BANDIT PROVES TO BE COLLEGE GRADUATE FROM CALIFORNIA

J. AUSTIN HOOPER, CAPTURED NEAR THE DALLES, HAS LONG RECORD AS ROBBER.

Prisoner Refuses to Divulge Name of School He Attended—Father is a U. S. Commissioner—Sawcut in The Dalles Does Not Know of Crimes.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—John Austin Hooper, who was arrested at The Dalles Tuesday night, suspected of being the leader in a series of spectacular and successful holdups in California and Oregon, was brought to Portland yesterday under heavy guard and placed in the Multnomah county jail.

On the trip to Portland and in the county jail, Hooper, who is a college graduate, learned in many ways, and somewhat of a philosopher, admitted several of the crimes laid to him, and gave evidence that he knew much of the others.

To Sheriff Christman of Wasco county, Patrolman Gibbons of The Dalles, Ed Wood, special agent of the O. W. R. & N. company, and Lou Wagner, special agent for the Portland Railway, Light and Power company, Hooper made damaging admissions. It is said. To Detective J. E. Day of the Portland police force, Hooper also uncovered some of his history and deeds.

The prisoner probably will be taken to Grants Pass today.

Alma Mater Kept Secret.

Hooper is a graduate of a college in California, respect for which prompted him yesterday to keep the name a secret for the present. His father, he told one of the special agents, was a United States commissioner, but he refused to say in which department of the government. He has a brother who is high in legal circles, and another brother who, he says, follows a rather shiftless career.

A strain of romance was hinted at yesterday when Hooper divulged the fact that a highly respectable girl in The Dalles had become a close friend of his while there. The is a working girl, and Hooper said he had purchased an auto at The Dalles which he intended giving to the girl. He steadfastly kept her name a secret saying she knew nothing of his career.

SUFFRAGETTES LOOK AFTER WAR BABIES INSTEAD OF VOTING

MRS. PANKHURST AND FOLLOWERS TAKE PRACTICAL STEPS FOR SOLUTION PROBLEM.

Workers Find It Necessary Also to Look Out for Improved Conditions for Mothers—Suffrage Quarters Turned Into Agency for War Relief.

LONDON, July 22.—(By Mail to United Press Staff Correspondent.) New York.—While bishops and legislators and professional philanthropists are discussing what should be done about the "war babies," the problem has been tackled in practical fashion by Sylvia Pankhurst and her formerly untried band of East London suffragettes.

Already "war babies" have begun to arrive in this section of the metropolis by the hundreds, many of them the children of "unmarried wives" of soldiers now serving their country in Flanders or the Dardanelles. So far as possible these children and their mothers are being cared for by the women whose principal activities a year ago were smashing windows Sylvia and her co-workers started their war relief work in the East End almost immediately after hostilities opened.

"When the war broke out," said Miss Pankhurst today, "the offices of the East London Federation of Suffragettes were about to take a brief vacation after a period of very strenuous work, but the war cancelled all arrangements, and our labors were at once increased tenfold. Soldiers' wives, soldiers' mothers, and women thrown out of employment came flocking to us and crowded our offices in a constant stream. We opened distress bureaus in Bow, Bromley, Poplar and later in Canning Town. Here we made, and still make it our business to secure as quickly as possible from the various agencies concerned separation allowances and pensions for soldiers and sailors' dependents, work or relief for the unemployed, and higher relief necessities by war prices for those already assisted under the Poor Law.

"Within three days of the outbreak of war we started a free milk depot for babies who were brought to us often literally at their last gasp for lack of the mother's milk that had ceased because of her privations, or the cow's milk that there was no money to buy. Doctoring and nursing care were imperative, and soon our free milk centers had developed into regular mother-and-baby clinics. These undoubtedly have been the means of saving hundreds of baby lives which in this time of slaughter on the battlefields are of even more vital importance to the nation than before.

"But we found it impossible merely to supply milk to the baby when the whole family was needing food. We decided to attach to our centers cheap restaurants, where grown-up people, especially expectant and nursing mothers, might buy two-course meals for a cents and children could buy for the same for two cents, and where we could supply free meals wherever it seemed advisable. These we call 'cost price' restaurants, although, of course, they are not self-supporting, and never can be with food and fuel at war prices. We chose the name because we wanted one that should not suggest charity.

"The pressing cry of workless women was for employment. We found work for as many as we could in our restaurants—cooking, cleaning, waiting, washing up, and making jams from the presents of fruit which our friends most generously sent to us during the summer and fall. To the women employed in our restaurants we pay ten cents an hour. At the same time we started giving out sewing for women to do at home, and we also took in some workers on our own premises, paying to every adult worker a minimum of ten cents an hour, or 15 a week.

"Then we extended the employment section and opened a factory for the making of garments, boots and shoes, and toys."

Aside from these activities, Sylvia and her followers have been unceasing in their efforts to secure from the government better working conditions for women. They have made repeated efforts to secure from the government better working conditions for women. They have made repeated visits to the war office and other government departments to urge that adult women should not be employed for less than ten cents an hour on army contracts or other work subsidized by public funds.

"And in the meantime," she added, "we are continuing our work of education and preparation for Votes for Women; for every day makes it more and more apparent that women's help as enfranchised citizens is needed to do the nation's work."

CHIEF HOTELMAN OF PARIS CHARGED AS BEING GERMAN SPY

ACCUSED OF RECEIVING FINANCIAL BACKING FROM GERMAN SECRET SERVICE.

Grand Hotel Astoria Thought to Have Been Built at Kaiser's Dictation for Royal Entry—Wholesale Outfit on Top of Structure Was Discovered.

PARIS, July 22.—Astonishing disclosures are expected at the approaching trial of Arthur Geisler, who has been jailed here on a charge of embezzling $100,000 belonging to the shareholders of hotels in which he is interested.

Geisler was the biggest hotel man in Paris. In addition to the Astoria, which was patronized by all the leading American visitors, he ran the Campbell, Malsherbes, Beauville, Columbia and D'Urville hotels in Paris, the exclusive Roches Solres at Trouville, and the fashionable Imperial at Nice.

Built for Kaiser's Entry. What astonishes Paris business men is the fact that 10 or 12 years ago Geisler was penniless. They allege that at least 10 years ago the German secret service began to finance him with a view to enabling him to corner the best hotels in Paris.

They further allege that it was on the Kaiser's own words that Geisler built the sumptuous Astoria in readiness for the Kaiser's triumphant entry into Paris as conqueror. The staff of the hotel was exclusively German with the exception of the chef.

Believed Secret Agent. These allegations constitute a charge that Geisler acted as a secret agent on behalf of Germany before and during the war. In fairness to him, therefore, it must be added that no publicity has been given to him.

He is not, indeed, officially charged with espionage. At the outbreak of the war he was arrested on suspicion of having erected a wireless apparatus on the roof of the Astoria, which occupies a commanding position at the top of the Avenue des Champs-Elysees, with the object of intercepting official messages sent to and from the Eiffel tower, but the charge failed and he was lodged in a segregation camp as an enemy alien.

Books Lead Him to Jail. His hotels were sequestered, and while verifying the books the government auditors discovered that he had been tampered with. Geisler was thereupon arrested and transferred to a Paris jail.

Incidents in his career are cited as showing that he was in close touch with the inner circles in Berlin, headed by the Kaiser, which rules the destinies of the central empire. Geisler was persona grata at the German embassy, and even attended official receptions. All his hotels he staffed with Germans, except the kitchens, and whenever complaints were made, it is said, Geisler refused to dispense with the erring servant.

Staff of German Agents. This put a touch of mystery to his affairs, and they now rush to the conclusion that his big staff were secret German service agents. Baron von Shoen, German ambassador here when the war broke out, used the Astoria as his residence before taking over his official mansion.

French officials now claim to have found evidence that the Astoria was to be used by the Kaiser on his expected arrival in Paris at the head of his troops last August, and that a great banquet was ordered for the third week in August, when, according to the German time table, Paris was to be taken.

Love Lasted 10 Years. HARRISBURG, Pa., July 21.—Engaged almost 10 years ago, torn apart by a lover's quarrel, both married and bereaved by death, wedded to each other July 7.

That is the summary of the romance of John A. Snyder, a Harrisburg mail-carrier and Mrs. Mary C. Stiemer. The wedding took place at the home of the bride in Los Angeles, Cal., where she has lived since leaving Harrisburg some time ago. Mrs. Snyder's maiden name was Miss Mary Cook.

PACIFIC STEAMSHIP CO. WONT QUIT BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company is not going out of the Transpacific business. Freight in the orient is so plentiful that the company can afford to turn down all cargo bookings and be as independent as it wants to be. And if the company really wanted to sell, it'll find a purchaser—an American buyer—for their ships. But there is not a chance—not a chance that the company will sell.

This was the statement made today by Philip Manson, general manager of the Atlantic Coast Steamship company, who has just returned from an extended trip to the orient. "The oriental business has become so large," he said, "and so profitable that the Pacific Mail is not going to abandon it. That is my opinion. Nevertheless, the Chinese shippers are very much perturbed over the report."

CAUSES ROW IN BASEBALL

To be sure, I might have said anything on the ball field. When an umpire hands you one like Rigler did at the home plate what you say will invariably be the result of hard feeling at the time.

"You're out there fighting, and anything you can get away with goes. Nobody living could fix a race like the one in the National League just now. It's the greatest ever, and we all have a chance."

George Stallings said: "There is absolutely no truth in the story that Captain Evers said that the National League race was 'fixed'."

EVERY STREET IN PENDLETON.

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Pendleton people recommend. Every street in Pendleton has its cases. Here's one man's experience.

Let E. P. Hutchinson, prop. West End Chop Mill, 1610 W. Webb St., tell it. He says: "I was caused a great deal of suffering by a dull pain in my back just over my kidneys. For a long time I didn't think it was caused by weak kidneys, but I often noticed that my kidneys were sluggish and that the kidney secretions did not pass freely. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the pain in my back and trouble with the kidney secretions." (Statement given May 13, 1910.)

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mr. Hutchinson said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills with very good results."
