FLEET ASSEMBLES FOR FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS FOR PRACTICE

UNCLE SAM'S FIGHTING FORCE IS GATHERING OFF COAST OF CUBA.

Maneuvers and Target Practice Will Comprise Program.—Twenty-one Destroyers, Cruisers and Other Battleships and a Mosquito Fleet of Destroyers to Take Part.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Uncle Sam's armada is assembling at Guantanamo, Cuba. For the first time in two years the entire Atlantic fleet will hold target practice and practice "fleet" maneuvers.

Twenty-one battleships and a mosquito fleet of destroyers, colliers, gunboats, cruisers and a few submarines will be given a joint workout. Admiral Fletcher, commander, will have charge of the maneuvers, which will begin the latter part of this week and continue a fortnight. Navy department officials, including Secretary Daniels, hope to view the maneuvers. The fleet practice a year ago was suddenly called off when the Mexican situation became acute. Because of the presence of many battleships in Mexican waters it has been impossible since to hold any fleet practice.

Two Apart Long He-Wed. GEORGETOWN, Colo., Jan. 13.—A. J. Randall, aged 52, an editor and former professor in the Georgetown high school, recently an heir to $50,000, and his former wife, aged 35, from whom he was divorced in 1917, were remarried in Kansas City, according to word which reached Georgetown Tuesday.

The wedding is the result of efforts of their four children to effect a reconciliation since the divorce 17 years ago. Following the separation Mrs. Randall married A. G. Scott, of Kansas City. During an illness, which resulted in the death of Scott several months ago, Randall sent comforting words to his former wife. Following Scott's death she accepted his proposal to wed after his pleas had been reiterated by their children. Randall, who has lived in Georgetown more than 40 years, left here two weeks ago for Kansas City. Three of their children were present at the wedding service. A fourth, James Randall, editor of a local paper, was unable to attend.

Professor Randall is one of the best known pioneers in Colorado and despite his 52 years, is extremely active. He has taken a keen interest in politics and still gives his personal attention to business affairs.

Randall founded the Georgetown Courier shortly after his arrival in Georgetown, and later became widely known throughout the west as a writer. He was professor of English in the Georgetown high school for 12 years, resigning to resume his business affairs. He came into possession of $50,000 through the death of a relative three months ago.

The couple will take a honeymoon trip through the east, and visit points included in a similar trip when they were married 65 years ago. They will probably make their home in Colorado.

Twins' Birthday Differ.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—Two baby girls, the daughters of Mrs. Anna McKay, 3211 Hurley street, one of whom was born during the last seconds of the year 1914 and the other during the first moments of 1915, at the Frankford Hospital, are in fine condition.

The twins have become favorites of the physicians and nurses. The physicians say there is no similar case on record of twins born in different years. If they continue to look so much alike when they are older and say they are twins, although born in different years, their statement no doubt will be taken with a grain of salt.

MAN GIVES HIMSELF UP AND INSISTS HE BE SENT TO PRISON

JUST AS SOON SPEND A YEAR IN PENITENTIARY AS ANYWHERE.

Sheriff Taylor Finds Person for First Time in His Experience Who Wants to Get "in"—Obliging Stranger Willing to Take Five Years—Perseverance is Wonderful.

It very frequently happens that a man in jail wants to get out and exhausts every expedient to accomplish that end but never before since he has been in charge of the county jail has Sheriff Taylor run across a man who not only wants to get in jail but wants to be sent to the penitentiary. He is so persistent in his desires that the sheriff has been unable to date to get rid of him.

The man gives his name as James Kiernan. A week ago he walked into the sheriff's office and announced to Deputy Sheriff Estes that he wanted to give himself up. "What have you been doing?" asked the officer. "Destroying property," was the answer. He was locked up for the time being and an investigation proved that he had broken a window in the house of P. J. Kim on the reservation and slept in the house. However, there was no charge against him and, a few days ago he was turned loose.

On Monday he reappeared at the sheriff's office and gave himself up again. This time he was examined for his sanity but the county physician declared he was not sufficiently weak minded to be sent to the hospital. He was again turned loose and again yesterday he reported again.

Thinking to bluff him out, Sheriff Taylor said, "I guess I'll have to send you to the penitentiary." To his surprise the man declared he would just as soon spend a year there as anywhere. "Well I never sentence a man to less than five years," answered the sheriff, "but I'll give you another chance if you want it." The man reflected awhile and then, in a resigned tone of voice, declared he would take the five years. The sheriff tried to tell him of the hard labor he would have to perform at the penitentiary but the man clung to his decision to take the sentence. "I guess they can keep a man's mind occupied down there," he said, "and I'd just as soon be there as drifting over the country."

The sheriff having failed to bluff him out, Janitor George Simpson took the man in charge. Escorting him to the woodpile outside, he set up forty sticks of cordwood and told him to get to work. "Is there any specified time I have to do the job?" asked the man. "Yes sir," quoth the janitor. "You won't get another meal here until you cut up every stick of that."

This was early in the afternoon and at 4 o'clock the janitor looked out of the window. "By golly," he said, "only four sticks left" and the fellow was still sawing wood. "Well there's a good big pile left," said Simpson, "so I guess we can give him enough work until he gets his fill of this jail business."

INDIAN MEETINGS AT KAMIAH ARE VERY SUCCESSFUL

REV. J. M. CORNELISON, ATTENDING TELLS OF WORK BEING DONE THERE.

The Indian evangelistic meetings at Kamiah, Idaho, are proving very successful, according to a letter received from J. M. Cornelison of Tutuilla mission who is assisting in the services. Rev. Cornelison writes that the Nez Perce Indians at Kamiah were very much surprised when he preached a sermon in their native tongue. Snow lies on the ground to the depth of four or six inches he writes and the people are riding about in sleighs. He encloses the following clipping from the Kamiah Progress:

Special evangelistic meetings are in progress at the Second Presbyterian church of which Rev. Moses Montith is pastor. The series opened Wednesday night at which time Rev. James Hayes was leader and Rev. Elias Pond of Stites preached the sermon. The meetings will continue one week with services three times each day as follows: 10:00 a. m., 2:00 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. At each service one of the visiting ministers will lead the meeting and do the preaching, according to the appointments of the local session.

Many visitors are present and others will come later. Among those now present are Rev. Wm. Wheeler of Ashaka, Rev. and Mrs. Elias Pond of Stites, Rev. James Hays of First Church, and Rev. J. M. Cornelison, the missionary from the Umatilla Indian reservation, near Pendleton, Or. Mr. Cornelison speaks the Indian language and will take his turn in speaking to the people. Rev. Mark Arthur of Lapwai is expected later, as is also Miss Crawford, missionary among the Nez Perces and co-laborer of Miss Kate C. McBeth.

All the friends of Kamiah are invited to any or all of these meetings.

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption and many refuse to realize they are afflicted until it is too late.

It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs thrive because the resistive powers of the body are weakened.

Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich blood can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentrated fats in Scott's Emulsion furnish fuel for rich blood, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the forces.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or run-down Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from alcohol or stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

Victoria Sends 200 Men

VICTORIA, B. C. Jan. 12.—Two hundred soldiers will leave Victoria tomorrow, more than half of whom will proceed direct to the north of France for active service. The latter are those who have local overseas contingents to reinforce the Princess Patricia regiment, which is now on the firing line; and as the first Canadian corps to take a place in the trenches with the British forces.

The others are members of the ambulance corps. They will join other sections of the same kind at Winnipeg and there await further instructions. There are also a number of chauffeurs in the party, who will become attached to the army service corps at Toronto prior to crossing the Atlantic. The contingent will leave by the afternoon outgoing boat and will proceed east via Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific.

A belt line electric railway will circle the ancient walls of Peking, China.

Blood Sufferers Want to Know

The Light is Turned on to a Subject of Darkness.

The mere fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, drives out disease is a world's story, a topic of conversation wherever men get together.

They wonder why, simply because most remedies are mystified and put before them as "discoveries." The facts are that we pay too much attention to possibilities and not enough to real, honest accomplishment. S. S. S. is a remedy of our fathers. It has a history that is written deeply in men's minds because it has done the work, driven out deep seated disease, revived hope, put the O. K. on appearance and clamped down light any effort of germs to get the upper hand. Any sore spot on the skin is an immediate demand for S. S. S. since the first principle of this famous remedy is to strike out for places of trouble. This is a physiological fact and S. S. S. is true to the workings of our body.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any druggist and begin blood health. It will master any blood disease and do it in a way to emphasize its influence. And if you would like definite advice write The Swift Specific Co., 26 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Their medical department is where most people first seek advice that puts them on the straight road.

SPORTS

SPORT DOPE.

BY HAL SHERIDAN.

(Written for the United Press.) NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—What has become of Willie Ritchie, is the question just now before the local sporting public. The question is especially appropriate at present with the really fine crop of lightweights now bidding for public favor. The White Welsh the Welsh-Shugrue and the Shugrue-White fights of recent memory and the White-Welsh affair scheduled for tomorrow night have all served to focus attention upon that class. But to date Ritchie has not been heard from.

No one thinks that the man conquered by Welsh in London is all in. Ritchie's friends have declared that his eyes were suffering as a result of that famous—or infamous battle—in the English capital but no one believes that the injury is a permanent one. Ritchie is probably doing the sulking Achilles stunt and taking on weight at the same time. If he ever expects to get back in the ring he will have to do it soon or not at all. In the meantime he will have the hopes and the best wishes of countless fight fans for he has always been a popular scrapper.

While on the subject of lightweights it is worth while to notice the varying points of view in judging ten round and other short bouts. The question is, which is worth more, science or the punch?

Following the dictum laid down by "Snowy" Baker, the Australian promoter, met of the New York critics favor the scientific boxer in the short bout. This is the English system which takes into consideration the number of points piled up during a match regardless of the ruggedness of the other man.

INNOCENT VICTIM OF LOVE-CRAZED MOTHER

Little John Rogers, beautiful two and a half year old son of Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters Rogers, who, with his eight months old baby sister, was poisoned to death by his mother, who then attempted suicide. Mrs. Rogers, the common-law wife of Lorys Elton Rogers, is now fighting for her life in Lebanon hospital, New York city, where the physicians working on the case assert that she now has a chance for recovery. She constantly calls for her babies, not knowing that both of them are dead, the victims of her own rash act. It is believed that Mrs. Rogers committed the terrible deed as a result of constant brooding over the fact that she could not marry the father of her children because he was legally married to Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers.

Zoo Gets Tiny Alligator. PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 6.—A small alligator is the latest addition to the Washington Park zoo. The little animal was received by Park Superintendent Conville from Vivianne De Lory, a school teacher who lives at 265 Hooker street. She received it by parcel post from New Orleans.
