FIRE AT HOOD RIVER TAKES ARMORY, 2 HOMES

HOOD RIVER, Ore., July 1.—Fire destroyed the armory building and the residences of Rev. J. W. Rigby and Mrs. Nancy Monroe. The total loss is $10,000.

The fire is believed to have started from a lighted cigarette in the skating rink over the armory. A crowd had been skating in the rink just previous to the fire.

Cutter Brothers, manufacturers of the new apple graders, were housed

In the ground floor of the armory, and their machinery and a number of graders were destroyed.

The company will rebuild at once. There was $1000 insurance on the plant.

Russia Gets Munitions.

LONDON, July 1.—An important step toward the removal of the drawbacks under which the Russian army is suffering has been taken by the formation of a special "board of military supplies," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. "Presided over by minister of war, it will comprise the president and four members of the duma, four members of the imperial council and four representatives of industry and commerce, all named by the emperor, to whom alone the board will be responsible. The board has executive powers for the production of munitions."

VISITORS TO FAIR ABLE TO MAKE STAY, AT REASONABLE COST

FOOD PRICES ARE NOT HIGH AND GOOD ROOMS MAY BE HAD CHEAPLY.

Oregonians Will Be Looked After at the Oregon Building Where All Available Information Pertaining to the Exposition May Be Obtained at Central Booth.

OREGON BUILDING, Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, June 26.—(Special.)—With a little care, Oregonians coming to the exposition will find it possible to make a stay here at no excessive cost. Down in the city good rooms at average hotels can be had at $1 to $2.50 per night, and rooms in boarding houses and homes at $5 to $10 per week. Restaurant prices are not beyond the usual and at cafeterias good food can be had at very reasonable prices.

At the latter places, for everything except meat, five and ten cents is the price for the average dish. There is an excess of rooms and eating places, the crowds not yet having overflowed the city. For those who feel the need of apartments, one and two rooms with kitchenette and private bath range from $22.50 to $50, at thorough, respectable and up-to-date apartment houses within a short street car ride of the exposition or city. On the exposition grounds prices are a little more strenuous in spots, but visitors meet this situation pretty largely by bringing their lunches with them, and the very best of people do not scorn to do this.

The Y. M. C. A. cafeteria occupies a building all its own and is the popular eating place within the gates. Here one can pick out a reasonably good meal for fifty cents or less, and for light lunches is ideal. However, at the M. J. B. coffee parlor, ham, eggs, bread, butter and coffee are obtainable for forty cents. Waffles and coffee cost 25c. The zone is filled with eating places, cabarets and restaurants offering food at all prices. "hot dog" sandwiches and coffee joints are everywhere, and the combination can be had for twenty cents. In the food products building it is possible to get light lunches and tea for about twenty-five cents, and tea houses serving tea and rice cakes at fifteen cents are everywhere. There is but one hotel on the grounds, "The Side Inn." Rooms here without bath range from $3 per night upward, according to location, with bath, $5 and upward. Breakfast is served at 75c, straight, other meals a la carte. Patrons here must pay the 50c daily admission to the grounds, but, unlike all others who attend the fair, these have a permit to leave and enter as they choose. As a matter of general information, many Oregonians will be glad to know that hotel, room, or apartment accommodations can be secured at the Ferry Building and that streetcars leading to all parts of the city and direct to the exposition circle in front of the Ferry building. From there to the exposition the "D" car is the most popular. It is direct and lands one at the main or Scott street entrance. At the Oregon building every possible information about the grounds is available at the central booth, and special effort is made to render Oregonians every needed service, as well as to make the visit of everyone to the building as pleasant as possible. Register at the Oregon building's central booth on your first visit and ask such questions as you may desire, also secure booklet detailing the facts about Oregon exhibits in this building and in the main palaces.

And now comes another gold medal exhibit in the Palace of Education, but it is a beautiful showing, and a perfect presentation of the advanced work along this line now being done for the children of Oregon. As a consequence the jury of awards gave this playground exhibit the gold medal, and it must be remembered that many states entered elaborate and costly exhibits in competition. The Oregon school exhibit as a whole, which includes only industrial club work, standard school plan for rural schools, and playground work, was given a silver medal. This sort of an exhibit was made at the request of the government, cost Oregon less than $1000 and was in competition with scores of exhibits costing from $5000 to $40,000. Oregon's main exhibit is in the Oregon building and not in competition. Here, practically the entire second floor is given over to school work, and it is conceded to be one of the finest exhibits on the grounds. It is also true that high school students of Oregon made much of the attractive furniture in use in the Oregon building. Many prominent educational people make special visits to see the Oregon exhibits in the Palace of Education and in the state building and grow enthusiastic over it. Miss Stewart, of the famous Lux schools for girls, San Francisco, said: "You can quote me as saying there is no exhibit of sewing on the grounds to equal that of the Oregon school children in the state building." These exhibits were made under the direction of Assistant State Superintendent E. F. Carleton. Mr. G. R. Bonell, director of manual training in the Salem schools, has come to take charge of the exhibits for one month.

While Oregon has won the grand prize and a score of others on the horticultural display in the Palace of Horticulture, it is well to remember that there are other great horticultural prizes to win, prizes that Oregon can not afford to lose. However, these can not be captured unless the growers will co-operate heartily with the officials at this end of the line throughout the summer and autumn. For instance, each Saturday awards are made on fresh fruit, and at the end of the season the grand prize
