Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Wind and Dust Storm.
The most disagreeable wind and dust storm of the spring blew over Pendleton last evening and well into the night.

Demurrer in Rust Case.
Indicating that she will probably fight the efforts of her husband, Glen Rust, to secure a divorce from her, Cordelia Rust today filed a demurrer to the complaint. Her attorney is W. M. Peterson.

J. W. Peringer Quite Ill.
George Peringer has received word that his father, J. W. Peringer of Los Angeles, formerly of this county, has been quite ill. He is past 91 years old. At last report his condition was somewhat improved.

Suit to Collect.
Suit was filed yesterday afternoon by R. W. Ayres against L. A. and Winnie Williams to collect on a note for $50 alleged to have been executed to the First National Bank and later transferred to the plaintiff. Osmar E. Smith is plaintiff's attorney.

Auto Men Are Here.
A party consisting of G. H. McCutcheon, manager of the Howard Automobile Co. of Portland, Harry Hays, travelling representative, and Lou's Buntzell, head service man for the company, arrived here today by auto from The Dalles. They made the trip in a new 1914 Buick Little Six.

Sharkey Jr. is Born.
Sharkey, the Round-up's famous bucking Belgrade bull, has a son and heir that its owner believes will outstrip its noted father in size and honors. B. S. Waffle, well known resident, is the owner of the calf that was born at his place on Lewis street this morning. Mr. Waffle declares it is the largest calf at birth he has ever seen. It is the same color of its illustrious father and is already bucking.

Trial Jury is Summoned.
Judge Phelps today ordered the sheriff to summon trial jurors for the special term of court which will convene tomorrow morning. At the session a number of criminal cases will be disposed of, there being a number pending as a result of the recent session of the grand jury. It is very improbable, however, that the Lee Dale murder trial will be held at this term. He has not yet secured his attorney nor entered a plea, and the case will doubtless be held until the regular September term.

Finishes Shipping Sheep.
C. E. Rude, well known stockbuyer, has returned from Montana where he just delivered the last of the 30,000 sheep which he recently bought around Shaviko and Heppner. Some of the sheep were taken to Idaho and others to Montana. He was unfortunate in losing some in Montana, a cold rain chilling them on the first day they were unloaded. He is looking now for 10,000 more but anticipates some difficulty in finding that number as most of the sheep are being taken to the mountains.

Condition is Critical.
The condition of James Furnish is reported this afternoon to be very critical.

Permit for Bungalow.
J. S. Baker today took out a permit to build a $2500 bungalow on Jackson street.

Another Bootlegger Caught.
Lane Wright is the latest man to fall into the police net on a charge of selling liquor to Indians. He pleaded guilty this morning and drew a sentence of $50 fine or 25 days in jail.

Would Meet Bobby or Bud.
Sammy Good of Tacoma, who claims to be the undisputed lightweight champion of the northwest, is after a match with either Bobby Evans or Bud Anderson in Pendleton on July 5, according to a telegram received at this office. The Evans-Anderson bout has not yet been definitely scheduled and it may be possible for Good to get his fight. The Tacoma boy is said to be fighting now at a weight heavier than the lightweight limit.

Chief Makes Prize Catch.
When Chief Kearney arrested W. W. Wieden a few days ago for abusive conduct toward an O-W brakeman after he had been ejected from the train he made a prize catch. The man turns out to be an escaped convict from the Kansas state reformatory at Hutchinson, Kansas, and there is a $50 reward for his capture. Convinced by his general appearance and demeanor that he had done time, Chief Kearney began sending out pictures and inquiries with the result that this morning he received notice from Hutchinson that officers were enroute to take him back.

FOOD FAMINE FEARED BY CHICAGO PROFESSOR

CHICAGO, June 17.—There is grave danger that a famine will descend upon the United States sometime in the near future, according to Professor John M. Coulter, head of the Department of Botany of Chicago University. Population here, said the Professor, is increasing 20 times faster than the food supply. "We ought to have enough foodstuffs in this country to feed the world," said Prof. Coulter. "Instead, we soon shall not have enough to feed ourselves. This growing discrepancy between food production and population is the basis of the high cost of living. "Four remedies present themselves to prevent famine in the United States. First we should develop scientific methods of soil cultivation. We must manipulate the soil properly, and farm intensively, as the Europeans do. By scientific treatment of the soil crops can be increased 300 per cent in the United States. "Second, we must plant on every area the crop which will give the maximum yield in that section. Stop planting wheat in corn land and don't try to raise potatoes in swamps. Too many farmers plant their crops without knowledge of what their land is suited for. "We must, in the third place, develop drought resisting crops. This is the work of the professional botanist, and is to be accomplished through experiment. "Then, at last, we must produce disease resisting crops, for plants, like animals, are subject to ill of the flesh. This, too, is the work of the botanist. If these suggestions are carried out with reasonable thoroughness the high cost of living will vanish, as concerns foodstuffs."

EARLY AMERICAN LIFE DEPICTED IN PAGEANT

ATHENS, O., June 16.—Ohio history from the Mound builders to the civil war, including a realistic battle between Indians and early pioneers, and the historic march of Lord Dunsmore up the Hocking valley, was vividly enacted at the Ohio university Centennial Pageant here. Hundreds of students and local people participated. The event, which was one of the features of the Ohio university commencement exercises here, was one of the most potent affairs of the sort ever attempted in the state. The staking out of the university campus before 1600 was another striking feature portrayed.

6 Fix Classmates' Shoes.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 14.—Six boys representing four nationalities, comprise the Cobblers' Club at Pierce school. They have a shop in the basement and repair shoes for all the pupils at a small cost. They do their work extremely well. All the equipment of lasts, hammers, awls, nails and other materials they bought themselves. The idea originated with Miss Mary L. Martin, the principal. She noticed that many of the children came to school in shoes that needed half-soleing, and she asked how many children could repair their own shoes. Six pupils astonished her by saying that they had been taught by their fathers. None of the boys was over 11 years.

with red crosses to indicate their neutrality and, filling through the train, painted everybody in like manner, even marking the face of Governor Withycombe and the train crew from peanut butcher to engineer. In La Grande they made their presence known with vociferous "Let'er Ducks" and enlivened the parade with their antics. Their force was augmented by fresh arrivals on the evening train. Some returned last night but most of them are remaining over for the races today.

ATHENA MAN FAILS TO PAY MONEY; HELD FOR CONTEMPT

JUDGE PHELPS FINDS FRED CARDEN GUILTY OF DIS-OBEYING TERMS.

Believing that he had been spending money for booze and tobacco that should have gone for food for his children, Judge Phelps yesterday found Fred Carden of Athena guilty of contempt of court in failing to comply with the terms of the divorce decree given his wife two years ago by paying $20 a month toward the support of their three children.

Carden was cited to appear several weeks ago and some testimony was taken. Not until yesterday, however, was the case completed. Carden did not deny that he had not made the payments in full but pleaded that he had not been physically able to work part of the time. Some of the evidence, however, tended to show that he had spent considerable money over the bar since the divorce was granted his wife.

Judge Phelps has not yet sentenced him though he intimated yesterday that he would send him to jail for his disobedience of the court's mandate.

SMALL DEFECTS OF THE EYE GROW TO GREAT ONES

Uncorrected errors of refraction are the cause of most eye trouble. Proper fitting glasses in time conserve your eyesight. There are tens of thousands who waited too long that would gladly pay any price for good eyesight. The best time to have your eyes fitted with glasses is when they first begin to fail. If you have any reason to believe that your eyes need attention it will pay you to come at once and have them thoroughly examined. I have nothing to do but fit and grind glasses and can refer you to pleased patrons by the hundred. My prices for glasses are not high.

TO WHOM IT MAN CONCERN.

One person in every ten wearing glasses never have them changed, because they were fortunate and found some one who actually knew how to fit glasses. In Pendleton and vicinity we have five hundred patrons who are absolutely guaranteed that they will never have to have their glasses changed except for the reading distance. We are here to make good. Is it economy or good policy to buy glasses and eye testing that will answer the purpose for a few months or possibly three or four years? D. N. REBER, M. D.

"A Woman's Resurrection"

From Tolstoi's Resurrection

A sensation of the silent stage; a screen play of tremendous intensity, power and interest. Few screen dramas have ever attracted the immense amount of attention from literary men and writers, as well as the public at large, as has the William Fox production of "A Woman's Resurrection." Count Leo Tolstoi's greatest work, in the visualization of which Betty Nansen, the world-famous European tragedienne, is seen at the full height of her magnificent dramatic powers. Discussion has waged rife about the character of sinning Katusha Maslova, the most complex and interesting study of womanhood the great Count Leo Tolstoi ever penned. Since the picture has been shown Miss Nansen has been deluged with letters from all over the country asking her to give her conception of the character. Miss Nansen has answered all the letters in three words. "She is human." Professor Alexander Delaney, of Columbia University has however gone deeply into the matter and has written for the Fox Film Corporation a masterly delineation of "A Woman's Resurrection."

"It would be superfluous," writes Professor Delaney, "to point out in detail the aims that Tolstoi had in view when he wrote "A Woman's Resurrection," in which Miss Nansen is so magnificent and to which William Fox has given such a lavish setting. The great writer of the Russian land has in this work, above all others, labored for the benefit of his fellow man showing them in the erring Katusha Maslova, with her bestial abandon and final reclamation for better things a glorious lesson of the eternal truths of humanity. "Tolstoi's wonderful power of microscopic investigation into women's souls was not, even in Anna Karenina in which, under the William Fox management, Miss Nansen scored another great success, shown with more startling fidelity than in the screen production of "A Woman's Resurrection." He has shown Katusha's mental and physical attractiveness, which lead to her downfall in most seductive manner. She moves and lives upon the screen before our eyes, a creature of beauty." "From his lofty heights Tolstoi's great heart embraced all men. It know all human passions and in Katusha Maslova, loving, weak, sinning and repentent he poured out to the full his marvelous genius. As a reward, while he himself sleeps peacefully under his oak at Yasnaya-Polyana, he still lives and will continue always to live in the hearts of men and women."
