WOMEN'S CLUBS ARE BUSILY ENGAGED IN BOOSTING CHAUTAUQUA

WORK OF HANDLING TICKETS IS UNDERTAKEN BY ENTHUSIASTIC LADIES.

The Civic Club, Thursday Afternoon Club and Current Literature Club are prominent in the work—much interest is being aroused through their efforts.

Working with relentless vigor the prominent women's organizations of the city are doing much to make the coming Pendleton Chautauqua one of the most successful assemblies yet held locally. The Ladies' Civic Club, Thursday Afternoon Club and the Current Literature Club are the most active organizations at work. They have undertaken the work of handling the season tickets in the various portions of town. The Ladies' Civic Club is taking care of a certain portion of town. The Thursday Afternoon Club is handling the residence section, while the Current Literature Club is busy in the other portions of the city.

These three organizations have been engaged in constructive boosting for several weeks. The results of their labors are only too noticeable. They have stirred up an enthusiasm that cannot be destroyed. It is through their efforts that the initial methods have worked so harmoniously.

The value of the Pendleton Chautauqua is readily understood by the various organizations. The women are doing their utmost to bring about an elevation of the thought and ideals of their city. They are the most active workers engaged in the movement.

The women of the city of Pendleton want to go on record as being heartily in favor of any movement which tends to bring about a readjustment of social, moral and economic conditions. We sincerely believe that the Pendleton Chautauqua is one of the greatest institutions in America. We rank it on a par with the school, church and state. It is because of this that we are doing our best to make the assembly here this season an unexcelled success. Such is the statement given out today by one of the most prominent society women of Pendleton.

Prof. A. C. Hampton, principal of the local high school, is another active booster. He, in conjunction with the county superintendent, is taking care of the general heralding of the special features of the seven day program.

The churches have entered into the boosting with all their strength. Said Rev. J. E. Snyder of the Presbyterian church, today:

"The Pendleton Chautauqua is of inestimable worth to this city. I am heartily in favor of such an institution and will do my utmost to make this year's assembly a success. I believe that every man and woman in the entire city of Pendleton should attend the seven days of unexcelled entertainment."

"The many organizations are combining their efforts. They have pooled their interests and are working hand in hand to make their work count for the most. With such an organization at work it is plainly evident that the Pendleton Chautauqua will be a success from every point of view," stated Mr. McDaniel, advance manager of the Ellison-White System, this afternoon.

War Affects Man's Mind.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Hugh G. O'Day, 40 years old, residing at Berwyn, Md., and employed as watchman in the bureau of mines, was taken from his place of employment one morning recently and sent to Washington asylum hospital for observation.

O'Day, it is said, is a German sympathizer and has devoted much of his time discussing war problems. It is believed the Lusitania incident preyed upon his mind to such an extent that he was temporarily deprived of his reasoning powers.

Policeman Adams, of the first precinct, had to have two men assist him in taking O'Day from the office.

Jinx Is On Man's Trail.

ROME, N. Y., June 16.—Duane Thomas announces that he will devote the summer to trying to get rid of a jinx; he is tired of misfortune. A few days ago he had a hand smashed while cranking an auto and one finger was amputated. Before that, three ribs were broken in a belt at a sawmill and an arm was broken.

Last October while picking apples a limb broke and he landed on his head, receiving concussion of the brain. Incidentally he has just recovered from a case of pneumonia.
