ARBITRATION OF LABOR DISPUTES IN BALANCE

CHICAGO, July 1.—"Arbitration as a means of settling disputes between capital and labor is hanging in a balance. And the pendulum is the present arbitration proceedings being conducted by the mayor's mediation board. The eyes of the entire world are on the dial."

This was the statement today of a high labor official, and his expressions were echoed by his associates, all labor officials, in discussing the recent strike of 14,500 street car and elevated men, which completely paralyzed Chicago's transportation facilities and tied up business for two days. They reached this conclusion, they said, from their own experience and from observation of mediation in other strikes. They pointed out that they were defeated when Chicago was threatened with a traction strike three years ago. At that time they stated that never again would they consent to arbitration and they bided their time until the three years of their contract expired.

The recent ruling in the western wage rate controversy against the ninety odd thousand trainmen on 28 western railroads was also mentioned as an example. The ruling was declared to be adverse to the labor interests, and labor heads were loud in their protestations that they had been "bunked." W. E. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was bitter in his arraignment of the ruling and of arbitration "as the trainmen got it."

"Go back in the history of arbitral proceedings as means of settling labor has triumphed in extremely few of them. Take for instance the ruling at Indianapolis in the traction strike of 1913. The men submitted to arbitration after a fight. When the award was handed down the men got an infinitely small raise in wages and a slap in the face in the way of the open shop. The company was admonished and directed to show no discrimination against the men because of their affiliations with the union. The company has never lived up to the award, by court injunctions and what not from striking again.

"Arbitration received a hard blow then. It received a much harder blow in the trainmen ruling, and now if the men are again defeated, after

FREE BIBLE LECTURE

BY PAUL S. L. JOHNSON OF NEW YORK.

"The Distress of Nations and Evidence of the Overthrow of Satan's Empire," at Hendricks' Hall, Tonight at 8:00 P. M.—No Collection.

Prof. S. L. Johnson of New York will deliver a free lecture under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. His subject is, "The Distress of Nations and Evidence of the Overthrow of Satan's Empire," at Hendricks Hall, tonight at 8:00 p. m.

Prof. Johnson is said to be a Bible student of wide reputation, having lectured before large and attentive audiences in all the large cities of the United States and Canada. His study of the scriptures in the original Hebrew and Greek gives him a great advantage as a Biblical interpreter; and his opportunities of having the help of the ablest Bible students of the day in his scriptural researches should make his lecture of especial interest and helpfulness. The people of Pendleton may expect an exceptional treat on the scriptures. The theme chosen for his lecture here is of especial interest.

The meeting is at 8:00 p. m. in Hendricks Hall, tonight.

One thing especially unusual in connection with the lecture is its entire freedom from money seeking. Neither admission will be charged nor collection taken. The lecture will be helpful to Christian and skeptic alike, and all are invited.
