Margaret Mason Writes of Newest Things in strictly Up-to-Date Fashion—Skirts Will be Voluminous, Reverting to the Styles of Days Long Ago—Other Notes.

BY MARGARET MASON, (Written for the United Press.) The newest silhouette for Spring is called the "cloche"; it's quite the thing. "Cloche" means a bell, in French you see.

And that is fitting as can be. For what more logical, pray tell, can one find than a bell shaped bell?

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The belles of 1915 certainly bid fair to be ringers for the belles of olden days. With the tight bodice effects and full, full skirts, some even daring a bit of crinoline, the old fashions have now become the new ones. Become is quite the right word, too, for these quaintly feminine fashions are becoming to almost every type of femininity. So much so, that, given the lure of full ruffled skirts, a snug silken bodice and one of these adorably frivolous and inconsequent tiny round hats perched jauntily tabogganing her brow, most any belle may be sure of a ring before the month of brides and roses.

The finish of these voluminous skirts around the hem has become of paramount importance. Because its brevity has brought the hem more within the line of vision it must needs be enhanced and embellished. A perfectly good plain hem is no longer considered quite smart. There is a pronounced tendency toward a pointed or scalloped edge. A well rounded scallop is perhaps the happiest finish in juxtaposition to a well rounded hem. One of the most charmingly finished skirts in the Fifth Avenue window displays is an evening model of Nile green tulle. The skirt is really a sort of two in one effect, for the outer skirt is very full and ankle length with a ten inch inset of scalloped Nile green net just above its scalloped silk hem. Under this outer skirt an underskirt a trifle less full and a trifle longer shows a bewitching trimming of tiny silk ruching and pale pink rose buds through the net transparency. The skirt is set high on the empire bodice with a tiny ruching and an inset of the net in the waist reveals a hint of the pink rose buds beneath. Tiny puffs sleeves of the silk finish this green gem of a gown.

Another favorite skirt finish is the box plaited frill which lends itself beautifully to the desired flaring effect. The plaited frills are more effective on the silk afternoon dresses and for street gowns while the scallops round off daintier evening and dancing frocks.

There seems to be a perfect passion for peplums. Without an accompanying pleatum the tight bodice looks sort of half baked and under done as 'twere. The little square tabs of the wall of Troy pattern make a very picturesque and artistic pleatum but the man who put the real pep in peplum is the designer of the boxplaid, one which flares out with dashing insouciance from the snug waist line. These boxplaid peplums are particularly crisp and flared in taffeta or faille and the maid apparently herself in a full skirt finished with a box plaited flounce with her trig waist flaring out into one of these boxplaited peplum frills to match readily conveys the impression that not all the pep is in the peplum after all.

There is a Simian tendency in the jacket line again for the monkey-jacket appears on many of the new costumes in many styles and guises. In some circles, usually the bull ring, the monkey jacket is known as the belero, but by another name it would still be as short and sweet.

There is a new long sleeve that widens out gradually with a flare over the hand that by its very novelty is crowding the long tightly buttoned cuffs for favor. It is far more becoming to the average hand than the tight cuff which shows up rasy knuckles and voracity digits with uncompromising severity.

Where the flaring sleeves tend to soften and veil the hands the flaring skirts have the opposite effect on the feet. Hence a well shod toesie is a necessity of which the full flaring skirt is the mother.

Since the laced high boots found such favor this winter it is only the natural outcome that the Oxford should be revived for spring. It is being shown with different colored cloth and buckskin tops and patent kid vamps or in all over black patent kid and gunmetal, bronze kid, grey suede or anything you fancy to boot.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I. PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R.I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y. PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass. SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT STORE WINS AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Feb. 25.—A municipal "department store" working two days for charity was today voted an established success here. As a result of Cincinnati's poor are wearing twenty-five cent shoes, five-cent coats, twenty-five-cent overcoats, fifty-cent suits of clothes and other apparel which they avoided earlier by buying and paying for like ordinary folks in ordinary department stores.

is conducted by the city's "bundle day committee. Worn clothing is gathered from the residence districts it is then taken to "municipal work-shops" where "unemployed" men and women are paid a decent wage to mend and put it in presentable condition. The next step is the "department store." Garments are sold at minimum prices to the needy. But none but the needy need apply for "permits to buy" are issued after due investigation of each applicant. The municipal "department store" profited $137.61 or an average of fourteen cents on each garment in three days. This money was used to pay $1472.18 to "unemployed menders" in the "municipal work shop." The balance represented "cash on hand" for future operation.

Highway Route Upheld. ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 25.—The effort of the former county court, acting with the state highway commission, to change the route of the Columbia highway along Clatsop plains has been defeated. A stipulation was filed in the circuit court in the case of Frank W. Poole and others against Clatsop county, an action for a review of the proceedings of the county court in laying out the route for a road between here and Seaside.

The stipulation asked for a decree declaring that an error in the proceedings existed, as alleged, and directing that the order of the county court, made April 14, 1914, attempting to establish a new highway be decreed void. Under this decree the highway will remain in its present location.

association, was present and gave a very helpful talk upon the work accomplished by the cooperation of the parents and teachers on the north side of the river. The meeting yesterday was for business only, though the third grade contributed a song that was enjoyed by all. There were about twenty-eight present.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements.

This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.
