FACTS ABOUT CIRICILLO'S BAND WHICH APPEARS AT CHAUTAUQUA

One hundred and sixty-eight thousand people paid to hear Ciricillo and his band last summer.

At the age of twelve, Ciricillo played concert solos at the principal municipal band concerts in Campobasso, Italy.

Ciricillo's little son, just six years old, will play several mellophone solos in his afternoon concert here. Through the east he is known as "The Little Mellophone Wonder."

Ciricillo served for a number of years in the Italian army and was honorably discharged as sergeant of the twenty-first regimental band.

Chautauqua patrons didn't have to tell us last year that they were pleased with Ciricillo's band. Ciricillo has genuine enthusiasm and originality and lets his enthusiasm permeate through his audience. Don't miss Ciricillo.

If such Chautauquas as Band Day falls on Sunday, both the band and grand opera singers will render sacred programs. The opera singers will render selections from Stabat Mater, Sanctus and other sacred operas.

Signor Frank Bucafosco is a most wonderful tenor singer. His voice is of a remarkable range and Bucafosco has a most pleasing personality. He has been recognized by every musical journal in America to be one of the leading tenors of the country.

One of the cornet players in Ciricillo's band plays a German horn.

This is contrary to the rule with Italian players, but this little player says he gets the best music of any from his horn.

Signor Josef Morin sings the part of Manrico in the opera, Il Trovatore. This is the part which he has been singing for many years and it is said by music critics that his rendition of the male part of the "Miserere" is the most satisfactory of any of the great tenors.

Ciricillo first became famous when he organized his boy band. There were thirty-five boys in this band averaging twelve years of age and they played over seventy-five pieces without rehearsal.

People want good opera but they are not willing to pay from $2 to $7 per seat to hear it. Five the people opera at a fair price and they will come to hear it. The Chautauqua is the pioneer in the movement for medium priced opera.

The Il Trovatore Grand Opera Company will render that famous opera in three acts in costume at Chautauqua. The members of this sextet come from America's greatest opera companies. Because many of the great soloists have been drafted into army service, the metropolitan opera companies are not giving concerts, and the westerners are having an opportunity to hear real opera at the right price.

"The Story Beautiful" Chautauqua Masterpiece

"The Story Beautiful" is a classic from the standpoint of art, oratory and musical attainments, and yet, because of its strong appeal to all classes who will hear and see it, this number on the coming assembly deserves to be called a popular entertainment. Because of its uniqueness it is difficult to give in a few words an adequate conception of it.

One of the most brilliant, powerful and dramatic speakers, Father Patrick J. MacCorry, of St. Mary's Cathedral, Wichita, Kansas, has woven a thrilling lecture about a series of unusual views and reproductions of famous paintings. Many of the paintings shown are the master paintings of the world and are hidden far from the eyes of the curious. How Father MacCorry secured them is not a part of this story, but it may be said that there are few who could secure permission to copy them; and the coloring of the slides is wonderfully well done. They are as beautiful as the original and far above any slides commonly shown.

While the pictures are being shown Father MacCorry gives his lecture. No orator has a more musical tone or more dramatic intonation, and while he speaks, a single ray of light reveals his features against a black velvet curtain, the speaker as well as the picture being shown, which is an exclusive feature with this lecture. At times nothing can be heard but the gentle music of the piano, and this may be followed with the rich tones of that great baritone, H. Ruthven McDonald, of Toronto, who presents selections from oratorios and other classic music, while the audience remains under the spell of this remarkable setting.

Four people are required to present this admirably combined lecture, recital and showing of famous pictures, and those who attend will leave with the sensation that they have visited some great cathedral, having been thoroughly satisfied in a long-cherished desire.

This Cartoonist Is an Angler

She Excels In Fishing and Cartooning For Chautauqua Audiences.

Here is shown a vacation glimpse of Miss Evelyn Bergelt, an artist and reader known the length of the land. She is a cartoonist and crayon artist, with a wonderful power to portray scenes that appeal to the sense of the beautiful, to the humorous side and which are touching in their pathos. She is also a most accomplished reader and in carrying her audience from scene to scene by her vivid portrayal alternately stirs to laughter and melts to tears.

She has prepared an entirely new program for the coming season which occupied her through the winter in Boston.

Pictures appeal to every age, and when drawn by such an artist as Evelyn Bergelt they are more compelling than any word picture or power of the orator. She possesses a sense of humor, and in her work, her pleasures and her travels she catches many an inspiration which she throws on the canvas in a marvelous way.

Chautauqua Briefs

As one of the West's "infant industries" the chautauqua is a pretty lusty youngster. Last year there were less than seventy towns on the coast and northwest states which held chautauquas, and this year there are 110.

The chautauqua has come to stay. It fits a need in the ideals of the American people.

California has more chautauquas this season than it ever had before. Once tried in a town it is usually maintained, and new towns are catching the spirit all the time.

The oldest chautauquas in the west are those at Ashland and Oregon City. The latter serves Portland. They have been established 22 years.

The only right way to enjoy the chautauqua is to buy a season ticket as soon as they are put on sale. Then some other member of your family can use it when you cannot go, and you get all the entertainments for the price of a few.

Don't forget that the children will want to see the Florida, who come to chautauqua opening day, just as much as yourselves.

Roland A. Nichols and Nels Darling are both community boosters. Business men who hear them will be glad that their city had a chautauqua.

Remember what a hit Ciricillo's band made last year? He's coming back.

The children, even the small ones, will get a lot of fun out of morning sessions with the stories and the organized play.

Save the dimes and you will soon have the price of a season ticket. Every dime means a big fine entertainment, concert or lecture.

Do you like to see people draw clever pictures? Evelyn Bergelt, the cartoonist, will delight you.

If You Do Not Know What the Chautauqua Means--Catch Spirit

Chautauqua belongs to everybody. Whoever will, let him come and have the best time of his life. That is the Chautauqua spirit. The Chautauqua is for the people. You are one of them, no matter who you are. You will find a great feast of good things on this Chautauqua program that will appeal directly to you.

More than passing attention has been paid to the entertainment feature. Nothing dry or tedious can be found on the Chautauqua program. It isn't a campmeeting, a vaudeville show nor a teachers' institute. It is the sanest, happiest, snappiest week of worth-while entertainment ever put into the short space of one week.

Have a good time—but don't get noisy during the programs. Remember, the people want to hear.

Be liberal with your applause. You'll get more out of the programs if you show your appreciation. Don't go to Chautauqua (or anywhere else) with that entertain-me-if-you-can attitude. It never pays.

Remember "Music Day." A truly remarkable program has been arranged for that day. Music all day, and lots of it. Ciricillo is coming for that day and all the Il Trovatore singers.

There will be reserved seats at Chautauqua this year. Plans have been made to have a number of special chairs placed close to the stage for the benefit of the busy business man or rancher. By the new plan, you may reserve a seat through the entire week.

The Chautauqua is the most democratic institution in America. It is to the older people what the school is to the children—a place where all meet on common ground.

The spirit of happiness is within you. It will grow by what it feeds upon. We are offering you a great feast for it. Have a good time and

The Chautauqua is a safe and sane Fourth of July lasting a week.

The side show has the monstrosities of the world—even a few grouches. The Chautauqua has the monstrosities of the intellectual world—minus a few grouches.

If you want to succeed, let the other fellow know that you are on the job. There is no better way to do this than to flash a Chautauqua ticket in his face. Two dollars and a half invested in a Chautauqua ticket may mean a raise next month.
