Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Phay Funeral Tomorrow.

It was announced this afternoon that the funeral of the late Douglas Phay will be held at the Christian church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

School Janitor Very Ill.

James Smith, janitor of the east end school, is seriously ill at his home. He has been suffering from a chronic ailment for some time but several days ago took a severe cold and is now threatened with pneumonia.

Prisoners to Portland.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Dave Fuller left this morning with Hugh McConnell, wanted for giving liquor to Indians, and Charley Shaplish, wanted for introducing liquor on the reservation, taking them to the federal jail in Portland.

Clay for Tennis Court.

The members of the Pendleton tennis club have sent to Weston to secure a carload of clay from the brickyards there for use on the courts at Round-up Park. The clay will be spread over the surface and when rolled smooth and allowed to dry, will make a floor almost as fast as concrete.

Auto Kills Dog.

While rounding the corner of Main and Webb streets this afternoon, a Ford auto, driver unknown, ran over and killed a shepherd dog which was identified by its license tag as belonging to Miss Ida McAtee. Witnesses state that the accident was unavoidable on the part of the driver.

Truck Tips Over.

One of the back wheels of a Pendland Bros. transfer truck this afternoon sank to the hub when it struck a spot on Alta street near the L. O. O. F. hall where an excavation had been made a few weeks ago in repairing the sewer. The wagon turned on its side and the load and driver rolled into the street.

55 Years in the County.

Harl Stewart, veteran everyman of this city, pretty near qualifies as being the oldest living resident of Umatilla county. Yesterday completed his 55th year in this county, he having first come here in March, 1860. He settled on Birch creek at that time and has been in the county practically ever since.

To Prepare for Bout.

Eddie Shannon, lightweight pugilist of Seattle, arrived here today and will go into training at once for his bout with Bobby Evans of Portland, which will be put on here this month. Although the date has not been set, it is thought the bout will be pulled off at a date near St. Patrick's day. Both boys will have training quarters in the Judd building.

Student's Mother Here.

Mrs. O. J. Backman of Nampa, Idaho, arrived in the city this morning, where she will probably remain for a few weeks with her son, Vernal Backman, one of the high school students, who has been subject to a good deal of ill-health during the past month. Mrs. Backman has been visiting with her daughter at Ogden, Utah, during the past month and has decided to spend a few weeks in Pendleton with her son. Mrs. Backman may be persuaded to remain in Pendleton until the close of the school year.

Experiments in Foods.

Under the direction of Prof. Livingston of the science department of the high school, the chemistry students have been making some interesting experiments along the pure food line. Some French peas were tested Friday for copper coloring, and nearly every student in the class is carrying about some article, as a key or a knife, which has been very effectively plated with copper taken from the peas, by a chemical process. This does not speak well for French peas but it shows the practical side of chemistry as a school subject. Further experiments will be made along this line later in the season.

Sees for Support.

Alleging that her husband, Frank J. Beale, has broken up their home and refused longer to live with her or to support her, Ozeta M. Beale has filed a complaint in the circuit court asking that he be required to support her. Judge Phelps has issued an order restraining him from disposing of his property and requiring him to deposit $400 for attorney fees and cost of litigation and $150 for witnesses. Mrs. Beale alleges that her husband has converted all of his property into cash and has between $25,000 and $30,000. The couple were married January 15, 1913, and live at Athena. H. I. Watta, W. M. Peterson and Rader and Barker are her attorneys.

Buncoed Blind Farmer.

John Walsh returned to Pendleton yesterday after an extended absence and at once fell into his old ways. Meeting a farmer by the name of Chapman, who is blind, he persuaded him that he was an old friend and soon borrowed six dollars. When Mr. Chapman learned that he had been buncoed, he reported the matter to the police. Walsh was arrested and this morning got ten days on the street gang for vagrancy. Another old time offender, Tom Lair, also returned after an absence of six years and tried to coax money out of acquaintances upon the pretext that he had a job and needed an outfit. He was also "vagged" and got five days. The session of the police court this morning was an extremely busy one, eleven offenders being in court. The street gang has, in consequence, reached rather large proportions.

Stanfield Bought Sheep.—Miles Lee of this city, one of the foremost sheepmen in eastern Oregon, has concluded a deal for the sale of 6000 ewes to Robert N. Stanfield of Stanfield, Umatilla county, representative of his county in the last legislature and one of the biggest sheepmen in the whole northwest. The sheep were sold at $7 a head, a top price, the transaction involving the large sum of $42,000. Mr. Lee stated yesterday that he will begin making shipments within a few days, as the terms of the sale call for delivery by the 15th of the month.—Baker Herald.

Pacifist Holds Faith

LONDON, March 5.—Felix Moschelles, pioneer pacifist, president of the International Arbitration Association and senior member of the International Peace Bureau, has just celebrated his 82d birthday. In an interview with the press on this occasion he expresses his views on the future of the peace movement as follows:

"I still meet people who think the piling up of huge armaments is the only way of keeping peace, although one would imagine that six months of war would have killed that superstition."

"Nations must learn to do as individuals, business firms and even large communities have learned to do—to go not to war but to law. This is the chief demand of the peace movement and the present calamity offers the greatest justification for it in history."

"It would be cruel to say it serves you right; but the only satisfactory thing in the lookout is that the multitudes have learned in sorrow to prize peace as they never did before. They have learned we were right when we said that warfare does not pay and that it is no longer the glorious sport we read of in romances. We believe democracy will never stand a repetition of these ills. The very soldiers and sailors will rejoice at their liberation and insist that, for the general safety, a new type of statecraft must be established, aiming for the supreme happiness of the masses."

104 Special Trains Put On

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—One hundred and four special trains to handle an expected influx of 35,000 persons from other states within the next few days have been put on by the Southern Pacific Railroad. It was announced. From now until August all Eastern limited and express trains will be handled in from one to three extra sections as a result of the heavy traffic to the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Railroad officials estimate that between 700,000 and 800,000 people will come to the 550 conventions.

"Upper Ten and Lower Five" by Messrs. Lawrence and Roundley. Several good sporting numbers were introduced, among them a four round bout between Bobby Evans, champion Portland lightweight, and Buddy Stevens, a local Eagle, a friendly sparring match for points between "turtle doves" introduced by John Dyer and Tom Smart, and which resulted in a decision for the Smart bird, and a four round boxing match between two boys of twelve, Delbert Dodler of Pendleton and Marman Geissel of Athena. The Pendleton boy won after a hot scrap.
One of the best features of the program was lighting crayon sketching by Herbert McGinn, a local boy who has a wonderful skill in depicting well known personages with the charcoal. Other numbers of the program included a recitation of "Hot-ler Joe" by Thomas J. Means and a recitation of "The Shooting of Dan McGraw" by R. K. Lawrence.

TOMORROW SUNDAY Jules Eckert Goodman's FAMOUS PLAY "MOTHER" FEATURING EMMA DUNN

In this play Miss Dunn makes her debut into the motion picture world. She was the star in the play when it was on the stage and with "Mother" her name has always been associated. So ideal is the visualization that Miss Dunn gives of Mrs. Weherell in "Mother" that she has become known as the finest interpreter of Mothers visible on the current stage. In "Mother" Miss Dunn has given the stage and the screen a most memorable characterization.
