

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

New Guardian Named.

W. A. Gilliam has been appointed guardian of John Alexander, insane, to succeed T. B. Wells, resigned.

To Attend Lumbermen's Meeting.

A. H. Cox, manager of the Oregon Lumber Yard, will leave tomorrow for Walla Walla to attend the convention of the Inland Lumbermen in that city.

Cameron is Recovering.

The attack of pneumonia from which Charles Cameron, prominent Holdman resident has been suffering for some time has broken and he is now improving rapidly, according to a telephone message received yesterday by Dr. R. E. Ringo.

Brother Appointed Administrator.

Upon the petition of Mrs. Rachael Kirkpatrick, widow of the late Edward Kirkpatrick, Robert Kirkpatrick has been appointed by Judge Marsh administrator of the estate of his deceased brother. The state consists of about $15,000 in personal property and $8000 in real property.

Files His Answer.

In the case of John Ferguson vs. Sam R. Thompson, involving the ownership of some swine, defendant has made answer to the complaint, denying that plaintiff was ever the owner of the animals and alleging that he unlawfully took possession of them. Raley & Raley are his attorneys.

J. B. Jacobs Is Ill.

James B. Jacobs, well known retired farmer who is living at the Tutulla ranch which he recently sold to Gilman Folsom, is reported to be very low as a result of the infirmities of old age. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy a year or more ago and has not been well since. Dr. E. O. Parker was called out to see him this morning.

Show Manufacture of Ford.

How the Ford automobile is made will be shown this evening on the screen of the Alta theater. A set of films taken in the big Ford manufacturing plant has been received by E. F. Trombley of the Oregon Motor Co., and has been turned over by him to the Alta theater for exhibition in connection with the regular program there this evening.

Funeral of Tom Milarkey.

The funeral of the late Thomas Milarkey was held this morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church and was attended by a large number of friends of the pioneer resident. Interment was made in Olney cemetery. In keeping with the wishes of the deceased, the entire funeral, casket, hearse, cabs and hacks were drawn by horses. During his life time Mr. Milarkey was a great lover of horses and never forsook them for the modern automobile.

Asks for Other Child.

Mrs. Lavara Cornelson of Walla Walla, has filed a petition in the court in that city asking Judge Mills for a modification of the decree of divorce granted her in July, 1913. By that decree she was given the custody of two children and the third was given to her former husband, Rev. J. M. Cornelson of Tutulla mission. She now wants this child, alleging that the association on the reservation are not proper for it. She also wants her alimony increased from $35 a month to $50 a month and she further asks that the restrictions preventing her from taking the children out of Oregon or Washington be removed so that she may take them to California to make her home.

Watts Gets $500 Verdict.

A verdict for $500 for the plaintiff was returned late last evening by the jury which listened to the testimony in the case of Homer I. Watts vs. Moses Taylor. Watts had asked for $1050 alleged to be due as attorney fees on five different cases, and he produced as witnesses other lawyers who testified as to the reasonableness of the charges. Taylor claimed he had had a full accounting with Watts and produced some canceled checks amounting to $250. However, the plaintiff contended that those were given in payment for services in two other cases and the defendant admitted that he had employed Watts in other cases than those mentioned in the complaint. He claimed he made other payments in gold but produced no record of the fact. The feature of the case was perhaps the argument of L. A. Esteb for the defense. In his inimitable way, the pioneer Echo attorney grilled the plaintiff and amused the jury and spectators. W. M. Peterson represented the plaintiff.

Italian Still at Large.

Information from Walla Walla has been received to the effect that Battista Rabeno, the man of handcut notoriety who escaped from jail there Sunday, has not yet been apprehended.

Simon Indicted Again.

A. A. Simon, who farms near Echo and who has a penchant for getting in trouble, was indicted by the last grand jury on a charge of pointing a gun at another man. He came up today and entered a plea of not guilty and gave bonds. Recently Simon stood trial on a charge of arson.

Carter Reappointed.

C. H. Carter has received notice from Albert B. Ridgway, secretary of the state bar association, that he has been reappointed by Judge A. S. Bennett, president of the association, as a member of the examining committee. Others appointed by Judge Bennett include John M. Gearin, H. G. Platt, James B. Kerr and Oscar Hyster. The committeemen serve without pay.

Has Withdrawn Petition.

Mrs. Grace Turner, who yesterday petitioned the court to permit her to draw $30 a month from the money her husband, Elmer Turner, has on deposit in the American National Bank, today decided to withdraw the petition. Last evening she received a letter from her husband asking her to join him, and she greatly regrets the misunderstanding which resulted in the filing of the petition. She will leave in a few days to join her husband.

Suit Over Auto.

The jury at press time was out in the case of Emery & Glese vs. J. L. Stork, a Hermiston case that arose over the sale of a second hand auto by the plaintiff to the defendant. The defendant gave his note and chattel mortgage but never accepted the auto. The plaintiff is trying to collect on the note but the defendant contends that the plaintiffs never delivered the car and hence gave no consideration for the note. W. J. Warner acted for the plaintiffs and L. A. Esteb for the defendant.

Open's Architect's Office.

Raymond W. Hatch, who has been representing Tourtellotte & Hummel, architects and as such supervised the building of the Hotel Pendleton and other structures here including the new Rice residence and the Athens high school, has announced that hereafter he will be in business for himself, with an office in the Despain building. He will also continue to represent Tourtellotte & Hummel on any business they have in this section. Mr. Hatch is a graduate of the university of Pennsylvania and has had 13 years experience as an architect.

Appointments Criticized.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Bitter criticism of the appointment of Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States steel corporation and George W. Perkins, formerly a member of the Morgan company, to the municipal committee to investigate the unemployed situation and the high cost of living, was voiced by Amos Pinchot in a letter to Mayor Mitchell.

"There is danger," said Pinchot, "that the average citizen will interpret the selections as paralleling the action of Porfirio Diaz in appointing distinguished bandits to lead Mexico City's police force. Though Gary and Perkins, succeeded well in limiting the production and opportunity of labor and in keeping up the cost of living, it seems doubtful whether the public will conclude they will be equally successful when called upon to increase the opportunity for labor and reduce the cost of living."

TO VOTE AGAIN ON RUM IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—California will vote again on Nov. 7, 1918, on a proposed constitutional amendment that would banish liquor, its sale, manufacture and consumption, from California. Prohibition forces are undismayed by their defeat at the state election and believe they will be victorious two years hence. Every section of the state and practically all of its prohibition interests will be represented at a conference at Fresno February 25, at which the proposed amendment will be framed. Lieut. Gov. A. J. Wallace is the chairman of a committee in charge of the conference.

SPECIAL SESSION TO REVISE TAX LAWS

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 13.—The Virginia legislature assembled in special session today, upon call by Gov. Stuart. The only business to be revised completely the tax laws of the "Old Dominion."

Woodcraft Dance Friday Night. Everybody invited to the big W. O. W. dance next Friday night in Moose hall. United Orchestra. Admission 50c.—Adv.

MARSANS IN DEMAND.

Armando Marsans, the hard hitting Cuban outfielder, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds and now a member of the St. Louis Reds, who was in great demand before he jumped to the independent organization. It has just been revealed that both Boston and New York were trying to arrange a deal for the services of Marsans when the Cuban decided to quit organized ball.

The Optician is not a Tradesman

33 states are now recognizing him as a professional man, including Oregon. In all of these states he must go before the State Board of Optometry and pass a rigid examination, the same as the M. D. or the Dentist. The oculist takes no such examination but merely practices on his medical certificate, which does not signify that he knows anything about Optics except in a general way, for hardly any of the Medical Schools teach Optics. The Medical Eye Specialist, so-called, is generally a man who has made a failure of the general practice of medicine and then styled himself an oculist and moved to some new community and started to practice on the eye.

The Optician is the real specialist in the science of fitting and grinding glasses, and is the one to see if you want to be properly fitted.

Dale Rothwell, O. D.

EXCLUSIVE OPTICIAN, Phone 609, American National Bank Building, Up Stairs.

Oculists and Opticians,

An Oculist is an M. D. possessing special knowledge for the examination and treatment of the eyes with glasses, surgery, and medicine.

An Optician is a TRADESMAN whose business is to grind glasses, make and adjust frames and fill prescriptions for glasses as a drug-gill fills prescriptions for medicines.

The Governor of Ohio when vetoing the Optometry Bill says: "It is beyond question that the eye is so connected with the nervous and general system that the subject of impaired or poor vision cannot properly be considered as though it were a separate and independent function."

It is an absurdity to subject so delicate and important an organ as an eye to the commercial ideas of a TRADESMAN.

Our system of eye testing is too complicated for the NON-MEDICAL man, because it is a measure of the nerve power that controls the eye.

It is superior too, and more accurate than the system which requires the use of belladonnae or eye testing machines.
