Roy Bishop and Famous Comedian, Francis Wilson, BECAME PALS.

Roy T. Bishop of Pendleton acted as first aid to a meal to Comedian Francis Wilson the other day at the Oregon building at the Panama-Pacific fair, according to Anne Shannon Monroe, who writes for the Portland Oregonian. She starts off her article as follows:

Every kind of a celebrity served in the Oregon building! Yours, please! How about a little Francis Wilson with Jack London on the side—and Mrs. Jack? Roy Bishop saw him first—Francis Wilson—with a charming young woman and in trouble. Roy is used to 'em in trouble at the Pendleton Round-up, and like Jack in the Box he went to the rescue.

The greatest living comedian had brought the young woman to the Oregon building for luncheon in the famous O. A. C. luncheon room, and the tickets were all sold. Lucky Mr. Bishop! He had secured two tickets for himself and he gallantly handed them to the distracted comedian who ceased at once to be a distracted comedian and became a grateful one.

After describing the meal and the comedian's sensations, Miss Monroe goes on to say:

"The Pendleton Woolen Mills next caught his eye, and he was about to wrap himself in a particularly adorable gray blanket when he espied the large photograph of the Pendleton Round-up, and demanded what it meant. This was Roy Bishop's cue; he told him, and at that moment the Round-up movie were being heralded through the building, so Mr. Bishop shut up shop and personally conducted the party, for nothing would do now but a trip to the lecture room and a view of the Round-up. There was a big crowd in the room, with many children.

NEWS FROM THE FARM AND RANGE

Harvest Bushel Barley—From 25-teen acres northwest of Weston, Joe Key is reported to have realized 390 bushels to the acre. His wheat is said to be turning out well, too.

3rd Annual Corn Show Planned—Word received by Agent T. F. O'Brien this morning from O.W. R. & N. headquarters announces that the third annual northwest corn show under the auspices of the O.W. R. & N. will be held in Walla Walla late in November or early in December. A more definite announcement will be made later. The purpose of the corn show is to prove to farmers that the northwest is adapted to corn production and that great returns from the land may be had by planting this cereal. The O.W. company announces that there is three times the acreage in corn this year that there was last and consequently, a three times larger show is anticipated.

Harvest Fire Near Walla Walla—One hundred acres of wheat burned Friday on the Lee ranch on Eureka Flat, farmed by Ben Grote, and only the hardest kind of work saved a 2700 acre tract nearby. In fighting the flames, two of the harvest crew were overcome with the heat and exertion.

When Running Short—The yield in the foothill sections is holding up well being very little less than that of last year, save the Walla Walla Union. But in the light land districts the Touchet hills, Dry Creek, around Prosser and elsewhere it is running six five to six bushels it was reported here yesterday. Increased acreage by reason of planting land which ordinarily would have been summer fallow, will hold up the total.

Local Wheat Market Up—The advance in wheat prices at Portland finds the local quotations also boosted. Local buyers declare club today is worth 85 cents but declare nothing is being offered.

Farmers Cut On Sunday—Because of the two days lost last week on account of the rain, many farmers were in the field with their machines yesterday, taking advantage of the perfect harvest weather. Will Wyrick reports that almost every farmer in the Casuya neighborhood was cutting. The grain up there is turning out well, he reports.

Many Austrians Captured. ROME, Aug. 2.—Austrian prisoners now total 75,000, the war office announced.

Franklin Auto on Test Trip Makes Burns Safely. DISTANCE FROM WALLA WALLA OF 236 MILES COVERED ON LOW GEAR.

The Franklin "non-stop, low-gear car" which left Pendleton yesterday morning for San Francisco, reached Burns this morning at 5:20, according to a message received by the Pendleton Auto Co., from J. W. McCormack, who, with W. C. Small and R. W. Riggs, are driving the car on its remarkable trip. A previous telegram announced the arrival at Ukiah 15 minutes ahead of schedule time.

The roads in the mountains were very bad, according to the message. Mr. McCormack stating that from Ukiah to Mt. Vernon the roads were the worst he had ever driven over. At Mt. Vernon the car was 20 minutes behind schedule but this last time as well as the time lost in starting from Walla Walla and in stopping in this city had been made up. The distance from Walla Walla to Burns is 236 miles, almost a quarter of the total distance. The motor was in fine shape when the message was sent.

The car left Walla Walla yesterday morning at 4:10 a. m., ten minutes behind schedule and arrived in Pendleton at 10:12. A stop was made here while Kyle Long, proprietor of the Stone Garage, examined the car to see that the high and intermediate gears had been removed. T. F. O'Brien, agent for the O.W. R. & N., sealed the transmission. The high and intermediate gears were delivered to R. Parlett, agent for the American Express, who shipped them to Mr. McCormack at San Francisco for use on the return trip.

The combined weight of the three men in the car is 432 pounds and the weight of the luggage is 870 pounds. A large crowd gathered at the Pendleton Auto garage to watch the departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hewitt of Echo were visiting Miss Dorothy Hewitt of this place Tuesday.

Miss Olive Peterson of Stockton, California, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Norton on the Page ranch.

Mrs. Thomas Connolly returned Wednesday from a ten days stay in Portland.

Jack and Maxine Stanfield of Echo are spending a few days with Mrs. H. E. Bartholomew.

Get Rid of Wash Day This Summer

THE owner of a big laundry estimates that in three-fourths of the homes of moderate means in this city the housewives do the family washing, all except collars, which are generally sent out to be laundered. This statement was the result of a careful investigation he had made, and he was sure it was correct.

Now, this newspaper is not concerned in anyway in the laundry business. The owners of the various laundries in this city seem to be getting along pretty well, and will continue to do so, whether the women do their own washing or not.

But how about the woman who spends one day in each week toiling over a washboard and a tub of hot soapsuds, and another day over the ironing board? How about her, Mr. Man?

Don't you know that washing is such hard work, and is so dreaded by women that by common consent, from one end of this country to the other, the second day of the week is known among them as "Blue Monday" because that is wash-day in the majority of homes?

She doesn't complain you say. Of course not. The average housewife seldom complains. She goes about the household work with outward cheerfulness, believing that it is her duty to do so; and a great part of housekeeping is the hardest kind of work, too—dishwashing, scrubbing, making beds, sweeping floors, shaking the rugs. But the hardest of all is washing.

Of course many families cannot afford to have the washing done outside. But here is a suggestion for this summer.

Take a good look at your wife, when you go home from work next wash day. Watch her as she moves wearily around, busy with the supper things. And then think how hot it is going to be this summer. Go to her, put your arms around her, and say: "Sweetheart, you're tired, aren't you? This washing is too heavy for you. What do you say if we send it to the laundry through the summer?"

"Why, we can't afford that," she will be likely to say, just like a woman, always trying to help.

"Well, we can afford that better than we can afford to see the last of the roses leave your cheeks," and that will be your time to kiss her.

The chances are that she'll break down, and lean her head on your shoulder, and have a little cry; and that needn't amaze you, for the hearts of women are often near the breaking point when we least suspect it, not alone from overwork, mind you, but from lack of appreciation and of some of the old-time caresses of courting days. And then you can tell her that you are going to have the washing done for her in July and August. The cost won't be a great deal and you can save it somewhere.

IN FOUND.
 The following described animal has been taken up by the marshal of the City of Pendleton, to-wit:
 One bay mare, about 12 years old, weight 900 pounds, spot in forehead, branded J. K. connected on left hip.
 If said animal is not claimed by the owner or those entitled to the possession of it, costs and expenses against it paid and it taken away within 10 days from the date hereof, then at 2 o'clock p. m. of the 10th day of August, the said animal will be sold to the highest bidder, at public auction, for cash, at the city pound, located at the Depot Barn, Cottonwood street, in said City of Pendleton, the proceeds of such sale to be applied to the payment of such costs and expenses of making sale.
 Dated this 23rd day of July, 1915.

Test Your Own Eyes

The above groups of lines should appear uniform when held at arm's length and you should be able to read the fine print below with ease when held at 14 inches.

Caution About Use and Selections of Spectacles
 Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort. If you are unable to read it with such ease and comfort, you will be able to read it with such ease and comfort, if you use the right eye spectacles and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters seem blurred or too close together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses used in the cheap goods are of unequal quality and have irregularly formed surfaces. Continued use of these cheap lenses will result in permanent injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to supply defects in the glass.

If you are wearing glasses make the text with your glasses on. If your vision does not meet the above requirements

IF YOU HAVE FREQUENT HEADACHES WHICH MEDICINES DO NOT CURE; if you see distant objects more (or less) clearly, or need to hold printed matter nearer to or further from the eyes than formerly; or need more light. If you have observed any of these things, your sight needs the aid of correctly adopted glasses to assist as well as preserve it.

Accurately fitted glasses are only possible when the sight has been scientifically tested.

We have every facility for doing this and exercise the greatest care so that you may receive the utmost benefit from wearing glasses.

A thorough examination and explanation of your condition will cost you nothing.
