Germany to Aid Relief. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—American Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been informed by the German government that there will be no interference with ships, even under British or French flags, plying between ports of the United States and Holland with Belgian relief supplies, provided they carry no other cargo.

Great Britain already has suggested that relief ships, to obtain prompt and safe conduct through the sea war zone, should have aboard no general cargo and the Belgian relief committee in this country is preparing to have its supplies concentrated at New York or other ports so as to handle them as full shiploads.

The German requirement is that the relief ships shall carry a certificate showing that she has aboard only clothing and food for Belgium and that the vessel master shall give his word of honor to refrain from assisting Germany's enemies. Moreover, the German ambassador at Washington must be advised of all sailing dates.

Further assurance that the German military authorities in Belgium will not requisition food supplies in the future was cabled to the state department today by Minister Whitlock at Brussels.

Roads for Rural Delivery. SALEM, Ore., Jan. 28.—Representative Dillard introduced a bill in the house making it mandatory upon county courts to maintain, repair and keep open for travel all county roads which are on the routes of rural free delivery carriers. In case of failure to do this, any resident along such roads is authorized to compel it by proper action.

FIGHTING THE GERMANS WITH "KULTUR"

That the French artilleryman has a sense of humor is shown by this picture of a French gun in operation during the shelling of Steimbach. The Frenchmen have given the big piece of ordnance the name of "Kultur."

Stories From the War Zone

BY ED D. KEEN. (United States Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Jan. 2.—(By Mail to New York.)—George Bernard Shaw's contention that England and France have not done as much as they might for Belgium has received endorsement from an unexpected quarter. The British socialist party has just directed a sharp letter to Premier Asquith in which they make the same charge. It is understood that similar action is to be taken by the French socialists, and there is a possibility that the question of Belgium will soon again be one of the supreme side issues of the war.

In the letter, which was drafted by the executive committee of the British socialist party the following declarations are made: "Over six millions of people in Belgium are on the verge of starvation, and the outlook for the civil population is terrible indeed. The measures taken for their relief rest upon the slenderest foundation. In saying this we do not cast the slightest reflection upon the Americans who are working so strenuously to ameliorate the horrors of the situation."

"Monsieur Emile Royer, deputy for Teyrnal, says in the 'Independence Belge' of the 22nd of this month: 'A friend writes to me from Belgium that, in spite of all the devotion in the work of organizing relief, beggars increase in numbers every day. There are districts where nine-tenths are wholly dependent upon public charity, and the officials there see clearly that they will soon be without resources, and unable to feed anyone. The civil population of Belgium sends us messages warning us of their distressed condition and imploring aid.'

"Truly," as M. Royer says, "a whole nation is dying!"

"In these circumstances, sir, we feel it to be our duty to ask what steps are being taken to mitigate this stupendous disaster. We submit most strongly that the people of Great Britain should know that their government is using every possible means of preventing the wholesale sacrifice of non-combatants and women and children—the altar of military necessity."

"It should be possible for the German administration in Belgium to give facilities for the free distribution of food under neutral auspices, no matter from what sources those supplies are obtained, and to guarantee that such a distribution shall be made to and enjoyed by the Belgian civil population. We urge, therefore, most strongly that the Allies approach the German government without delay in order to secure such distribution of food to the Belgian people."

"An attempt in this direction should be made at once, and should include a request for a guarantee that all hindrances to industrial activity in Belgium, in the way of fines and impositions should be immediately removed."

"That there are difficulties in the way we readily admit. But they are not insuperable. If the German administration in Belgium refuses these requests, then the allies would be justified in making an immediate appeal to all the neutral nations."

"The mute anguish of a nation of whose independence and neutrality this country has constituted itself the guardian, appeals to us with pathetic helplessness, and we are convinced that the whole civilized world will approve and applaud whatever steps are taken to give effect to the suggestion outlined above."

Here is a translation of a letter received by the editor of the Indianan from an Indian officer at the front in acknowledgment of presents made to his troops by the brigadier-general's wife.

"Salutation! 'I write the following lines to thank Mrs. Cockson, Sahiba Brigadier General hoping that you will make me grateful by publishing this in your newspaper, which is full of pearls."

"We the faithful and devoted officers of the 36th Rissallah, Jacob's Horse, heartily thank the said lady for the gifts presented to us on the battlefield."

"At the same time we pray that Almighty God may keep us firm in our service and devotion to our superior officers and the government whose salt we eat."

"Also we desire by all means to the last breath to seek honor in arms by fighting and vanquishing the enemies of the Empire with our relentless swords."

"Being on field service and having little time, I end my letter on these words: the presents give a living proof of the genuine sympathy the said lady cherishes for us, the people of India."

"A thousand thanks to her and prayers for success and victory. Your well-wisher, 'Malik Khan Muhammad Khan, 'Woordie Major, 36th Jacob's Horse."

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

SAYS WE MUST KEEP FEET DRY, AVOID EXPOSURE AND EAT LESS MEAT.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine.

The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and clogging through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

INSURANCE A CREDIT FACTOR The relation of insurance to bank credits has become a lively subject in commercial banking. No prudent banker would extend large credit to a merchant whose stock of goods was not indemnified against possible loss by fire, notwithstanding the possibilities of loss are very remote. The chance is less than one in a hundred on any building, yet every person protects their property by fire insurance.
