MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT IS PROVING POPULAR BRANCH IN SCHOOLS.

Total of 211 Pieces of Furniture Have Been Finished—Every Imaginable Article Has Been Made by Skilful Hands—No Necessary to Make Work Compulsory.

"What is this, a high school or a furniture factory?"

The question was asked by a stranger who was making an inspection of the manual training department of the high school and who had been permitted to gaze into the store rooms where the finished products of the skill of the students were arranged.

The question was a natural tribute to the accomplishment of young boys under capable instruction. It was natural because in the store room were elegant pieces of furniture of every description, mahogany library tables, oak writing desks, beautiful four-post beds, cedar chests, dressing tables, dining room sets, great upholstered chairs, tea wagon, umbrella stands, music racks, porch swings, library lamps and in fact most anything in the line of furniture that a house would require. The whole display would be a revelation to any resident of the community, and many would be the man of today who would gaze upon this handiwork and sigh to think that in his school days such things were unknown and undreamed of.

A total of 211 pieces of furniture is the result of the work of the 92 high school boys and 16 men in the night school so far this year. Of this number the high school boys have made 179 and the night school students 34. Besides this cabinet work classes have been carried on by R. E. Chloupek and his assistant, Clarence Tubbs, in woodturning, joinery, mechanical drawing and architectural drawing in the high school while down in the grades instruction in woodwork has been given to the boys of the sixth, seventh and eighth and in paper and cardboard construction, weaving and elementary bookbinding to a host of children in the grades from the first to the fifth.

The manual training department is teaching the boys to be useful with their hands while they are developing their minds and is so popular that it isn't necessary to make it compulsory. The following tabulation of the furniture made by the students will give some idea of the results of the training, but no complete idea can be obtained without seeing the finished work.

JITNEYS REACH THE AMERICAN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Washington soon is to have jitneys. To meet the problems their coming will offer, the district commissioners have been thinking hard. Licenses will be required and auto attempting to operate without licenses will be classed as "jitneys" and so treated. Office swings will be laid out and the buses required to follow them. It is believed the coming of the jitneys will reduce present congestion on many street railway lines.

The British Columbia government has just completed the purchase of a train load of oats and wheat in Alberta, for seed in British Columbia. WOMAN AND TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED AS HOLDUPS

BAKER STAGE ROBBERY RESULTS IN APPREHENSION OF SUSPECTS. BAKER, Ore., April 9.—Molly Burnett and Joe Carlson were arrested at Miller and William Halder, known as "Sour Dough Bill," was formally arrested in the Huntington jail soon afterward, charged with the holdup of the Rain-bow-Durkee stake and the theft of $1000 in gold bullion in Rye Valley Monday morning.

The bullion was found in a badger hole about a mile from the scene of the holdup by Sheriff Anderson. All three prisoners are in the Baker county jail. Carlson and the woman being brought in by automobile by Price Anderson, sheriff, and Robert Nelson, deputy sheriff. Halder came by train. Halder has practically confessed, it is said and has implicated the other two.

Mining Man Aids Officers. The arrest at Miller was made by Sheriff Anderson, Deputy Nelson and H. R. Lee, superintendent of the Rainbow mine, from which the gold was being shipped. Neither Carlson nor the woman resisted, although the woman loudly denied her guilt. The two lived together in a dilapidated cabin that has been notorious for being a "shady place," and the woman, known as "Old Mel," has previously been arrested for bootlegging.

She is about 40 years old and shows the effect of hard life in the hills. Carlson is about 20 years old and looks far from being a bold highwayman, but more like a youth that could be easily led into trouble. Halder is widely known here as a frequenter of gambling houses and was arrested four years ago on suspicion of knowledge of the murder of Jack McCullough during a holdup of McCullough's saloon in Haines.

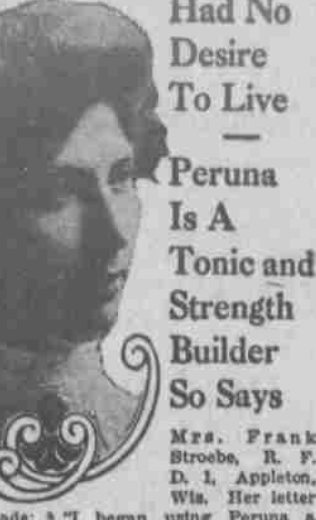

Baldness Old As Moses. PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Interesting features of the ancient Mosaic laws were detailed by Professor Camden M. Coburn, of Allegheny college, in a lecture here on "Moses and His Times." Recent discoveries by archaeologists, he declared, have confirmed the Biblical account of Moses as copies of more ancient laws," said Dr. Coburn, "but the nucleus of his law was so valuable that

A Nervous Wreck

Had No Desire To Live — Peruna Is A Tonic and Strength Builder So Says Mrs. Frank Strobe, R. F. D. 1, Appleton, Wis. Her letter reads: "I began using Peruna a few months ago when my health and strength were all gone, and I was nothing but a nervous wreck. Could not sleep, eat or rest properly, and felt no desire to live. "Three bottles of Peruna made me look at life in a different light, as I began to regain my lost strength. While my recovery took nearly four months, at the end of that time I was better than I ever had been before. I had a splendid color and never weighed more in my life. "I certainly think Peruna is without a rival as a tonic and strength builder and it has my endorsement." Mr. Charles Brown, R. R. 4, Box 79, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "I have tried many different remedies, but have found that Peruna is the greatest tonic on earth, and a perfect system builder."

found it have been built the laws of the civilized world today. One of the old Mosaic laws fixed the salary of a surgeon. If he succeeded in an operation, he received a certain sum; if he failed, his right arm was cut off. "Moses could have written his laws in any one of six languages," Dr. Coburn added. "The doctors of the day were as wise as ours. They wrote their prescriptions in an ancient tongue that nobody else could understand. I've seen prescriptions for making the hair grow. They were printed on papyrus and the fact that one was a good one was proved by a note written beside it in another hand, 'It does the work, too.'"
