Newsy Notes of Pendleton

High School Student Ill. Vernal Bachman, prominent student and debater of the high school, is confined to his home with a severe illness. He had an attack of heart trouble yesterday.

Prepare Exhibit for shipment. The Pendleton high school exhibit of furniture and soft pillows made in the manual training and domestic arts departments is being prepared for shipment to the San Francisco fair today. The exhibits attracted much attention and complimentary comment while it was on exhibit in the windows of the Peoples Warehouse yesterday.

Billy Gaffney in Trouble. Billy Gaffney, lightweight pugilist who made Pendleton his headquarters for two ears and fought a number of battles here, is in trouble in Martinez, Contra Costa county, California. According to information received by Chief of Police Kearney, he is alleged to have beaten a Greek badly and a charge of assault has been filed against him. The prosecuting attorney wrote for his record while here. Gaffney was never in trouble while in Pendleton, having conducted himself the most orderly of any of the pugilists who made this city their headquarters a few years ago.

Crockatt Wins More Honors. Peter Crockatt, prominent Pendleton high school graduate who is now attending the University of Oregon, has won more honors at that institution.

Here from Wallowa Co. Jay Dobbins, prominent sheepman of Wallowa county and head of the bank at Enterprise and W. R. Holmes, cashier of that institution, have been here today on a business trip.

Realty Transfers. Blanche Bloomfield and Barney Bloomfield to Edith Hughes forty acres in section 7, township 1, S. R. 35; Carrie F. Smith and F. M. Smith to Alta Smith lots 14 and 15, block 6, original town of Pilot Rock.

P. H. S. vs. Union Thursday. Thursday evening in the high school gymnasium the P. H. S. basketball team will meet the quintet representing Union high school in the first interscholastic match in Pendleton this year. The Union boys are a fast bunch, according to reports, and will put up a hard scrap.

Take Prisoners to Pen. Sheriff Taylor and George Strand left on No. 17 today for Salem with four prisoners in custody and under sentence to the penitentiary. The prisoners were Gus Carlson, Charles Grain and John Francis, confessed burglars, and Ed Kilgore, confessed cattle thief.

Legislative Bills on File. Through arrangements with Senator J. N. Burgess and Rep. Roy W. Rittner, a file of all the senate and house bills introduced this session of the legislature will be maintained at the local public library. All the house bills introduced to date are now here and the senate bills will be secured. Parties desiring to inform themselves concerning any of the provisions of the measures introduced may do so by calling at the library in the city hall.

Young Despain is Sentenced. Ralph (Barney) Despain, arrested several months ago on a charge of burglarizing the home of J. E. Montgomery and indicted by the grand jury on a charge of larceny from a dwelling, this morning entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary from two to five years. However, Judge Phelps is staying the execution of the sentence for the time being while he considers the advisability of paroling the young man. Before passing sentence, he administered some fatherly advice to the defendant.

Milton Youth Robs Employer. Deputy Sheriff West of Freewater last evening brought down to the county jail Hersey Durkin, a 19 year old high school boy who is charged with breaking into the Slover store at which he was employed during mornings and evenings. It is charged that on Saturday night he entered the store and stole $255 from the safe. When confronted he confessed his crime at once and returned all of the money except 99 cents. The young man is said to be a good student and deserving. His employer had been helping him through high school and intended putting him through Whitman college, it is said.

Kangaroo Court is Lively. The case on trial in the circuit court has been productive of good revenue for the inmates of the county jail. Their kangaroo court has been grinding overtime. The activity started when A. Buckley, assistant superintendent of the O. V. R. & N. satisfied his curiosity to see the inside of the jail and was promptly pounced upon by the prisoners, tried, found guilty of breaking into jail and fined a dollar. To turn the laugh, Buckley connived until he got some of his friends, including Master Mechanic Bill Dresler, inside. It cost them a dollar apiece but they all declared the entertainment worth the money.

Can't Work Game Longer. Lacy Luton, mixed-blood Indian woman of unsavory reputation, has a child a little over two years old which has, in the past, proven a friend in need to her. Once she was given a jail sentence and used the child as an excuse to get out. Chief Kearney, moved with pity for the child without a mother's care, released the woman. Since then Anna Chapman, grandmother of the child, has used the infant as a protector at times when she has been in danger of arrest for drunkenness. The mother was given another jail sentence yesterday and immediately the child was brought in from the reservation. The mother pleaded to be let out so that she could care for the little one, but Chief Kearney won't be worked with the sympathy stuff again. He found the child in the custody of Ed Chapman and Toy Toy, took it to its mother in jail and let her care for it until Supt. Swartzlander sent for it. It will be placed in the Catholic mission school until the mother is released.

Case in Court Interesting. The case now on trial in the circuit court is proving an interesting and hard fought one. The peculiarity of the case lies in the fact that there are really two cases in one. The O. V. R. & N. Co. is the defendant in both suits. In one Emry & Gies,

Hermiston livery men who owned the horses and equipment lost in a fire last August, and the Sun Insurance Co. with which the liverymen were insured, are the plaintiffs and in the other, Jap Moore, owner of the livery building, and the National Insurance Co. in which Mr. Moore was insured, are the plaintiffs. Inasmuch as the testimony in both cases are practically the same, the attorneys agreed by stipulation to allow the same jury to pass on both. The plaintiffs claim the fire was caused by sparks from a passing engine and for the loss of the livery equipment $3492 is asked and for the loss of the building $2999. The company denies any responsibility for the fire. At noon today the plaintiffs had not quite completed submitting their testimony.

BERT JERARD COMPOSES THE MUSIC FOR COLLEGE SONG

LOCAL BOY GETS HONOR FOR WRITING ACCEPTABLE ALMA MATER TUNE. Bert Jerard, a Pendleton boy, bids fair to perpetuate his name on the campus of the University of Oregon as the result of a musical composition he has written for an "alma mater" song.

In the fall of 1913 the student body of that institution conducted a campaign for a distinctive song for the college and in a contest that took in alumni and undergraduates, Leland Hendricks was awarded the prize of $25. However, he wrote merely the words and ever since then attempts have been made to put fit suitable music. All attempts were pronounced failures by the students who wanted something "singable and whistleable."

This year young Jerard, whose ability to coax music out of a piano is well known here, was induced to throw his talent into the breach. His composition is pronounced by Hendricks, the author of the song, as "the real stuff" and has appeal to the fancy of all the students who have heard it. It is said to be classical enough to meet the requirements for an "alma mater" song and catchy enough to make it popular. A $25 prize was offered by the student body for the best music but young Jerard has refused to accept any monetary reward for his labors.

Duck-Baiting Here Fought. SALEM, Ore., Jan. 19.—Declaring that the sportsmen of Portland virtually have a monopoly on duck-shooting, Senator Dimmick, of Clackamas county, introduced a bill to prevent the baiting of these and other wild fowls in lakes and ponds.

That the bill and others to prevent the use of certain kinds of guns in hunting ducks will cause one of the big fights of the session is assured. Efforts have been made at numerous sessions to put an end to the duck-baiting ponds and lakes, but never has sentiment among the country members been so strong in favor of the proposal as at this session.

HELIX FARMER DEAD.

(Continued from page one.) where he remained until 1859, returning then to Kansas. In 1860 he started across the plains for Walla Walla valley but was attracted to the gold fields of California. He was a member of the same party as J. L. Stubblefield. In 1861 he came north to Oregon, stopping at McMinnville and attending the college there for a time. During the year 1862 he turned his attention to freighting with ox teams from Wallula to Lewiston and later from The Dalles to the Idaho mines. In the fall of 1863 he went to Salem and remained there seven years. He then crossed the mountains, locating near Prineville and engaging in the stock business for eight years. In 1871 he came to Umatilla county, taking up a homestead near Helix which he cultivated and farmed until 1905 when he retired from active life and moved to Walla Walla. He farmed in all about 800 acres.

Oculists, Opticians and Optometrists

OPTOMETRIST is another name for a retail optician whose business is to grind lenses and adjust frames; this work naturally belongs to the jewelry business. There are many medical side shows or drugless methods of healing; all faith cures viz. O. D.'s, D. O.'s, M. T. D.'s and M. C.'s all masquerading under the title of Doctor, knowing well that it is the immortal mind they are treating. Legalised, for the accommodation of those who wish to pay for their belief. Yet in the last analysis they must admit that the MULE has no faith in the Veterinary Surgeon but he cures him just the same. About one person in every ten wearing glasses never require their glasses changed, except for reading, because their glasses were correct. The more difficult cases have a pocket full of glasses, none of which are satisfactory. Who is to blame for this? Is it the educated physician who has specialized in the highest branches of medical science? Or is it the TRADESMAN who without preliminary training or experience in treating disease, which an Oculist must have, presumes to diagnose disease and judge which eyes need glasses and which need treatment.

"The Education of Mr. Pipp"

STARRING THE GREAT COMEDIAN DIGBY BELL

In an American Comedy taken from Chas. Dana Gibson's famous sketches of a Pittsburg Millionaire's family breaking into "Society"

THE CAST. Digby Bell played Mr. Pipp for three years on the legitimate stage making one of his greatest successes in that part. As Gibson's drawings all portray a certain tall type of woman some difficulty was encountered in getting the right ones for the camera production. Two of Gibson's models were secured, Miss Edna Brun, who plays Julia Pipp and Miss Belle Daube who plays Ida Pipp. Miss Kate Jepson has the part of Mrs. Pipp. The same American localities used by Gibson for backgrounds have also been used by the camera men, among them being Durland's Riding Academy, Central Park and other Manhattan points. THE STORY. Mrs. Pipp and daughters are trying hard to break into society after Mr. Pipp becomes wealthy. Mrs. Pipp engages a bogus French nobleman to teach herself and daughters the French language. He proves to be a crook. The elder daughter falls in love with her riding teacher at Durland's Academy. The family make a trip to England and while crossing the ocean the bogus nobleman left behind raises the amount of a check given him by Mr. Pipp and starts for Europe. Between English society, the crooks and Pinkerton men the Pipp's are kept busy. Mr. Pipp as the mild mannered man has loads of trouble that carry many a laugh.
