LOWELL WAS INSINCERE.

live. However, I shall not shirk the public duty if it becomes necessary.

Yours truly,
S. A. LOWELL.

To which we made the following reply:
December 8th, 1914.
Hon. S. A. Lowell, Pendleton, Ore.

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 7th addressed to Marion Jack and myself, regarding the qualifications of Dr. J. A. Best to serve as a member of the water commission of the city of Pendleton at hand.

In reply I will say that, inasmuch as you have started the case and are familiar with all of the facts and circumstances connected with it I think that it will be much better for you to continue the case. In fact my experience has been that it is a very bad procedure to change attorneys while trying a case at law and I am quite sure that it will be much better for you to do this than for any one to try it.

Thanking you for your interest in the matter, and trusting that the outcome will be a benefit to the whole people, I am very truly yours,
WILL MOORE.

Now, in your letter of December 30th you admit that Mr. Best is not qualified, but say while it will be April before he can possibly be qualified, still he has done all that he can and therefore nothing should be done about it.

The only reason why Mr. Jack was not qualified was that he lacked a few months of having lived five years in Pendleton. He was doing everything that he possibly could to qualify himself, he was living here all of the time, and there was no question at all but what he would be qualified in time, still you started suit against him.

Mr. Moore was disqualified because his 1913 assessment was a little below $2500. His 1914 assessment which was made before your suit was tried was more than enough to qualify him, and you knew about it, still you started suit against him.

This from the standpoint of fairness shows that you have not acted in good faith in this matter, that you were neither sincere in your professions nor honest in your contentions.

We know that courts are intended to do justice, but they are sometimes imposed upon by designing individuals, who use them to vent their private piques and quarrels as you have done in this case.

We personally have no objections to Mr. Best or any one else holding any office to which they may have been elected or appointed and for which they have taken the required oath of office.

Our object in this has simply been to get you out in the open, so that all of the people might count you as we have already done, as one who has been opposed to the gravity water system and who's only objection to us was that we have always worked for the completion of the system as soon and as cheaply as possible.

We do not believe that personalities abuse or mean insinuations ever added one thing to any argument and while we might indulge in them will refrain from doing so.

Yours very truly,
MARION JACK,
WILL MOORE.

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Bee Raisers Organize—At a meeting of the bee men held at the city hall in Ontario Tuesday, the Idaho Oregon Honey Producers' association was organized. This was the second meeting held for the purpose this month, and next week a third will be held to complete the organization. Articles of incorporation were adopted Tuesday, together with a constitution and by-laws, and the association will be incorporated under the laws of the state of Idaho. The capital stock will be disposed of among the members before the meeting next week.

The object of the association which supplants local organizations hitherto in existence in Malheur county and in one or two Idaho counties, is to enable the producers of honey to market their output more effectively, and to buy their supplies in a more satisfactory manner. The territory embraced is southwestern Idaho and southeastern Oregon.—Ontario Democrat.

Orchards Will Be Cleared—Assured of the hearty co-operation of Fruit Inspector Charles Gilbreath of Walla, Walla, who is now backed by the supreme court of Washington in a decision handed down last week sustaining the law providing compulsory cleaning up of orchards, similar to the Oregon law, County Fruit Inspector W. C. Hopson says no part of the county will escape rigid inspection and impartial enforcement of the law this season.

"Now that we have the support of the Walla Walla officers which was before lax owing to the inefficiency of the Washington laws, we expect to wage our fight down to the state line. Old orchards particularly are going to be cleaned up or taken out. "Right now, while the trees are dormant is the best time in the world to cut out the cankers, and I would advise all growers to lose no time in doing this. The first warm day is the time to start and keep at it until the work is complete."

"I have visited many orchards in the valley and find that all are more or less infected."

Many Apples Frozen—For the first time in the history of commercial fruitgrowing in the Walla Walla valley, serious loss has been sustained by apple growers because storage houses were not protected sufficiently from low temperatures.

Continued cold, which has lasted almost incessantly for more than four weeks, has frozen apples in many orchard store houses so that hundreds of boxes will be injured appreciably in selling.

One well known grower who had 6000 boxes in storage has lost 1500, according to his own estimate, while others have lost smaller lots ranging from 50 boxes up.

In the storage rooms of the Milton Fruitgrowers' union, and the Lamb Fruit company, as well as some private warehouses, preparations had been made to counteract the cold and besides extra sawdust filled walls, oil stoves were used to raise the temperature. Just how much actual loss will be sustained by growers cannot be told until after the weather moderates.—Milton Eagle.
