JAPANESE DROWNED AT PASCO. Sinks and Does Not Reappear—Body Is Recovered.

PASCO, Wash., July 20.—The many Pasco people who went to the river to bathe yesterday saw Charlie Heasa, a Japanese, drown. He was swimming about 50 feet from the shore, when he suddenly turned in the water, sank and did not reappear. Help was summoned immediately and a boat sent out. Edward Custer, aged 15, dived to a depth of about 12 feet and brought the body to the surface. Dr. Elmore, who was bathing in the river, worked over the body, but was unable to revive the man.

The council is making arrangements to cooperate with the county commissioners in improving Tenth street to connect with the road to the Snake river ferry at Almsworth. The work will be in charge of County Engineer Hamilton and Ralph Riggs, who will have charge of the city chain gang while working on this piece of street improvement. It is the aim of the council to do the work with city prisoners.

CO-OPERATION WILL BE ASKED OF SOUTH AMERICA IN MEXICO

HELP ASKED TO RESTORE PEACE IN REVOLUTIONARY-STRIKEN NATION.

Conference Will Be Held Thursday—Officials Believe Action Will Satisfy the Entire World—Forebode Action is Possible—Latin Countries Will Act Together.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The United States has decided to ask the co-operation of South and Central America in the next step to restore peace to Mexico. The ambassadors from Argentina, Brazil and Chile and the ministers from Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala, have been asked to confer with Secretary Lansing here Thursday.

This announcement was made at the state department.

"On Thursday afternoon there will be an informal conference at the state department to consider the Mexican situation. Those taking part in the conference will be the ambassadors from Brazil, Argentina and Chile, and the three ranking ministers of the American republics, namely, those of Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala. As to the details which will be considered, nothing can be said at the present time as the conference will be entirely confidential."

Trend May Be Military.

While the state department characterized the coming conference as an informal one, the sentiment has been growing among American officials that the next step in the Mexican situation should be one which would meet the approval of the world and should be taken in concert with the nations of Central and South America, even if in the last event the trend should be toward military action.

The three ambassadors were mediators in the Niagara conference in the summer of 1914. The three ministers are, in point of seniority, at the head of the Central American legion corps. Action in concert with the Central and South Americans would be in line with President Wilson's plan for a closer relationship between the United States and those countries and is planned to show that the United States considers the Mexican question the common cause of the Pan-American group and that this government entertains no idea of territorial aggression but is acting solely as Mexico's nearest powerful friend and neighbor.

Wilson Long Cherishes Plan.

Those in closest touch with the Mexican question have been aware for some time that the views of the Pan-Americans were being taken into consideration. And on various occasions have seen in the president's utterances evidences to that effect. Some of the closest observers of the Mexican situation as long ago as last March professed to see the president's plan for Pan-American co-operation when he delivered an address on the Argentine battleship Moreno, and said:

"I feel that I am speaking the sentiments of my fellow countrymen when I say that there is a growing warmth of affection as well as understanding for the countries of the great American hemisphere, which we are coming daily to understand and which are, I hope, daily coming to understand us better and to which we are drawn by feeling as well as interest—by the desire to be comrades in some common understanding for humanity as well as neighbors."

"I want to express my feeling as president of the United States that we are rapidly approaching a day when Americans will draw together as they never have drawn together before, and that it will be a union not of political ties but of understanding and of mutual helpfulness."

Occasionally you meet a man who is so fond of arguing you can't stop him by agreeing with him.

WOMAN SUES TAILOR WHO ALTERED HER SUIT
SPOKANE, Wash., July 20.—While Jolla Chruszez, a native of Poland, testified yesterday that L. Schmidt, a German tailor, ruined her wedding skirt and tried to keep the remnants after he had reduced it about half in size, Justice S. C. Hyde held she had not yet become accustomed to "American styles" and dismissed the suit.
The woman testified that she took the wedding garment to the tailor and asked him to make it up in an American style. She said that when she got it home she found it was short, and that one of the panels was turned wrong.
When she put on the skirt in court she said that the tailor had changed it since she had seen it last. She sued for $15 as she said the tailor had kept a portion of the broadcloth.
Mr. Schmidt testified that the skirt was a perfect fit, and said that he only saved a fifth of the goods when he changed the style from Polish to American. He said he offered to return the goods. His assistant, Miss Violet Coates, testified to the same effect.
Thomas Corkery who appeared for the tailor, attempted to prove that the Polish woman, after donning the garment, was holding it up to make it appear short.
"I want the court to instruct this woman to take her hands off the skirt," he declared.
The judge then asked the interpreter to tell the woman to let the skirt hang free.
"I believe everybody is honest in this case, but I think I see what is wrong," said the justice in deciding the case should be dismissed. "This woman wore the skirt when it was in style in Poland. When she comes to America and it is cut like the American style she does not like it. This case shows us that habit has a great deal to do with our likes and dislikes."
COMPLAINT AGAINST HEPPNER TRAIN SERVICE
SALEM, Ore., July 20.—Dr. N. J. Perry Conder has filed a complaint with the public service committee against the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company, alleging that the train service on the Heppner-Heppner Junction branch is inadequate, unreasonable and unjustly discriminatory. He asserts that while the county is rapidly developing and citizens are greatly in need of a more efficient service, there has been no change for 20 years. At the present time a mixed train, consisting of freight cars, baggage car and passenger coach, leaves Heppner at 9 a. m. and leaves Heppner Junction on the return trip at 4 p. m.

Alleged Belgian Secrets Opened.

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung began the publication this morning of a series of documents purporting to be secret Belgian diplomatic reports found in Brussels by the Germans and describing international political situations from the time of the Moroccan crisis until the beginning of the present conflict. The purpose of their publication is to prove that Germany maintained a peaceful attitude throughout this period.

Count Lalaing, former Belgian minister to Great Britain, and Baron Greindl, minister to Germany, are quoted as having reported in February, 1905, that British hostility to Germany was caused by jealousy of the latter nation's commercial and naval growth. Lalaing is said to have asserted that the British feared the days of the naval supremacy were numbered.

A statement attributed to Baron Leghait, writing under date of May 7, 1905, was that while King Edward was in Paris he said the confidence existing between Germany and his country had disappeared and conditions were like those of 20 years earlier.

Summer Suggestions For Baby's Mother

SEASONABLE ADVICE ON THE HEALTH OF CHILDREN IN HOT WEATHER.

No one requires as much food in summer as in winter. Do not over-feed children during the hot weather. Serve only the lighter and more easily digested foods, and make sure the bowels keep normally active.

Most of the troubles to which children seem particularly susceptible in the summer have their origin in a constipated condition. The first care of the mother should be to see that the children are regular. At the first sign of a disposition to neglect this important function a mild laxative should be administered promptly. Cathartics and purgatives should never be given to children as they are harsh and violent in their action and tend to upset the entire system. The combination of simple laxative herbs in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is now very generally used to correct stomach and bowel trouble and is especially adapted for children. A free trial bottle can be obtained by being pleasant to the taste, mild and gentle in action and free from opiate or narcotic drugs of any description. A dose at bedtime brings relief next morning in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other discomfort, tend to upset the entire system.
