Fee, Jr., Passes Exams.

Among the 53 applicants who successfully passed the state bar examinations recently, is James Alger Fee, Jr., of Pendleton, who is practicing with his father, W. A. Ford, principal of the Umatilla schools. Also passed the examinations successfully, as did Blaine Hallock of Portland, formerly of this city.

Assault Case Plain.

The evidence against Arle Arlington, the Helix restaurant keeper who is alleged to have assaulted his 12-year-old stepdaughter, is conclusive, according to Deputy Sheriff Joe Blakely, who went up to Helix yesterday afternoon. Arlington had a room in a lodging house instead of being in a private home and other roomers heard the little girl scream. The deputy sheriff states that the feeling is very bitter at Helix against Arlington. After investigating the case the mother of the girl announced she would file charges against her husband. The man, who is in the county jail, has nothing to say in his own defense.

Long Now Sole Owner.

Kyle Long is now the sole proprietor of the Stone Garage on Johnson street having bought out the interest of his partner, John Welker.

County Court Adjourns.

Having transacted all of the business coming before it at this session, the county court yesterday afternoon adjourned. Outside the auditing of the bills, the appointment of members of the fair board was practically all of the business done at this session.

Is Cutting Barley.

George Peringer started cutting his barley in the vicinity of Pilot Rock early in the week but has received no reports yet as to how it is yielding. A good many of the other farmers in that vicinity have started harvest and reports indicate that the barley yields are large.

Hermiston Boy Paroled.

Sydney Blabee, the young Hermiston boy who recently shot two other boys with a shotgun while they were riding through the Blabee place, has been paroled by County Judge Marsh in the custody of Carl S. McNaught of Hermiston and he is required to remain upon his father's place and work.

Blancett in Movies.

Dell Blancett, popular Round-up performer, takes one of the leading parts in the photoplay "Saved by Her Horse," which appears at the Pastime theater Saturday. Blancett spent the winter with a movie company in southern California, his physical appearance as well as his horsemanship making him a valuable man in western pictures.

Rust Must Pay Fees.

Yesterday attorneys in the divorce suit of Glen Rust vs. Cordelia Rust, argued a motion by the defendant for advance attorney and witness fees. Judge Phelps directed the plaintiff to pay $100 as attorney fees in advance and $50 as witness fees in order that his wife may prepare her defense of the charges made by her husband.

Peterson vs. Welck.

Suit, was filed yesterday afternoon with Attorney Will M. Peterson as plaintiff and K. L. Welck as defendant. Peterson claims $51 and interest on a note executed to him and $200 and interest on a note executed to Ellenah A. Welck and assigned to plaintiff. H. J. Watts is associated with Mr. Peterson as attorneys for the plaintiff.

Back in Pendleton.

Plus an Auburn mustache and a French Van Dyke, Elmer E. Turner, known the county over for his leaty rooting at baseball games, arrived back in Pendleton yesterday from Stanford, Montana. He has disposed of his business there and intends to remain in Pendleton, "the best city in the country" as he expresses it. Mr. Turner was accompanied back by his wife.

Arrested for Gambling.

Ben Thompson and Jack Reid, two white men, were arrested by A. O'Connell, special government agent and Major E. S. Swartzlander, for gambling at Cayuse on July 4. They were gambling with Indians. In the justice court here today both men were bound over to the grand jury and their bail set at $250 each. In default of bail both men are now in the county jail.

The members of the Pilot Rock baseball team passed through Pendleton this morning en route to Athena where they will play the East End champions the first game of the county championship series. The regular line-up will enter the game with the exception of Thirdbaseaman Gilbert, who was unable to accompany the team. Gilbert's absence will be felt as he was the leading hitter of the league. Darling will twirl for the Pebbles and Shick will probably oppose him. The team was accompanied by a number of Pilot Rock fans and Pendleton also sent up a delegation.

REPLY TO REJOINDER NOW IN HANDS OF U. S. EMBASSY

CLERKS ENGAGED IN TRANSLATING NOTE TO BE FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON.

BERLIN, July 8.—Germany's reply to the American note is in the hands of the American embassy. The note was handed to Gerard last night. Embassy clerks are engaged in translating and putting the communication into code for transmission to Washington. Owing to the labor this entails the time of the receipt of the note at Washington cannot be forecasted.

"Secret Diplomacy" Hinted. WASHINGTON, July 9.—Although the administration shied violently at the suggestion of "secret diplomacy," when a recent story appeared to the effect unofficial negotiations were in progress with Germany to aid her in framing an answer to the American note, there is, nevertheless, a very definite understanding between them, it was confidentially asserted by officials. Germany's reply, it was admitted, is unsatisfactory. It would have been satisfactory but for the publication of the story of preliminary negotiations.

CANADIAN SCORES MORGAN CONTRACT WITH BRITAIN.

Wilson W. Butler.

Returning to the United States with a contract for $25,000,000 of war supplies for the Russian government, Wilson W. Butler, vice president and contracting engineer of the Canadian Steel Companies, Limited, and the Canadian Car & Foundry Company, Limited, said he had told the British authorities that their contract with J. P. Morgan & Company of New York for the purchase of supplies, was unjust.

"I went to England," said Mr. Butler "to appear before the Booth committee, which is to devise means of defense in cooperation with the war office."

"The British war office wants to import skilled labor from Canada and other colonies. I got very sore over it. I said to the committee: 'We do not see why you want to take our labor away. I consider this desire to import Canadian labor an outrage.'"

"We Canadian manufacturers are indignant that Morgan & Co. have not given us any of these orders. I personally have eight factories that are idle."

"Lloyd George is up against the stiffest proposition of his life, and if

He wants to get the best possible results from Canada he could do no better than appoint Sir Thomas Shaughnessy as his agent. Everybody in Canada has complete confidence in Sir Thomas.

"He was purchasing agent before he became president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and as such was the most efficient man in Canada. If Canada is properly handled she can produce shells on an infinitely greater scale than the British government is aware of."

"The great demand is for an explosive shell. Shrapnel can't tear up a concrete-backed trench, an explosive shell can. The whole trouble with the ammunition question over there is the red tape of the British war office."

Mr. Butler said he went to Petrograd and obtained an order for 5,000,000 shells, the largest order ever given out by the Russian war office. He was in Russia from February 15 to April 1. The cost of Russia's contract is $23,000,000.

HEADACHE

A very large per cent of temporal, frontal and sick headaches are entirely due to eyestrain. In these cases proper fitting glasses will always give entire relief. In many other cases there may be a number of underlying conditions at work to cause a headache, eyestrain of any kind if present may be a dominant factor in exciting the attack or aggravating it, and the relief of this strain with glasses will always exert a most favorable influence. Every sufferer from headache should have the eyes thoroughly examined, and when there is any eyestrain proper glasses should be worn.
