NEAR-KIPLING MEETS DEATH AS SHRAPNEL BURSTS OVER BRITISH

CAPTAIN MILES HAD WON DISTINCTION THROUGH LETTERS FROM FRONT.

His Descriptions of Fighting Were Remarkable and Gave Vivid Picture of the Life of the English Soldier in the Trenches—Tells of Truce at Christmas.

BY P. M. SARR.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON Jan. 20.—(By Mail to New York.)—England lost a near-Kipling when a German shrapnel burst over the British advanced line of trenches in the vicinity of Ypres and numbered among its victims Captain Robert Patrick Miles, of the Shropshire Light Infantry, attached to the Irish Rifles. Of all the letters from the front printed in the English newspapers none had breathed such a spirit of optimism nor portrayed with such humor and intimate detail the life in the trenches as those of this officer. Hitherto they had appeared anonymously. The last he wrote was a description of the amazing Christmas truce, arranged by the soldiers themselves after the pope had failed to induce the belligerent government officials to enter into such an agreement. It did not reach England until two weeks after his death.

"We are having the most extraordinary Christmas Day imaginable," wrote Captain Miles. "A sort of unarranged and quite unauthorized but perfectly understood and scrupulously observed truce exists between us and our friends in front. A regular soldiers' peace! The thing started last night soon after dusk when the Germans started shouting 'Merry Christmas, Englishmen!' to us. Of course, our fellows shouted back and presently large numbers of both sides had left their trenches unarmed and met in the debatable, shot-riddled, no-man's land between the lines.

"Here the agreement—all on their own—came to be made that we should not fire at each other until after midnight tonight. There was a half-moon and the ground was covered with hoar-frost, and one could see thin shapes wandering about or standing round in groups. English and Germans, where it would have been death to have shown a whicker or a gun or so before. The men were all fraternizing in the middle (we naturally did not allow them too close to our line) and swapped cigarettes and lies in the utmost goodfellowship. Not a shot was fired all night.

"Today I took the opportunity of getting a close view of their wire entanglements and upon my word I am sorry I did. I was not half so enthusiastic about charging them as I was. There is to start with about 20 feet of low wire to stumble through, then (on reflection I had better not go into details about this or the censor will sit up and take notice). The details are revolting. Anyway there are several rows of trenches, each of them swept from the flanks by machine guns, and each with a horrid looking sort of exaggerated criss-cross of barbed wire in front of it. Charging that little lot under heavy fire will be a very pleasant business. Confound the fellow that invented barbed wire. At the best, one will tear one's own pair of trousers and at the worst one will get hung up in it while they shoot you in the more tender portions of your anatomy.

"The only real consolation I got out of my trip was that their trenches seem to be muddier, if possible, than ours. I was disappointed to see such a cheery lot of fellows, as I had hoped to see a collection of living skeletons half covered with ragged and rusted tin canisters in uniforms. The funny thing is that while we are fraternizing here, swapping bully beef for bread, and 'fags' for the most execrable cigars (perhaps the gift of a box of these is a symptom of hate), one can hear the dull booming of machine guns and a certain amount of rifle fire going on in the same old sweet way on our right and left. We neither of us know if our respective artillery behind will respect our little arrangement and abstain from taking advantage of what must be a very tempting mark, but hope for the best as we are all mixed up in the middle.

NOTICES

Postponement of the annual Library Ball from New Year's night to the middle of February did not in any way mar the success of that event. Given last evening in the Eagle-Woodman hall it was attended by society folk to the number of two hundred and fifty or more and it proved one of the most enjoyable ball yet given by the ladies of the library board and the women's clubs of the city. So much pleasure did the guests take out of it in fact that at the midnight hour the orchestra was retained for another hour, and when one o'clock arrived, there were still many couples floating about the big room.

The hall was very prettily but not elaborately decorated for the occasion, festoons of red, dangling hearts of the same color suggesting the Valentine season. Many beautiful gowns were worn by the ladies present and, altogether, the scene was a very gay one.

In the balcony sherbet was served between the dances, while on the first landing coffee and sandwiches were served, a number of prominent club women presiding in turns at the tables.

Frontrunners of the ball who stood in line to receive the guests included Mrs. Lina H. Sturges, Mrs. James John, Sr., Mrs. George Hartman, Jr., Mrs. E. T. Wade, Miss Sabra L. Frank and Miss Lois Crisswell. Frank Frazier acted as floor manager during the evening. Music was furnished by the United Orchestra and was one of the pleasing features of the evening.

Complimenting Miss Helen Schroeder of Portland, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Cooper, Miss Evelyn Kinman presided last evening over a prettily appointed dinner party. Covers were laid for eight, the guests being Miss Schroeder, Miss Brennan, Miss O'Connell, Miss Elsie H. binson, Miss Lota Mentzer, Miss Ethel Kennedy, Miss Mildred Allen and Mrs. Walter Adams.

The monthly meeting of the parent-teacher association of the Hawthorne school will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the school building, according to an announcement of the president.

Mrs. and Mrs. Linden Vincent of Athena were here last evening to attend the Library Ball.

The Christian Endeavor Society will entertain with a Valentine party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Callison, 915 East Railroad, tomorrow evening, at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all. A silver offering will be taken.

Mrs. H. G. Trull came over yesterday from La Grande on a brief visit.

Invitations are out for a novel "overall and sunbonnet" party to be given next Tuesday evening by Miss Lola Rogers to a number of her friends.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true we know from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful relief, how it seemed to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system, such helps as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future.

In a little book for such women these points are more thoroughly brought out and a copy will be mailed to anyone who will send us their name and address. "Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores and highly recommended for its timely usefulness, its safety and the real help it affords. Ask for it at the store and write us for the book.
