EGGS DAZZLE BROOKS, SO HE STEALS THEM

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 9.—Frank J. Brooks, arrested here for stealing eggs from a grocery store, assured Police Judge McDonald that he could never resist the temptation to steal eggs, but that the mania did not affect him with respect to any other form of property. The judge postponed Brooks' hearing to give time for investigating the prisoner's peculiar malady. Brooks gave his occupation as stenographer. At present he is unemployed.

Milady Goes to the Theater Not to See the Play But to Observe the Style of Dress

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for the United Press.)
When they go forth to see a play The ladies, heaven bless 'em, Don't care a fig about the plot But just the way they dress 'em.

In act one when the heroine Leaves husband who's untrue, They think her leaving good too sweet Of velvet, sapphire blue, And when she visits Ormonde's flat At midnight all alone, Her Russian suit and sable hat To them all sins condone. And when she dies in act the last They think just simply grand Her negligee of cloth of gold. It always gets a hand.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—It really matters not these days whether a drama is played in two or three acts and two scenes, the real vital secret of its source is if it be played in two evening gowns, a street costume and a negligee. The glass of fashion in the opera glass and followers of fashion get their latest hints from behind the footlights.

Among the most striking creations shown on the New York stage this winter that have furnished wonderful copy of poor war victims deprived of their Paris models one that has proved a sweeping success and been fairly pounded upon is worn by Mile. Dorzot in the last act of "The Hawk." It is an afternoon toilette of black Chantilly lace over black satin. The skirt is very short with the lace draped up in the front a trifle in Turkish trouser effect and the short underskirt of the satin finished with a fringe of jet. A girdle of the jet beads twists around the waist twice and finishes in front with two long tassel ends. Worn over this lacy ebony frock is a loose hip length sleeveless coat of black velvet banded in sable to which the long Chantilly sleeves of the dress add a fitting complement. A sable muff and a smart little jet and sable turban completes the costume.

The dramatic life of Madame Nefzou's new play "That Sort" was short lived but the memory of her striking costumes will not soon be forgotten. One a house gown of sombre viack velvet loose and straight of line from the long tight sleeves and the high tight collar buttoned severely and closely down the middle of the front of the waist line and then burst open as if it had been split up in the middle of the skirt to turn back its gay futurist silk lining and reveal a frothy lace flounced petticoat of white.

In "The Song of Songs," Irene Fenwick clothes herself in the justly famed restaurant supper act in an adorably simple but daring frock of silver embroidered lace and cloth of silver. It is made sans bodice and sleeves save for a bit of white illusion over each shoulder. The loose straight lined swath of cloth of silver which reaches from the bust straight down to the hip has its severity effect by a two-falls of heavily embroidered silver lace which forms the short ankle length skirt. It is infantile from the long waist and fluffy skirt down and the quintessence of worldly sophistication from its long waist up to its lack of corsage.

The iliac domino that Eleanor Painter wears in the opera of the same material name is delightfully appropriate for a negligee. It is of softest iliac hued chiffon with loose flowing angled sleeves and short skirt draped up in scollops over a lace petticoat and finished with a double ruching of the chiffon bedecked with tiny chiffon roses. The same rushing finishes it up the front and around the low V-shaped neck.

In "Watch Your Step" among a perfect swarm of attractive and original frocks a Persian effect of mauve, blue and green chiffons flecked with a bit of barbaric gold embroidery here and there and its bright blue sash heavy with gold fringe is worn by Mrs. Castle with a realistic swathing Persian turban of the peacock hue chiffons topped with a spray of Paradise feather to rival even a Pasha's head covering. A perfectly huge barbed rick shaped grandmother's muff of chinchilla looks out for her hands while she watches her step.

STAGE DRIVER IS DELIGHTED WITH SEEING OLD HOME

PILOT ROCK RESIDENT MAKES VISIT TO HIS OLD STAMPING GROUNDS.

Hawson Stubblefield, well known stage driver at Pilot Rock, has just returned from a visit to his boyhood home in Wallowa county. Concerning his visit to his old stamping grounds, the Enterprise Record-Chief-tain has the following to say:

Early days in Wallowa county, before there was any Enterprise, were recalled last week by the return, for a short visit, of Hawson Stubblefield, a brother of Mickel Stubblefield. Their father was W. K. Stubblefield, whom older residents of the county still recall most kindly as "Uncle Billy."

The visitor had not been here since 1909. He now lives at Pilot Rock, Umatilla county, where he drives a stage. The steady and substantial progress of Enterprise greatly impressed Mr. Stubblefield. Nowhere, he said, has he seen such sound and promising growth. He is a great believer in the future of the wheat lands of this county, and says his great regret is that he does not own a good acreage of them.

In Umatilla county wheat land less productive than that here sells as high as $150 an acre. Pasture land is proportionately high.

The prosperity of many small farmers living near Pilot Rock has been greatly augmented by the bank of that city. It has brought in several hundred head of dairy cows and sold them to the farmers. Cream checks have paid for the cows, and now the farmers are becoming independent and are advancing to comfort. Chickens are raised extensively and contribute materially to every farmer's income.

"Uncle Billy" Stubblefield and his family were the first settlers on the Imnaha below the upper stream. As boys Hawson and Mickel played where Enterprise now stands. That was before R. F. Stubblefield and John Zurcher, with J. M. Church as a strong ally, had proved up on their homestead and made their first plats of the future town.

RECIPE FOR MAKING "MONEY" FOUND UPON ALLEGED WIFE BEATER

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 9.—After he had been arrested for assault and battery upon his wife, there was found in the pockets of Charles W. Jarvis of Eugene a recipe for the making of counterfeit money. His house was searched and the officers found almost a complete outfit for the manufacture of spurious dollars.

Jarvis, it is charged, deserted his family here four years ago and his whereabouts until a few days ago were unknown by the officers. He beat his wife Tuesday night, it is alleged, and she swore out a warrant for his arrest. He was arrested on the street and at the jail the recipe was found.

Deputy Sheriff George Croner and District Attorney J. M. Peters searched the house and found the counterfeiting outfit, besides a quantity of materials used in making the coins. None of the coins have been located.

Jarvis is in the county jail and the United States marshal's office in Portland has been notified of the discovery.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Grip Left Me With a Cough

If during the winter you had the grip and are still suffering from the after effects, now is the time to get rid of it. Peruna is your remedy.

A Very Bad Cough.
Mrs. S. J. Kountz, 1015 Beovel St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I have had a very bad cough nearly all my life. I have taken almost every kind of cough medicine, but none did me much good. I would have spells of coughing that I thought I would cough myself to death. I took Peruna, and last winter and this winter I have had no cough and I know that Peruna cured me."
"I was always thin and delicate, very easy to catch cold, but I am well now and enjoying good health. I feel that I owe it all to Peruna."

A Severe Case of Grip.
Mr. W. S. Brown, R. F. D. 4, Box 82, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "I recommend Peruna to all sufferers of catarrh or cough. In the year of 1909 I took a severe case of the la grippe. I then took a bad cough. Everybody thought I had consumption. I had taken all kinds of cough remedies, but got no relief. I then decided to try Peruna. After taking five bottles my cough stopped and my catarrh was cured. Any one suffering with catarrh in any form I will advise them to take Peruna."
