A very quiet but pretty wedding occurred at St. Mary's Catholic Church yesterday at 9 a. m., the contracting parties being George F. Webb and Marlan M. Love. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Love of Portland, Oregon, and has been head of the commercial department of Pendleton high school for two years. Mr. Webb comes from Cleveland, Ohio, and during his short residence here has made many friends by his upright character and industry. After the ceremony the bridal party enjoyed a sumptuous wedding breakfast at their home on Water street where they will go housekeeping immediately. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.
Mrs. Charles W. Meighan arrived today from Ogden, Utah, for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hagley, Jr.

along those lines. He was assured by the board and by every member thereof that the board did not restrict him in any way in his religious preferences; that anything tending toward the moral uplift should be encouraged in the schools; that so far as the board was concerned he was at liberty to occupy the pulpit of any church as often as he desired and that if he saw fit to do so he could devote his sermon to the cause of prohibition; that his views upon the prohibition question were his own and that there was no restriction against his expressing his attitude at any time or at any place, except that it seemed inadvisable that he should permit himself to go about the county campaigning from the stump upon any political or economic question, at a time when he was representing the whole community as superintendent of schools.
To this view he readily assented, and moreover agreed that his attitude has been at least ill-advised, and that the board was right.
The matter was thus supposedly settled, but the end was not yet. After a deliberation until the next day, Mr. Landers seemingly had a change of heart, for he informed the chairman of the board that his contract was defective, and tearing same into pieces, served notice that he was not in the employ of the district, and that if his services were required he would be obliged to pay him an additional salary for the year. A meeting of the board was called to consider this new phase of the matter.
A change could not be made at that time in the school year without effecting seriously the efficiency in the schools for the entire year. Therefore after talking the matter over with Mr. Landers it was agreed that his salary demands would be met, but that everything considered it would be understood between the board and the superintendent, that for the best interests of all concerned, Mr. Landers should take the remainder of the year in which to choose a new position, and that the board would as soon as deemed advisable select another superintendent.
It was thoroughly understood by the board and by Mr. Landers that he would not be an applicant for re-election. The arrangement was mutual and friendly. His new contract called for $2400 for 19 months' service whereas his old contract allowed him $2250 for 12 months' work.
It has been the custom of the board for a number of years to re-elect teachers or many of them who are leaving the schools so that without entering into a contract they could have the benefit of the employment in seeking a new position.
This custom was followed in Mr. Landers' case and in keeping with the understanding reached last fall his resignation was presented and accepted. Mr. Landers was not discharged on account of his stand on any moral question as has been claimed. His retirement was represented to us to be voluntary. He expressed his willingness to quit, and we felt that under all the circumstances he ought to be allowed to do so. Without going into details it may be said that for a long time prior to the year 1914, complaints had been made to the board touching the management of the schools. It was the policy of the board to support the superintendent and therefore these complaints were given no serious attention, yet it is well understood by old board members that for the last few years the board has considered the necessity of making a change.

There are numerous reasons entirely independent of the subjects of this statement why in the opinion of the school board it would be for the best interests of the Pendleton schools that this change be made. But that is another story and a further statement will be made when deemed necessary.
Our purpose at this time is to set before the people the plain facts concerning the two subjects over which so many misstatements have been made—religion and prohibition.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clean, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; if it is that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

SMALL DEFECTS OF THE EYE GROW TO GREAT ONES

Uncorrected errors of refraction are the cause of most eye trouble. Proper fitting glasses in time conserve your eyesight. There are tens of thousands who wait too long that would gladly pay any price for good eyesight. The best time to have your eyes fitted with glasses is when they first begin to fail. If you have any reason to believe that your eyes need attention it will pay you to come at once and have them thoroughly examined. I have nothing to do but fit and grind glasses and can refer you to pleased patrons by the hundred. My prices for glasses are not high.

BOARD'S STATEMENT

meetings would mean immediate expulsion from the school of the offending student.
Many Christian people who did not believe in the Bulgin style of religious service, took offense at the attitude of the superintendent and of course many parents who were without church affiliation, thought that religion should not be brought in this way into the public schools.
The school board ignored the protests of many representative citizens in the community and took no action except to say to Mr. Landers after the meetings had closed, that his intentions were good, but that bringing controversies of that kind into the school was not conducive to harmony.
Later, in the same year when the political campaign was on, the prohibition question was up, and Mr. Landers was sent out as a campaign speaker for the cause of prohibition. The time taken from the school work was probably not important because so far as we know his campaigning was done on Saturday and Sunday, but it brought about another controversy among the patrons of the schools whose views upon the prohibition question were not in accord.
Many complaints were made, and Mr. Landers was asked by a member of the board and in all kindness, if he did not think that it would be better to attend to school matters and leave the political prohibition question for others to discuss from the stump.
At a conference with board members Mr. Landers stated that he had been urged into the campaign against his better judgment, and that he told those who requested him to go (using his own words), "I feel that in representing the whole community I ought not to do that."
At this conference Mr. Landers was told of criticisms against him, and he offered to resign, but it was made plain to him that he need not retire on account of his political or religious views, nor on account of his activities
