

SPOT GRAINS ARE IN DEMAND

(Tuesday's Market.)
PORTLAND, Ore.—While there is an excellent demand for spot grains considering the limited supplies available, little interest is displayed in the trade in regard to the coming crop. Forecasts generally being made are for extreme low prices for the coming harvest, but naturally at this time such prices are very much of a guess. Later developments will make the market.

With additional shipping of old crop wheat and barley to be made to the Atlantic coast and to Australia, sellers have naturally been anxious to repurchase here to fill their requirements.

Not enough flour business is passing to cause comment. No change in prices is anticipated.

Millers are quoting millstuffs steady but quiet at unchanged prices.

Flour—Selling price: Patent, $6.20; Willamette valley, $6.20; local straight, $5.80; bakers' local, $6.20; Montana spring wheat, $7.20; exports, $4.50; whole wheat, $5.60; graham, $5.60 per barrel.

Hay—Buying price: Willamette valley timothy, fancy, $11; eastern Oregon-Idaho fancy timothy, $11; alfalfa, $12@13.50; vetch and oats, $11; clover, $8.00@9 per ton.

Grain sacks—1915 nominal; No. 1 Calcutta, $1-2@9c.

Millstuffs—Selling price: Bran, $27@27.50; shorts, $28@29.

Boiled barley—Selling price, $25@26.50.

Corn—White, $25@25.50; cracked, $24@27.

Wheat bids for spot delivery on the Portland Merchants' Exchange today were unchanged to a bushel below yesterday but no sales were made.

Spot oats also showed a spell of weakness, exporters with orders simply holding aloof until they can pick up bargains. Bids were 50c a ton lower while spot barley was in a similar condition with bids off $1 a ton. No sales in either line.

LAWYERS WHO APPEARED IN RIGGS FIGHT

Ex-Senator Joseph W. Bailey, Samuel Untermyer.

Here are two great lawyers who led in the fight between the treasury department and the Riggs National bank against the secretary of the treasury before Supreme Court Justice Walter J. McCoy of the District of Columbia, May 12. They are former Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, and now of Washington and New York, and Samuel Untermyer of New York.

The photographer caught the lawyers as they walked the streets of Washington. Senator Bailey had just left a conference at the Riggs bank, while Mr. Untermyer had just stepped from the department of justice after meeting Attorney-General Gregory.

The two lawyers stand at the head of the American bar in their respective lines of practice. Senator Bailey for many years had been conceded to be the greatest constitutional authority in the nation. His memorable debate with Senators Spooner and Knox on the powers of the federal judiciary, several years ago in the upper branch of congress, made lawyers compare him to Daniel Webster as an expounder of the constitution.

On the other hand, Mr. Untermyer for more than a score of years has had his office on Wall street in the thick of the fight of the great financial cliques. He not only knows all about the financiers of the past and present, but has been in their confidence, and is therefore versed in the intricacies of Wall street.

VINCENZO GULLOTA, Violinist

One cannot look at the above picture without being impressed with the thought that Gullota has the marks of the soulful artist. He will bring to the coming Chautauqua a trio that will be declared the real thing, only this isn't just the way these artists would describe it.

Gullota made a big hit the first time he ever appeared at a Chautauqua. That was when he was fresh from Italy and did not know the ways of Americans. But he went into a Chautauqua town in Illinois on a hot afternoon and was the "goat" after a much anticipated attraction had disappointed them, and the audience sat waiting when he and his company appeared. Before three numbers were finished his big audience was won over, and at the end of the program they contracted for his return the next year.

Not only that, but a manager and critic who was present said it was the best of the kind he had ever heard, and he engaged them for a full season. That's the way Gullota makes good, and he will do the same here.

HOG PRICES GO 5 CENTS HIGHER

(Courtesy Tuesday's Journal.)
PORTLAND, Ore.—Only three loads of livestock entered the local yards overnight, made from a small shipment by steamer.

Hog market is reflecting considerable weakness with best prices not likely above $17.50, although the bulk of the tops did not bring above this value yesterday afternoon. Late today the market advanced to $17.85.

At eastern points the market for hogs is very strong generally, although at some points weakness developed.

General hog market range:

Best light	$17.75@18.50
Medium light	1.65@17.70
Good to heavy	1.50@17.60
Rough to heavy	1.30@17.50

Cattle Continue Weak.

Market for cattle continues weak. There was only a handful of stuff reported in the yards overnight, but practically no call was indicated. Killers are not intending to carry more stuff into the summer than absolutely necessary.

Cattle market conditions in the eastern yards today were generally strong to higher.

General cattle market range:

Select steers	$17.00@17.25
Best hay fed steers	6.50@7.00
Good to choice	6.85@6.95
Ordinary to fair	6.00@6.75
Best cows	6.00@6.10
Good to prime	5.75@5.90
Select calves	7.00@7.50
Fancy bulls	4.50
Ordinary bulls	4.00@4.25

Mutton Market Quiet.

With California draining the interior of what mutton the east and local packers are not buying direct, the trade here for mutton and lambs is quiet. Interior interests are not inclined to market mutton here because of the insistent demand at better prices from other sections.

Eastern markets were steady to higher generally for mutton and lambs today. Omaha showing a rise.

General mutton market:

Choice spring lambs	$17.00@17.20
Common spring lambs	6.00@6.75
Good yearling wethers	5.50@5.75
Old wethers	5.25@5.35
Choice light ewes	4.75@5.00
Good ewes	4.50
Common heavy ewes	4.00@4.25

Livestock Shippers.

Hogs—Alfred Jensen, Roosevelt Wash, 1 load.

Mixed Stuff—Frank Wann, Canby, 1 load cattle and sheep; F. M. Emair, Shearer, 1 load cattle and hogs.

NEW CROP OF WHEAT HIGHER

(Tuesday's Market.)
CHICAGO, Ill.—July wheat closed 1-2c off, September 3-8c up and December 1-4c up.

Further selling on damage reports caused a new decline in the grain market at the opening today. Wheat opened with a decline of 1-2c to 3-4c. Corn was down 3-8c to 1-2c at the start.

September wheat sagged to 98c a bushel early in the trading, the low record price for the crop.

The lower values for wheat do not seem to attract foreign buyers. In the opinion of close students of the market, the steady decline in wheat is due more to the absence of aggressive buying than to concerted selling pressure. The short interest has been materially increased.

Later in the trading there was a fuller drop in wheat. It acted over-sold. Oats were lower in sympathy with wheat and corn. Provisions were down.

WHEAT.

July—Open, 1.01 1-2; high, $1.02 1-4; low, $1.00; close, $1.01 3-4
Sept.—Open, 98c; high, $1.00 1-4; low, $98 1-2; close, 99 7-8c
Dec.—Open, $1.02; high, $1.03; low, $1.01 3-4; close, $1.02 7-8.
