HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS PLAY WALLA WALLA HERE TONIGHT

LOCAL FEMINE BASKETBALL PLAYERS ARE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

"Now let's finish the job," is the slogan of Pendleton high in regard to the coming game with Walla Walla's basketball girls which is to occur tonight in the gymnasium of the local high school. The local boys beat the Walla Walla team last Friday in this city by the score of 27-20, and it is the desire of the students and the determination of the girls' team to treat the visiting girls in the same manner if not a little worse tonight.

The chances for a complete victory for the local girls is very bright, according to Coach Livingston's statement today, and considering the fact that the Pendleton team was only beaten by the Walla Walla squad by the score of 12-11, when playing on a foreign floor it is very probable that the locals will carry off a good score tonight with the advantage of their own floor and local rooters.

It is expected however that the game tonight will be one of the hardest to be fought by feminine teams on the local floor this season. This game in connection with a preliminary game between the freshmen and sophomore teams of the local high school is expected to fill out an interesting evening of athletic entertainment.

The lineup for the local team will be as follows: Lois Hampton, center; Clara McDonald, side center; Arline McMonies and Vivian Casey, guards; LaVelle Rugg and Alta Mentzer, forwards. The substitutes will be Grace Rugg, Vera Temple and Margaret Straughn. The game will commence at 7:30.

"In fact I thought Pendleton was larger than Walla Walla."

Lecture Planned.
The story of the immortal friendship of Damon and Pythias will be told to an audience in the Oregon theatre on the night of March 20 by George W. Mr. Penniman is coming to the northwest under the auspices of the educational department of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias. He is a past supreme representative of that fraternal organization which is founded upon the tradition of the friendship of Damon and Pythias. He has made two trips to the historic city of Syracuse, Sicily taking views of scenes connected with the story of the enduring friendship and his lecture will be illustrated by these views. The local lodge is paying his expenses here and will send out invitations to friends to attend the lecture.

Road Policy Is Changed.
PASCO, Wash., Feb. 12.—The county commissioners made a radical change in the road-making policy of this county at their meeting. The county has been divided into several different road districts with an overseer in each district. Under the new plan the country will be a single district and the county engineer will be road supervisor. It is expected to result in a saving of money and better roads for the county.

New Trades Are Sought.
LONDON, Feb. 12.—One of the most interesting employment experiments in England is a trade training school for grown-up men, enabling them to shift from a trade temporarily stagnated owing to the war into one whose skilled labor is urgently needed. The experiment is being carried out by the Prince of Wales Relief Fund, and if successful may be indefinitely extended.

The furniture trade was one of the most adversely affected by the war, and a large number of skilled furniture workers have since become ill-fated leather workers on military equipment.

The school was opened December 7. In the first five weeks of its existence it enrolled 139 men, 84 of whom have already "graduated" and obtained employment as leather fitters.

More than half the men placed have been over 40 years old, and the report of the first five weeks' work in the school says that men over 40, "and indeed over 50," are quite as quick and adaptable as the younger men.

German Exports Hopeful.
COLOGNE, Feb. 12.—The German exports of chemical products, in the manufacture of which that country undoubtedly led the world, have been virtually entirely cut off since the outbreak of hostilities. Last year they attained the enormous figure of $250,000,000.

German experts in this trade, however, express no fear as to the future. They are of opinion that the competition which has started in other countries will after the cessation of the war tend only to sharpen the edge of the inventiveness of German chemists, who will, they say, be able to make further chemical discoveries which will place them in a position at least equal to what which they have hitherto held.

Woman 112 Is Dead.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Bertha Porter, a negro, said to be the oldest woman in California, died at the age of 112.

CLEVELAND FEARS THE "JITNEY BUS"

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—Cleveland fears the "jitney bus."

Cleveland city officials and street railway officials alike are on record today against the new auto-bus competition to street cars because it means the elimination of Cleveland's well known three cent street car fare.

The city regulates the street cars. If the earnings of the Cleveland allway company are over a stipulated amount, fares remain three cents. If they fall below, the fare reverts to five cents.

The popularity of the "jitney bus" sweeping east from the Pacific coast, already has invaded Ohio. Two plans to install the "jitneys" in Cincinnati are now being worked out. One promoter is said to have ordered fifty with the trailers. Cleveland, it is feared, is next. The congested street car traffic here has already caused plans to be drawn for a subway system, would be shared with the "jitney buses" and would cut down the earnings of the railway company to such an extent that five cent fare would be a permanent infliction.

The Science of Medicine is Progressive

Judging from the trouble and expense people have in getting satisfactory glasses, there is room for improvement in glass fitting. A glass that was apparently alright at first but later requires changing, is absolute proof that it never was correct.

We use a method of glass fitting that will straighten cross eyes without a surgical operation; the same principles will give you a glass that will never require changing, except for reading from the ages of 45 to 55.

Only one of the various systems can make the above statement good. We are the only refractonist in Oregon using this system.

THE STORY OF NAT GOODWIN'S BIG SUCCESS, "A GILDED FOOL"

Chauncey Short, the "gilded fool" of Henry Guy Carlton's drama "A Gilded Fool," Nat Goodwin's memorable success, is a typical young westerner, of good family and decent instincts, with too much money for his own good. Nobody takes him seriously. He himself, in fact, regards himself as a joke and life as a laughing matter by no means to be taken seriously. His life runs along in this way till he meets Margaret Ruthven, the charming daughter of Matthew Ruthven, a wealthy banker of the old school of "city men."

Mr. Ruthven, a conservative, stuffy starchy man of affairs, regards with contempt, not unmixed with disgust, the useless, worthless, young Short, who so far, has displayed not the slightest inclination to forsake his clubs, cards and coaching parties. Margaret Ruthven however has awakened ambition in Short's really vigorous nature. He determines to "brace up" and prove that when put to it he is as good and brisk a business man as any of Mr. Ruthven's "old, crusted school."

Ruthven stares the old banker in the face and disgrace also in the latter's days of an honorable, respected business career. The blow is too much for him to bear up under and he is unable to assemble the loose ends of his disorganized business. It is then that the Gilded Fool comes to the rescue. With ready business acumen and energy he routs Ruthven's foes and exposes those who have plotted against the banker. Fighting with his back to the wall, he displays the true mettle of which he is made. By dint of his ability alone the day is saved and Ruthven's honor is safe.
