VOICES

Miss Elma Munn entertained the young ladies of the Freda Seagrus Kei club last evening at her home on Lewis street. It was the last meeting of the year until the first Monday in September. During the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Many local people were shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Rose Block Bauer who passed away in Portland Sunday night. While but few local people were pupils of Mrs. Bauer, she nevertheless had a wide circle of acquaintances here and had visited here many times.

The Misses Rosa and Myrtle Ross will leave Wednesday for a three weeks' visit at the Ross ranch at Nye.

Miss Zella Thompson who has been attending the University of Washington, arrived home last evening.

An auto party comprising Mrs. E. J. Burke, Mrs. C. E. Nelson, Mrs. Fred Earl, Mrs. Mark Moorhouse and Mrs. L. G. Frazier will leave tomorrow for Bingham Springs to spend two or three days.

On Thursday evening a farewell reception will be given to Rev. Tolbert F. Weaver, retiring pastor of the Christian church. The affair will be held in the church and will be concluded with refreshment serving in the church basement. All members of the church and all friends of Mr. Weaver are invited to join in the reception which is arranged to show appreciation of his work while in charge of the local church.

Phillip Ludwell Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackson, was among those graduating from Princeton with honors today. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are in attendance at the commencement exercises.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES START ON VACATIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.—The summer vacation season for government clerks is on. Today the vanguard of the 40,000 government employees are on "leave," as their periods of vacations are popularly called. Each is entitled to 30 days leave, exclusive of Sundays, and most of them take it during the heated term. The vacation season proper begins June 1, but extends right up to New Year's day. Saturday half holidays are also being viewed with satisfaction, for three months the departments observing the rule of closing at 1 p. m. on Saturday.

German Gold Increased.
 BERLIN, June 5.—An official report on conditions in the German money market makes a comparison between the movement of the Reichsbank and those at the Banks of England and France.

According to this publication, the deposits and note circulation of the Bank of England when the war broke out were covered to the extent of 25.6 per cent with gold; but by the end of April the covering has depreciated to only 21.5 per cent. At the same time the deterioration at the Bank of France was from 51.4 to 29.9 per cent. On the other hand, the gold stock of the Reichsbank has so increased that it now covers a larger percentage of deposits and circulation than at the end of July, the figures having risen from 30.1 to 35 per cent at the end of April.

News print paper has been made by the forest service laboratory from 24 different woods, and a number compare favorably with standard spruce pulp paper.

Make it Easier For Baby in Summer

MANY OF THE HOT WEATHER TROUBLES CAN EASILY BE AVOIDED.

If the mother will see to it that the bowels are kept regular, much of the illness to which children are most susceptible during hot weather can be prevented.

A mild laxative, administered at regular intervals, will prove an excellent preventive of summer complaints that are caused by inactive bowels. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is excellent for children, being pleasant to the taste, gentle yet positive in action, and free from opiate or narcotic drug of any description. It acts naturally, without griping or other discomfort, and is altogether dependable.

The cleansing of the bowels will most effectively check an attack of diarrhoea by expelling the foreign matter and poisons that irritate and inflame the tissues.

In every home a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be on hand, ready for use when occasion requires. It costs only fifty cents a bottle and is sold in drug stores every where. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

BEGINNER TOLD HOW TO ACT BY ONE WHO KNOWS

NEW YORK, June 5.—"There is only one thing for the talented young actress to do when she is given a character part at the start of her career, and that is to play it as badly as she possibly can!"

That is the ultimatum that comes from Lucille Watson, comedienne of "Under Cover" at the Cort Theater, and she suggests that if you don't believe her, you are to cast your mind's eye back over her own career, which has been a terrific struggle against

"type parts," and imagine to yourself what would have happened if only she hadn't played her first "catty part" with all she had in her.

"If I had bungled that part, as I now see I should have, I would have had a little harder time getting the next one, but when I did get it, it would have been as different as possible from the one I had failed in."

"If the next one had been equally bad—merely different—I would have had to repeat my failure—but nobody takes the failures of young actresses very seriously. Any determined young woman who simply won't let go will be given chances—not important, but numerous."

"The thing for her to do is to wait till something comes to her that leads up, and then put all her power into it. She will have her success. Something a little better comes. Finally, almost before she knows it, she will have broadened out in her work—her opportunities will be varied—she will arrive at success. The golden rule is to get your big success late, not early."

"Do you ask me how many youngsters you could convince of that? The answer, briefly, is none. Bless their dear hearts, they will do anything that comes, and pour into it every shred of ability they have.

"Dear knows I did it myself. You'd have had a slim chance of dissuading me. There was, however, this much of an excuse for me, which I think most of the young actresses nowadays don't have—I had to work."

"I was so poor that I would have died of starvation. All of us were—all the girls I knew slept in little hall bedrooms, and ironed their own shirts, waists, and bunched together on the road, and all that. It was a real struggle to get on the stage, and stay on it when I was beginning—and that wasn't so long ago. Then years ago, it was the hardest kind of an uphill pull."

"Nowadays these sweet kiddies live with their mothers and fathers, and drive down to the theater in father's car, and have mother's maid come to the theater to change their home make-up. When they're ready to stop work, because they feel tired, they go abroad for vacations."

"The average young actress has wholly changed in type in the last years."

"The reason is, of course, that now women go to work because they want to work—they feel more self-respecting when they're at work, and I love them for it. Ten years ago we only worked because we had to."

"It's a little pathetic, though, isn't it? All the girls who have to work probably surpass in numbers those who had to work ten years ago. The only difference is that they can't get onto the stage. I wonder what is happening to them?"

is his job he is afraid of, not his pay. He knows he will get his weekly envelope as long as he lives. But Frank likes to work, and work hard. For 46 years he has put in a full day's labor every day of the year. He knows no other life and wants no other.

But he is nearly 70 years old and he knows that men of that age are not tolerated around modern shops. Only six months ago he was taken off the bench and put to doing odd jobs. Recently some of his fellow workmen have taken to suggesting casually to Frank that it was time he retired from active work and rest.

"Rest!" he says, "men rest that they may be refreshed for more strenuous work. Why should I rest?"

Deer's Head Suit Basis.

PITTSBURGH, June 5.—The head, horns and hide of a magnificent buck deer, killed in Cameron county in the fall of 1913, being a July. In Common Pleas court recently decided, to Fred M. Gulen. Gulen had brought a replevin suit against Paul Vitte, who had possessed the trophies since the deer was killed.

Gulen and Vitte were members of the same hunting party when the deer was killed. When it was first sighted both men fired and the suit was to decide which had fired the fatal bullet. The jury awarded Gulen 6 1-4 cents damages for the retention of the goods by Vitte and fixed the value of the trophy at $50. In his proceedings Gulen said the deer was worth $100, and more than that to him, as it was the first deer he had ever shot.
