the college boys.

At 7 o'clock last evening in the Baptist parsonage Miss Bernice M. Chelf, daughter of Mrs. Minnie E. Chelf, became the bride of Ure H. Dyer, a young man of Klamath county, Rev. E. R. Clevenger officiating.

Miss Edith Daubner, who is now a student at the Monmouth normal school, is here spending the holidays at her home on Madison street.

Miss Elsie McReynolds, who is teaching school at Nye, is visiting with friends in the city for several days.

Jail Order is Reversed.
CEHALIS, Ore., Dec. 29.—The Washington supreme court at Olympia ordered H. Sverson admitted to $2000 bail.

Judge D. H. Wright of Pacific county had refused to allow Sverson to give bail. The latter, who is a well known lumberman, is in the county jail here, his incarceration being due to failure to satisfy a $20,000 judgment obtained against him by an Adna girl some months ago.

MILLION DOLLAR PRESENT FOR ACTOR HACKETT

James K. Hackett.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Santa brings this Christmas to James K. Hackett the noted actor, a really handsome present in the form of $1,000,000 which originally was not intended for the actor. It represents the bulk of the estate of Mrs. Minnie Trowbridge, a niece of Hackett. In her will she left it to her husband, Francis Emory Trowbridge, but forgot to provide for other legatees in case her husband died before she did. Mrs. Trowbridge outlived her husband. She stated specifically in her will that Hackett, in whom she said she had no interest and hardly knew, was under no circumstances to share in her estate. But in this case it was necessary that the estate be distributed according to law and Hackett, being the only heir at law, was declared entitled to nearly the entire estate.

More Ships Asked.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—When the full membership of the house naval affairs committee meets to consider and determine a naval building program for submission to the house, Representative Stephens of California, a member of the committee, will insist on an elaboration of the program so as to meet what he regards as the needs of the Pacific coast.

He has announced that he will move to increase the number of submarines to be authorized at this session of congress to 16 instead of the "eight or more" as recommended by Secretary Daniels, and that in place of the six torpedo boat destroyers also recommended by the secretary he will insist that the number be increased to eight.

Representative Stephens added that while he does not intend to take any jingoistic attitude, he purposes to insist that the number of battleships be increased beyond the two recommended by the navy department and that he believed there should be four battleships. This is in line with the recommendations of the general board of the navy. Mr. Stephens will also contend for a provision for a mine layer and a mine sweeper, testimony before the committee having shown the navy does not now possess them.

The subcommittee on the naval appropriation bill will meet again next Tuesday and the committee expects to have the measure under debate in the house the latter part of January.

315 Barrels Flour Given.
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29.—Flour valued at $1575, 315 barrels, was contributed by the Belgian relief yesterday by various Portland firms and individuals. Besides, there were substantial cash receipts by Chairman Samuel Hill. The meeting scheduled for yesterday by the committee was not held. The members will meet probably tomorrow.

A 10-year-old worker for relief funds was enlisted yesterday in little Bertina Goossens, who volunteered and was given credentials by Chairman Hill. Little Miss Goossens came to Mr. Hill's office with a contribution of $2.50 that had been sent to her by August Goossens, of Aurora, for the cause.

R. Waggener, of Newport, sent in cash to the amount of $46.75, together with the names of 42 donors. Mrs. H. H. Paget, Macleay, Ore., remitted $15.80, which was collected at the Willard Congregational church on December 29. She reported that eight sacks of food and clothing are being sent from Pratum, Ore.

Dorothy Elizabeth Barnett, aged 7, wrote a neat letter to Chairman Hill yesterday enclosing her check for $5 for the aid of the Belgians.

Ross Island Has Mule.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29.—Harbormaster Speler is trying to figure out how a mule got on Ross Island in the Willamette river. His attention was called to the animal by residents of South Portland, who reported that the mule had been seen on the island and that it was starving. Captain Speler found a fine, sleek little mule—perhaps its a burro—grazing about enjoying itself. As the mule is in no danger of starvation it probably will not be molested. But the question is, how did the mule get there?

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those who are most deserving of the love of their mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments. Applied as directed upon these muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort. There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid common breast-feeding troubles. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradford Regulator Co., 209 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

DOCKET CLEARED UP IN CIRCUIT COURT BY DEFAULT JUDGEMENTS

SEVERAL CASES ARE DISMISSED UPON MOTION—TRIALS NOW UNDER WAY.

Judge Phelps is busy—Temporary Injunction Granted Made Permanent in Case of Mc Danna and Ritter vs. Herr—Judgments are Given—Other News of the Court.

Default judgments and dismissals of cases upon motion have cleared away a good many pending suits in the circuit court during the past few days and Judge Phelps is now busy with several trials.

The temporary injunction granted at the time of the filing of the case of Nehemiah McDannald and John Ritter vs. T. F. Herr has been made permanent. By it the defendant is restrained from removing from the land of the defendants the pump house and other improvements which he placed on it during the time he occupied the premises.

Judgment for $592.25 plus $50 attorney fees and $16 costs was rendered in the case of the Crab Creek Lumber Co. vs. Oscar F. Mahler and judgment for $210 plus $10.50 costs was rendered in the case of Campbell Collins Co. vs. C. E. Smith.

The following cases were settled and dismissed: D. A. May vs. East Oregonian Publishing Co., G. L. Anderson vs. James M. Cutler, J. P. Wallin vs. Minnie Lewis and Henry Lewis, E. O. Comegys vs. W. N. Ivins, Ernest P. Winans and Mary E. Winans vs. Abe Gross and M. M. Grogen, Lovie Stoffle Bowlsby vs. Clarence Bowlsby.

TRUST BUSTERS ON TRAIL OF MOVIE COMPANIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Charging that practically every motion picture producing firm in the United States is a combination which violates the Sherman anti-trust law, the Greater New York Film Rental company began a $1,800,000 suit against this alleged corporation.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendants control 95 per cent of the motion picture business of the country and names them as follows:

General Film company, Motion Picture Patents company, Vitagraph company of America, American Mfg. Co., T. A. Edison, Inc., Kalem Co., Pathe Freres, Lubin Mfg. Co., Gaston Melies, Selig Polyscope Co., Armat Moving Picture company, Frank L. Dyer, Henry N. Marvin, George K. Spoor, William N. Selig and others.

Many of these defendants are also defendants in the government's Sherman law action to dissolve the so-called film trust.

Bir Company is Absorbed.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 29.—Executors of the estate of the late George Westinghouse announced that they had contracted to sell their stock in the Westinghouse Machine company to the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company on the basis of three shares of machine stock for one share of electric stock.

Mr. Westinghouse controlled the machine company, a $10,000,000 corporation, but the other stockholders will be allowed to share in the sale agreement if they exercise the right before January 26 next.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.
