TAX FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PROJECTS FAVORED

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 29.—In his biennial report to the governor, just completed, State Engineer Lewis recommends the addition of a constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of state bonds to the extent of 2 per cent of the assessed valuation of the state for the construction of large irrigation, drainage and water power projects, which are too big for private capital to swing.

The organizing of some department for the leasing of kelp beds along the Oregon shore is recommended.

It is also recommended that the present water power tax be abolished and a small annual license fee be substituted.

It is urged that the hydrographic and topographic map work be continued.

Kolberg Not Destroyed

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The report that the German cruiser Kolberg was sunk

In the battle in the North sea last Sunday is untrue. All the German ships with the exception of the Blucher have returned.

Regarding the Kolberg Vice-Admiral Beatty, commander of the British fleet in the North sea fight, stated that German prisoners reported that the Kolberg was sunk. The British Admiralty in the statements regarding the fight also referred to the Kolberg as "reported sunk."

Civilian Must Not Shoot

NANCY, France, Feb. 2.—(via Paris Jan. 31.)—The Mayor of a large township in the vicinity of Nancy has been suspended from office for a fortnight for shooting at a German aeroplane as it was flying over his town.

In taking this measure the higher authorities of Nancy held that a civilian had no right to act as a combatant as by so doing he only brought upon the heads of the civilian population severe reprisals.

Activities are Outlined by Secretary

A series of "rabbit drives" in the Cold Spring neighborhood for the purpose of reducing the jackrabbit pest. We supplied one mile of women wire field fence for the purpose and attended to the shipment of about a ton of the rabbits to Portland where they were distributed gratis to deserving needy people. Highly appreciative acknowledgment was received from the manager of the charitable organization through whom the distribution was made.

Meetings and addresses by members of the Oregon Social Hygiene society. The meeting "for men" was held in the rooms of the association and was attended by as many as could be accommodated.

A meeting was addressed by Mr. Thomas McCook, national good roads advocate, on the subject of a plan for promotion of a national system of hard surface highways.

Improving of East Court street with hard surface pavement from Vincent street to the city limits.

Representatives were sent to attend the meeting of the state tax commission at Salem.

A Chaataqua entertainment, which continued for one week, and while it did not yield any surplus of receipts, proved highly interesting and entertaining to all who attended.

Successful termination of efforts to get additional money for the building of a federal building for a postoffice and U. S. court house.

Move to have Portland selected as one of the "regional bank cities" under the new national bank and currency law.

An effort by the officers of the Paradise Irrigation District to have the reclamation service include the Umatilla quadrangle in the territory hydrographically surveyed.

Reception and entertainment of the members of Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, when their excursion train stopped here in the course of its annual tour. A miniature round up show was staged, for the visitors' entertainment which proved highly entertaining and successful.

The first annual convention of the Oregon Cattle & Horse Raisers' Association was held in the rooms of this association and the visitors in attendance were entertained with refreshments and music.

An address, at the high school, by Dr. C. J. Bushnell, president of Pacific University.

An address, at the high school, by Dr. C. F. Hodge of the University of Oregon on the subject of the fly pest and methods of abating it.

The action by congress on the subject of the tolls to be charged for passage of traffic through the Panama canal.

The annual Caledonian picnic at Athena. The association cooperated with the managers and entertained a party of Portland participants on its way to Athena and also promoted attendance by Pendleton people.

The matter of the irrigation of the Umatilla reservation lands, east of Pendleton.

Building of permanent highway bridges across the Umatilla river at Thorn Hollow and Mission.

Wedding gifts consisting of Pendleton woolen milla bath robes were sent to each of the daughters of President Wilson on the occasions of their marriages.

Popular subscription of funds for the relief of West Webb street residents.

Concerts by the Pendleton band during summer evenings. A fund was raised and concerts given once each week throughout the summer.

An excursion to visit the annual stock show at Union, Oregon.

A proposition by the Knights of Pythias lodge to erect a three story building and lease the second story to this association for use as club and meeting rooms.

The management of the "Happy Canyon" entertainment during the evenings of the Round-up, which proved exceedingly popular and was quite the "hit" of this year's activities.

The construction of a public natatorium in Round-up park. Our committee is actively engaged in this work and its members are devoting their best efforts and a vast amount of their time toward the success of the enterprise.

A representative from this organization appeared before the city council and urged that action be taken looking to lowering the insurance rates on account of the installation of better facilities for fire protection.

Representatives visited La Grande to attend a convention for the discussion of the location of the proposed national highway.

An excursion visited the Spokane interstate fair in a special car and made the big noise for attraction of visitors to the Round-up.

A similar excursion visited the Morrow county fair at Heppner.

A committee canvassed the town and secured the closing of practically all the business houses so that clerks and proprietors might attend the performances of the Round-up.

STENGEL TO REMAIN WITH THE DODGERS

Charles "Casey" Stengel, the hard hitting comedian outfielder of the Brooklyn National League team, who has quieted the rumors concerning his alleged intention of jumping to the Federal league by announcing that he signed a contract to continue as a Dodger early in the fall. Stengel's long distance smashes as well as his comical antics on the diamond have made him popular with the fans all around the National league circuit.

House Offers Aid

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 2.—The house passed H. B. 124, by Representative Forbes of Crook, appropriating $2000 to be paid Mrs. Ida E. Lundberg for the death of her husband, who was killed while working on the Tumalo irrigation project.

Aches and Pains of Rheumatism are not permanently, but only temporarily, relieved by external remedies. Why not use an internal remedy—Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acidity of the blood on which rheumatism depends and cures the disease?—Adv.

LANE HAS ORIGINAL VIEWS REGARDING THE QUESTION OF LIQUOR

SENATOR FROM OREGON OPPOSES ARGUMENTS FROM ALASKAN EXPERIENCE.

Other Views Are Presented to Correspondent at Washington—In the Frozen North No One Is Allowed to Go Out on the Trail Carrying Whiskey—It's Dangerous.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH.
(Written for the United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Harry Lane of Oregon, who made the original and interesting discovery that U. S. senators are just plain muffs like the rest of male humans, has offered a solution for the blind pig problem, insofar as it relates to gentlemen from other states finding liquor in states that have gone dry. His experience in Alaska furnished the inspiration.

"For the benefit of those states," he declared, "I would suggest they adopt the method of the Eskimos to protect their food supplies from the ever hungry malamute dog, which is to cache it upon a platform about 20 feet above the ground. By doing this they would compel enterprising and thirsty gentlemen from other states to seek their solace in the open air by means of a ladder."

Alaska, by the way, has furnished Senator Lane with considerable argument against liquor.

"In the interior of Alaska," he said, "where the temperature goes down to 70 and 80 below zero they do not allow anyone to get out upon a long trip and take whiskey with him. If a man is met on the trail and it is ascertained he has whiskey with him it is taken away from him and the bottles broken. They do not do that out of any feeling of kindness toward him particularly, but they have found, and from experience, that it is necessary to do so, for the reason that under the influence of liquor a man on the trail will take chances that he otherwise would not take. If his feet or hands become frozen, the whole expedition is tied up taking care of him. So they go right through his pack and if he has whiskey or alcohol they take it away from him and break the bottle."

Jim Crow Cars Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A bill to separate whites and negroes on passenger vehicles in the District of Columbia was favorably reported to the house.

The committee report says there is constant friction between the races on streetcars and that the proposed law would add to the comfort of each.

Opportunity's Knock

When the national manufacturer advertises his product in this newspaper opportunity knocks at the door of every retailer who carries the goods. The manufacturer's advertising creates a definite demand. It inspires people with a desire to see the goods. These people will be attracted to the store that shows them. They will be customers not only for the manufacturer's goods, but also customers for the storekeeper's goods. The modern storekeeper is alert to take advantage of the manufacturer's newspaper advertising.

In the slang of the day—"He boosts when opportunity knocks."
