NEWS FROM THE FARM AND RANGE

Bigger Yield About Baker

After getting special reports from all of the farm sections tributary to Baker, the Baker Herald sums up the crop situation as follows:
"Although lack of moisture alternating with complaints of too much rain, have threatened the grain yield in Baker and the surrounding counties, promises of a substantial yield over that of last year are given. While many sections report light crops, the grain acreage has been increased considerably and in many sections the yield will be unusually large, conforming the early season forecast."

John Day Crops Good

The outlook for the grain crop in the entire valley was never better, says a John Day Dispatch. Where water is available for irrigation there is very little danger for a shortage in the crop as the ground usually used for this crop is very fertile. On the high bench land this year there has been considerable moisture and more than an average crop of wheat, oats and barley is sure to be harvested. Grasshoppers, with the exception of a few instances on the extreme head of the river, have done little damage. The acreage in grain in the valley this season will average with that of last year.

Wheat Making Better Than 55

Herbert Thompson, well known young farmer on the reservation, is now outlining a piece of wheat that is making between 55 and 60 bushels to the acre by rough estimate. His grain escaped damage from the winds.

INSISTS UPON HOLDING LARD.

British solicitor General Declares it is Used in Making Explosives.

LONDON, July 28.—The hearing of the American meat packers' case in the prize court was resumed today. Letters were read from the Swift Packing Co. protesting against the seizure of lard, bacon and other supplies shipped by it to Scandinavia. Dwelling upon the immense quantities of lard in the seized goods, Sir Frederick Smith, solicitor general, contended it was destined for Germany, where it would have been used to make glycerin needed for explosives. The solicitor general said that the fact that glycerin could be made from lard was a recent discovery.

Minnesota Draws Vacationists.

ST. PAUL, July 28.—Minnesota is becoming the vacation grounds of thousands of tourists annually, the number increasing rapidly according to railroad officials. The lack of formality and its attendant expense, the ten thousand lakes and the rustic roughness of the scenery, are given as the causes.

SEATTLE MAN LOSES WIFE; ALSO HIS AUTO

ALBANY, Ore., July 28.—Ed La Shelle, 25, who says his home is in Seattle, has asked Sheriff Bodine to help him locate Will Jennings, 19, of Seattle, who La Shelle says, has run away with Mrs. La Shelle, 16, and La Shelle's clothes and an automobile, in which the three came from Seattle. Sheriff Bodine has not yet located Jennings.

La Shelle says that Jennings beat him up and threw him out of the car before making his getaway. La Shelle

BRYAN WILL SPEAK IN PORTLAND FRIDAY

PORTLAND, Ore., July 28.—Ex-Governor Oswald West will introduce William Jennings Bryan at the Hellig theater Friday night when he will speak on the subject of "Fundamentals" for the benefit of the Pacific Coast Rescue & Protective society.

Senators Chamberlain and Lane General Superintendent MacLaren of the society, and prominent city, county and state officials will occupy seats on the stage.

Mr. Bryan will reach Portland at 6 o'clock Friday evening from Albany and will be escorted to the Portland hotel, where he will rest and dine.

Although no formal arrangements have been made for a reception, it is pointed out that the ex-secretary is the most democratic and approachable of men and it is expected that many admirers will call on him at least to shake his hand.

THIS DISTRICT ATTORNEY HAD SOME EXPERIENCES

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Jeff McCarn, district attorney for Hawaii, who has had the interesting experience of being indicted and tried in his own court, says prize-fighting is a thing of the past in Hawaii. Prize fighting, or rather, the lack of it was the thing that led to McCarn being indicted and tried. Also it led to his being severely beaten and bruised very shortly after he accepted President Wilson's appointment to the island job.

McCarn having brought his children back to Nashville, Tenn., to put them in school ran along to Washington to give Attorney General Gregory first-hand information on his sensational term in Hawaii and on other things.

"Most of the best people of the island favor holding prize fights," said McCarn, "but the federal law being absolutely opposed, I could do nothing but enforce the law. It was pointed out to me that the law never had been enforced and that previous administrations were aware of its non-enforcement. It was suggested, too, that a test case be brought, but I could not see any necessity for a test case. The law is plain. The only test would have been of public sentiment.

There are other objections, the chief being that U. S. soldiers are led to lose a large part of their pay gambling on the fights.

"Many fights have been advertised but none has been held, for the law provides that every person attending is liable to punishment, as well as the principals."

For his attitude in that matter, McCarn said, he was set upon by a crowd in the court house and terribly beaten. "You wouldn't have recognized me for months," he said, grinning. Following the assault, he said, he was indicted on a charge of "assault with a deadly weapon," it being charged that he drew the weapon, a revolver and was only prevented from killing one of his assailants by the action of another in seizing the hammer of the revolver. In the federal court the matter was finally dismissed and prosecution then began in the territorial court.

There the first jury disagreed, five for conviction and seven for dismissal. After a second trial the jury acquitted him in three minutes.

"Funny thing for a prosecuting attorney to go through, wasn't it," said McCarn.

"It's a great little island, Hawaii," said the district attorney. "The owners, the sugar growers are more prosperous now than at any time in their experience, I believe. The governor, talking in San Francisco recently, however made the mistake of saying they had more money than they know what to do with. This aroused bad feeling apparently because the sugar growers are sure, they do know what to do with it."

SURGEON DRESSED TO PREVENT INFECTION

This is a British physician in the field ready for work. The British have learned as did the Germans long ago that extreme care must be taken to prevent infection of wounds. So careful are the surgeons that the rubber gloves are used only once. The nurses do not touch them in handling them to the surgeons, but use a pair of tongs, sterilized.

The mortality of wounded men in the Franco-Prussian war was about 75 per cent. In this on the side of the allies it has not been one-tenth of that.
