LETTERS FOUND SHOW PLOT WAS HATCHED TO OUST GENERAL VILLA

DISORDERS REPORTED IN MEXICO CITY FOLLOWING GUTIERREZ'S FLIGHT.

Few Executions Have Been Made—Villa's Arrival in Capital Is Being Awaited—Result of Latest Developments May Be Independent Faction Led by Gutierrez.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—General Francisco Villa, commander-in-chief of the forces controlled by the convention in session at Mexico City, is due today to reach the capital to assist Colonel Roque Gonzalez Garza, selected by the convention as temporary executive to succeed General Eulalio Gutierrez.

Advices to this effect reached the state department, together with the information that, while the capital was "well protected and policed," there had been some executions for disorders and the populace was uneasy over the general situation.

The reasons for the departure of Gutierrez have not yet been explained to the state department, and the belief prevails that with the 5000 troops accompanying him from Mexico City and Generals Blanco and Robles, he is endeavoring either to join General Obregon and the Carranza element or intends to set up an independent faction.

Plot Revealed by Letters.

Light was thrown on the conduct of Gutierrez last night by the receipt here from Vera Cruz of the copies of letters said to have been exchanged between General Gutierrez and Generals Obregon and Candido Aguilar, dated January 7, approximately the time when Gutierrez announced to the convention that he was working on plans for the pacification of Mexico.

Briefly, his plan was said to be to unite with Generals Obregon and Aguilar in deposing General Villa from control of the convention forces, Eliseo Arredondo, head of the Carranza agency here, made public the text of the correspondence. The letter purporting to have been signed by General Gutierrez follows:

"Generals Alvaro Obregon and Candido Aguilar, wherever they may be: By virtue of a decision reached between Generals Robles, minister of war; Lucio Blanco, minister of the interior; Eugenio Aguirre Benavides, sub-secretary of war, and myself we believe it patriotic and honest to address you in order to point out the convenience towards this capital while we are formulating a plan of campaign against General Francisco Villa who we have always had the intention of separating entirely from the conventional army and from all the public matters of our country.

"Honest" Chiefs to Co-Operate.

"For your information I must tell you that delegates have arrived here from the states of Tamaulipas, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and San Luis Potosi and have stated that the forces which are operating in those states are willing to support the attitude which this government may assume against Villa and that few followers will second his policy of brigandage and desolation, because a number of honest chiefs of the northern division also are willing to cooperate with us.

"I desire to point out to you that it is our intention to occupy the principal public offices of our country, but to use all of our activities, good will and patriotism to the end that peace may be restored in the land. To attain this end we are endeavoring to accomplish the union of all the revolutionaries who have no exclusively personal ambitions, but who are animated by the common desire to save our country from anarchy and ruin.

"I trust that as soon as this communication reaches your hands you will give me a reply which I have no doubt will be agreeable to our purposes. Your affectionate friend and colleague."

Obregon's Reply Unfavorable.

General Obregon's answer was quoted as follows:

"Puebla, Jan. 12, 1915.—General Eulalio Gutierrez—My dear friend and colleague: I have just received your communication of the 7th inst. in which your own name and the names of Generals Robles, Aguirre, Benavides and Blanco, you express the desire that our advance toward Mexico City should be suspended until you begin your campaign against Villa and the men who follow him in his work of brigandage and desolation.

"I am pleased to see that you have come to understand the justice of the fight we have waged from the beginning against the Villista faction, knowing that the worst crime that our history could record would be to enter into compromises with men who only serve as specimens of monstrosity, and you must now recall with pain that one of the strongest reasons we had as honest men to undertake this new fight was that you, disregarding the counsel of your friends, nullified our last efforts to avoid it by appointing Villa chief of operations.

"I cannot arrest any of the military operations I am carrying into effect at this moment because this would be equivalent to betraying my brothers in arms, who in different parts of the republic are fighting against the Villista reaction, among whom is your brother, who has the honor of having substituted the sacred interests of his country.

"Whenever you, by your deed, declare war against Villa and his followers and place yourself in the position that every honest Mexican should hold at this time, I shall do everything in my power, as I have done in the past, to re-establish peace in our country, which is deserving of a better lot.

"But if you continue to pursue your ambiguous policy of vacillation and weakness, permitting the country to be dragged to desolation and ruin, I do not believe this struggle should be stopped, because the welfare of our country hangs on its decision. Our lives are of small significance in such a scale; the consciousness of having performed our duty alone should satisfy us.

Answer Is Final.

"I trust that when you have become convinced of the error which your letter clearly indicates you have discovered, that you will not hesitate in assuming the attitude that honesty demands of you. I desire to inform you that I will not answer any further communications from you as long as you remain in league with the Villista faction. Affectionate greetings. (Signed) "ALVARO OBREGON."

According to the Carranza agency, these letters were taken when Jose Rodriguez, Lieutenant-Colonel Aguirre Escobar and Felipe Contreras, messengers of General Gutierrez, recently were arrested while en route to Obregon's headquarters. Other documents found on their persons were said to include a copy of a manifesto which it is alleged General Gutierrez promised to publish if Generals Obregon and Aguilar accepted his proposals. This manifesto would have accused both Villa and Zapata of criminal conduct and have deposed them from their commands.

Enrique C. Lorentz, Washington representative of Villa, said he had no information as yet concerning the change in administration in Mexico City but expected official advices today clarifying the situation.

Brother of Dead Held.

BEAVERTON, Ore., Jan. 18.—John Hoyer who was held outside the limits of Beaverton with his brother Joseph to have died Thursday night, probably from excessive use of alcohol, is believed to have been the victim of foul play.

The coroner examined the body and notified Sheriff Reeves, of Hillsboro, who took Joseph Hoyer to Hillsboro, to sober him up in an endeavor to obtain a clear statement from him concerning his brother's death.

Coroner Barrett found that the skull of John Hoyer was fractured. The two brothers, it is reported, began to drink to excess at Christmas and were on a prolonged debauch. The coroner will hold an inquest.

BOY OR GIRL? Great Question!
This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a splendid influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming motherhood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses usually looked forward to with such concern. There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and this of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women. You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. It has helped a host of mothers to a complete recovery. It is prepared only by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., 301 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. "TIZ" For Tender, Puffed-up, Burning, Calloused Feet and Corns.

"Sure I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, aching feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

Paul Lawler... William Stowell

Harriett Nottor

The genius for acting of Eugenie Besserer makes "The Game of Life," aside from its pictorial power as a melodrama, exceedingly vital in its psychological aspects and gives unusual values as a motion picture.

Robin Hale, a mushy multi-millionaire, is addicted to strong drink and it finally dawns upon him that he must either give up whiskey, or his hold on life; so he concludes upon an original plan—to abandon the haunts of men, take himself off to an uninhabited island and live the life of a recluse for a time, out in the open, next to nature. He is in love with Cleo, but she is a high-spirited young woman, and while she likes the millions, she dislikes the mere man possessor. Consequently, the sodden Hale hardly staggers out of her presence before natty Paul Lawler nimbly steps in and appears to have her heart and hand. Lawler, who had pretended to be Hale's best friend, urged upon him the advisability of going away and overcoming the drink habit.

Robert Hale, together with his false friend and others, sails away on his private yacht for his lonely home in the far-off islands of the sea. There he is comfortably marooned and supplied with fire-arms, so that he can live if necessary by his own efforts upon the island, which has wild goats and the usual tropical fauna.

His yacht, on the return trip, founders and all hands perish except Paul Lawler, who escapes with the chart of the island marking Hale's location and so he comes joyfully back to the waiting arms of Cleo.

Time is passing, and in the interim, Hale's island is destroyed by an extinct volcano that becomes active and a great seismic disturbance sinks it into the sea. Hale escapes in a boat with only the bare necessities of life, and happily lands upon another island where he now fights for bare existence. A passing ship observes the destruction of Hale's island, the captain tells the story of it, it finds its way into the columns of a paper and the guilty pair charter a yacht to visit the site of the island to make doubly sure of the death of Hale. Fate pursues them like a nemesis, their own ship catches fire, and they, in a frail boat, after experiencing the tortures of thirst and starvation, are tossed ashore upon the island where Hale found refuge. He finds the pair unconscious and carries them to his own rough retreat. There he discovers incriminating documents upon the man—and the marriage license upon the woman, together with newspaper clippings which show the dark drift of their criminal intention.

The third reel opens as Hale revives the pair—the members of the triangle come face to face, and the guilty ones see the horror of their fate in the grim and grizzled half wild man clad only in skins, as he accuses them of their perfidy. Hale mercifully allows them living space on his island, but divides the territory. They, however, begin to plot and plan, and one day steal into his section unobserved and try to brain him with a club. A terrific struggle ensues in which the two men battle on the edge of a cliff and both go over. Lawler falls to the bottom and is instantly killed. Cleo, in endeavoring to help him, falls after him and finds the same death. Hale, immersed to hardships, wonderfully rugged and athletic, survives his injuries and lies on his lonely island.

Away off in the big city, the little foster-sister one day, in looking over her possessions, comes upon the rag-doll and finds the missing chart stuffed into it, revealing the location of Hale. She immediately charters a steamer and rushes to the rescue. She is accompanied by faithful legal friends; eventually they find Hale, who has made a man of himself, restore him to his rightful estate, so that he is triumphant in the game of life.

Three Bills Recommended.

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 19.—The house committee on revision of the laws considered a number of bills and decided to recommend for passage the Huston bill amending the legal code, the Littlefield bill combining indictments against accused persons and the Clatsop delegation's bills providing a bounty on seals. It held up temporarily action on Schuebel's bill to abolish the office of state immigration agent, pending action on a similar bill in the senate.
