INSURANCE IN A MEAT MARKET

Yes it's an innovation in Pendleton—and we have introduced it. "Insurance" here means getting—always—the same standard quality. If you received one order that pleased you immensely you know that you can "repeat" without the risk of disappointment. It's PEMECO quality that makes this possible.

Power Pleasure Profit

BUICK

The Valve-in-Head Motor Car!

The thing that makes Buick motor cars stand out is power. And power is the most desirable attribute that any automobile can possess. The Buick Valve-in-Head motor insures power at all times. There is a greater reserve of power in Buick cars than in any other automobile, regardless of size or price.

WHAT POWER MEANS TO THE MOTORIST.

When we say the Buick has great power motorists interpret our statement to mean that the Buick is merely a great hill climber. They instantly associate power with hills. True the Buick is a great hill climber, but Buick power means far more than ability to climb hills.

We realize that thousands of motorists never have any very big hills to climb.

The things that makes an automobile good or bad is power or the lack of it. And here is the thought we wish to impress upon your minds:

You do not need hills to realize the vast importance of automobile power!

Power is what gives punch to your motor car. It is the life of your car. Any old motor will make a car go, even up steep hills. But Buick power makes it go with a vim, an eagerness that is almost human. The Buick Valve-in-Head motor is a thing alive and active. It is a force that is volcanic.

The difference between the Buick Valve-in-Head motor and an "L" or "T" head motor is the difference between a school boy with spring fever and a two-year-old colt on a sharp November morning. To the boy, action is a painful process. To the colt it is a thing of joy.

WHY THE BUICK HAS GREAT POWER.

The Buick motor develops great power because it is properly designed. In all other types of motors the arrangement of the explosion chambers does not permit all the force generated to be hurled against the piston head.

In "L" and "T" type motors there are valve pockets adjoining the cylinder, and opening into it. When the explosion takes place in these types of motors some of the force is hurled into these side pockets, where it does no good.

In the Buick Valve-in-Head motor there are no valve pockets. The valves are in the head of the cylinder. Hence all the force generated in the explosion is hurled directly against the piston head, forcing it downward against the crank shaft.

This, briefly, is the engineering principle upon which the whole success of the Buick Motor Company rests. We know it is the right principle, because in our own tests, with all three types of motors, we have proven time and time again that the Buick Valve-in-Head motor will develop from 15 to 20 per cent more power than the other types of motors.

Buick power is just as apparent when the car is coasting along on the smooth boulevard as when climbing a hill. Buick power means more than merely the ability to climb hills. It means mechanical efficiency.
