WAR ODDITIES.

Why The War Was Started. SHANGHAI, May 4.—A summary of events leading up to the war that is somewhat more correct in its facts than in its rhetoric and grammar is published in L'Echo de Chine, a French Journal edited by a young Chinaman.

"Now there is great battle in Europe. This began because the Prince of Austria went to Serbia with his wife. One man of Serbia killed him. Austria was angry, and so wrote Serbia. Germany writes letter to Austria. 'I will help you.' Russia writes letter to Serbia. 'I will help you.' France did not want to fight, but they got ready their soldiers. Germany writes letter to France. 'You don't get ready, or I will fight you in nine hours.' Germany to fight them, pass Belgium. Belgium say, 'I am a country! I am not a road.' And Belgium write letter to England about Germany, to help them. 'So England help Belgium.'"

Kaiser Opposes Press Interviews. AMSTERDAM, May 4.—The German Emperor recently told a Spanish diplomat that he is distinctly opposed to German journalism's importation of the "chasing-after-interviews habit".

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING. If the statement at a New York assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health.

Allen, managers of the film play, "The Birth of a Nation," appeared in court today for a hearing to decide whether or not the portrayal of the film may continue. The national association for the advancement of the colored people has invoked the law in an effort to bar the sensational dramatization of "The Clansman."

GERMAN SUBMARINE U-28

The photograph shows the German submarine U-28, one of the "small" under-sea boats which are causing so much trouble to English shipping.

The later type submarines are much longer but the U-28 has already showed her destructive capacity. The photograph was taken from the deck of the Batavier V, by photographer Wallace of the International News Service, who was a passenger, on his way from England to the firing line in France. The Batavier V was captured by a German submarine and the U-28 was sighted as the German craft and its prize were making toward Zeebrugge, Belgium. The German naval base.

HOGS, CATTLE LITTLE HIGHER

(Courtesy Monday's Journal.) PORTLAND, Ore.—Hogs reached $8.10 in the North Portland yards and not only made up for the deficiency in the bidding and the lower prices of the latter part of last week, but actually forced a further gain of a nickel over the extreme figures of the season to date reached early last week.

Buyers from outside points were out in force at the opening of the week's trade at North Portland today. Run of swine over Sunday totaled 1620 head compared with 1027 head last week, but even this increase failed to check the buying enthusiasm of killers. Bulk of topsy stuff went around $8.05, but one load was good enough to force a bid of $8.10 early in the game.

General hog market range: Best light $8.00-$8.10 Medium light 7.85-$7.99 Good to heavy 7.50-$7.75 Rough and heavy 7.00-$7.35

Cattle Market Jumps. Market for cattle was easily 10 to 15c higher than last week in the North Portland yards today. Run of cattle over Sunday totaled but 798 head compared with 1226 head a week ago, and killers' ideas reflected this condition by forcing the higher figures. Bidding for the better class stuff was aggressive at the opening of the market. Some pulp fed stuff was sold in the steer division at $7.90, and the average run of good stuff sold readily around $7.45-$7.50. Light stuff, as during recent days, continued in best request.

General cattle market range: Select pulp fed steers $7.55-$7.90 Best hay fed steers 7.35-$7.50 Good to choice 7.15-$7.25 Ordinary to fair 6.00-$6.75 Best cows 6.50-$6.80 Good to prime 6.25-$6.40 Select calves 7.50-$8.00 Fancy bulls 5.50-$6.00 Ordinary bulls 4.00-$5.00

MILLFEED TAKES STRONGER TONE

(Monday's Market.) PORTLAND, Ore.—Millfeed prices are showing considerable strength in the Pacific northwest and in some quarters values are $1 a ton higher. This, however, is not as yet general in the local market, although the trade is inclined to look for a climb. Most milling interests here today were quoting $25.50 for bran and $27.50 for shorts. This is about 50c a ton higher than the general list last week. On Puget sound the advance is $1 a ton.

Flour market is steady, although quiet. In spots foreign business is indicated but the movement is not general. Prices on patent are being held rather steady. While there is still more or less talk of an early advance no action has yet been taken.

Wheat market is a nominal affair. It is still firmer in the interior than at tide water, but is generally good for spot at all points.

It was a very dull session today on the Portland Merchants Exchange, no sales being made in any line. Spot wheat bids were 1-2c lower for bluestem and 1-3c higher for club, but were unchanged for others.

Spot oats bids were unchanged, but barley was down 50c a ton. Millets on the exchange showed an advance of 50c in bids for spot bran, but no change was made for shorts.

RAINS CAUSE A BREAK IN WHEAT

(Monday's Report.) CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat closed 3-4@ 1 3-4c lower. Scattered rains in the grain belt caused an irregular opening in the wheat pit today.

July wheat was 1c lower at the outset. September was up 1-3c and May started with a decline of 1-4c.

The large commission houses sold and foreigners were also good sellers. Later in the trading there was a general advance in wheat prices, based on a good buying movement.

Values in the corn trade opened slightly lower. The demand was very light. Sentiment was mixed. Oats was irregular. Provisions were steady.

SOUTHERNER SUES CONVICT FOR $55,000

Major Edward G. Pendleton, wealthy southerner, who has homes in Palm Beach, Atlantic City, and Savannah, has gone into court in Camden, N. J., and begun suit against Charley Gondorf, now a convict in Sing Sing, and until within a few months the king of wire tappers, for $55,000 which he says the Gondorf gang in New York stole from him three years ago. The major was very frank in telling how he lost the money. He has learned that Gondorf had real estate in Atlantic City, which was recently placed in the name of his wife.

How much money Gondorf and his pals stole during their career of many years in New York may never be known. The sum easily ran into the millions. Their "suckers" were always very wealthy men, and they scorned a "trick" that netted them less than $5000. During much of this time certain police officials received 15 per cent of the proceeds of the robberies. It was in January, 1912, when Major Pendleton, while stopping in the Waldorf-Astoria, fell into the hands of the Gondorf swindlers. The swindle, which Major Pendleton thought would prove a safe investment, was the most palpable of all the schemes in the history of wiretapping. He caught the yarn that a high official of the telegraph company who was about to leave the company, would give the
