

HARVEST IS UNDER WAY AT ECHO; CROP YIELD TO BE LARGE

RANCHERS BEGIN OPERATIONS AND REPORTS FROM FIELDS ENCOURAGING.

Although harvest was done by hot winds earlier in the season, the yield will be larger in vicinity of Echo than in 1914—Other News Notes of Echo Village.

(Special Correspondence.) ECHO, Ore., Aug. 2.—Harvest in an all-time high in this vicinity and reports from the grain fields are very encouraging. Although there was considerable damage done to the crop by the hot winds a little earlier in the season, the stand was so heavy that the yield in the vicinity of Echo will be greater than that of 1914.

Jack Rethelien returned home Friday evening from a nine months' visit in the middle west. He spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Lena Mathers at Mason City, Iowa. During his absence he visited Illinois, Nebraska and Colorado. He reports a very pleasant trip but says there is no place like home. Mr. Rethelien is eighty-five years of age. He made the entire trip alone with as much ease as a far younger man would be expected to do.

SPORTS

BASEBALL IS SLOWER THIS YEAR THAN AT ANY TIME IN PAST

NATIONAL GAME IS TAKING A SLUMP ACCORDING TO JOHN MCGRAW.

Gives Reason Why the Cubs Ever Stayed on Top as Long as They Did—On the Other Hand There Are Indications to Show That McGraw May be Wrong in Contention.

BY GEORGE H. HOLMES (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Is the national game slower from a playing standpoint this year than in former years?

John McGraw swears it is. So do a lot of other veteran baseball men. "The only reason the Cubs ever stayed on top as long as they did is because the National League is playing the rottenest ball it has played in a decade," opines Lawn. "And the same goes for the Phils."

Some caustic individual may come back with the assertion that Mr. McGraw is prejudiced, inasmuch as his Giants have loitered around the second division and the cellar most of the season. They cannot, however, say the same regarding such utterances by other persons long connected with the game, who, in support of their contention, cite the many pitching come-backs of this season.

Of these probably the most glaring is that of Jack Coombs. The Iron man was considered through for two years. When Connie Mack unloaded him on Charley Ebbets at the start of the present season, the wise ones gave Ebbets the laugh. Those guffaws now are strangely stilled. The veteran has been chucking one of the best brands of baseball seen this season.

Nap Rucker is another example. The famous old side-wheeler has kept Brooklyn on the baseball map almost single-handed for a decade. Last year he slipped and the wise ones began printing obituary notices. He has been fairly successful this season.

Ed Walsh is still another. It has been several seasons the Supreme Chancellor of All Things held the enemy to six blows and won his game, hands down. Yet he went out against the Athletics not long since and did that very thing, and the twenty-two odd thousand fans who saw him put it over went home convinced that the Big Moose was right again. George Chalmers of the Phillies is also cited.

The debaters point to a whole raft of batters in support of their theory. The most prominent of these is Chief Meyers, McGraw's veteran Indian maskman. The Chief finished last season with a slugging average of .256. "He's done," chirped the dopesters. Since June the Indian has been slugging the ball at a rate of .368, although his season's average is a good bit below that due to poor work at the start of the season.

Fred Merkle and Larry Doyle occupy similar positions. Merkle quit playing in 1914 with a .218 mark, and Doyle but two points above him. They are now hitting the ball at a clip above .340 and are crowding Jake Daubert close for the leadership of the league. Art Fletcher is another. There are a lot of 'em.

Whether these facts indicate that the game is slower or not, the affirmative debaters have a powerful argument.

CHARLIE SPENDS MONEY TO GET WHAT HE WANTS

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Charlie Comiskey's idea for acquiring a real ball team is diametrically opposite to the idea conceived in the dome of Cornelius McGilhendy.

Mack gets the raw material and develops it. Comiskey buys it finished and delivered. The White Sox owner has spent close to $200,000 for the finished product in the past few years. His most recent purchase of Eddie Murphy for a sum somewhere near $10,000 calls to mind some of the real money he has handed over to the finishers for ball players.

For Eddie Collins $20,000; for Ray Schalk $12,500; for the late lamented Chapell $18,500; for Russell Blackburn $11,000; for Ping Bodie $5,000; for Bobbie Roth $8000; and for Hollie Zeider, bunton and all $8000. This is an incomplete list. If the whole truth were known the amount probably would total more than $100,000. And if it were not for some up to the present minute un-find "yours"

Get all the smoke-pleasure you pay for. Find the right cigarette—a SENSIBLE one that fits your own likes and dislikes.

It may or may not be Fatima

—but this will help you find it.

Tastes differ—in fashions, foods and pretty girls. Also in cigarettes. A cigarette that started out to please every man's taste would end up by pleasing none. Most of us like our cigarette smoke deliciously cool and refreshing. The Mexican likes his hot and dry, with a nice little peppery sting in it. Some men like a cigarette wholesomely, fragrantly mild. Others of us hunt for a cigarette almost as heavy as a black cigar. Most of us want an "easy" cigarette—a SENSIBLE one, so that no matter how steadily or how many we smoke, we'll feel as fit as a fiddle. Other men, though, don't care about that. They smoke only a few—so they want a kick like a mule's in each puff. All of us want our smoke "full-bodied"—it must satisfy that smoke-hunger. But the cigarette that just fills the bill for you may not do at all for your next-door neighbor.

Somewhere—among all the brands on the market—is the one just-right cigarette for YOU! Maybe it's the very one you have now in your pocket—but are you SURE? Maybe it's some entirely "different" cigarette—it may or may not be Fatima. But "find it!" Until you do, you're cheating yourself out of a whole lot of smoke-pleasure. Also you're wasting some money.

How to Find "yours"

To avoid blindly trying too many different cigarettes, ask yourself, first of all, this question: "Just what do I like in a cigarette?" If you smoke only a few every day, you may prefer a cigarette which is rather rich or heavy and "oily." Or you may like one which has a rather strong "oriental" taste with a pungency almost like perfume. Or you may want a cigarette with that noticeably "sweetish" Egyptian flavor. But if you smoke quite often—if you would like to smoke whenever you feel like it and without any effect on the tongue or throat or any fear of a heavy or "heady" feeling afterwards—then you should choose some cigarette such as Fatima, a cigarette composed of all-pure tobaccos of considerable aroma, mellowed by being aged and carefully blended to produce a fragrant and wholesomely mild, yet "full-bodied," smoke. And the smoke must be noticeably COOL. For otherwise your tongue or your throat will soon signal you to stop smoking so often.

If you will ask any Fatima smoker, he will tell you that Fatimas never make him "feel mean"—no matter how many he smokes. That is why Fatimas are considered the most sensible cigarette by such a large majority of smokers. And that is probably the main reason why hardly any Fatima smokers ever switch! They like a sensible cigarette—and one with a good, pure taste to it.

But the Taste is up to You

All cigarettes are pure, but when it comes to the taste, nobody can help you choose. You simply have to decide for yourself.

Of course, Fatima's taste may not appeal to you. But most men who try Fatimas like the taste so well that they seek no further—otherwise Fatimas could never have won and held their enormous and growing leadership amounting to over one and a half BILLION cigarettes a year.

The one purpose of this advertisement is to ask you in a fair and square way to give Fatimas (50 for 15c) a good trial. If they don't happen to suit your taste, you'll quit smoking them of course. But if you like Fatimas as well as MOST men do, you'll be mighty glad you read this advertisement—and ACTED ON IT!

Below are two simple tests which you can easily make and which may help you find your sensible cigarette.

It may or may not be Fatima. But be fair to yourself and find "yours."

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette that you are going to stick to for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff it is in your mouth for a few seconds. Let it "heat" around against your tongue and throat. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel cool and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of rank, oily leaf, you will feel a nipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaperlike" in your throat. Test number two—after smoking all day? If the tobaccos in the cigarette include a correct proportion of mild grades—and if they have been properly mellowed as to bring out the best qualities in each of the different types of tobaccos, you will be able to smoke through the day without feeling any effect from it. But with another cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobaccos are of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of having "smoked too much."

Clip out these tests and try them on Fatima

Wenatchee Italians to War

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 2.—Italy is daily taking its countrymen back to fight against Austria. Railroad officials say that already 15 Italians have answered the call of their country and many more are expected to follow. They go direct to Seattle, where the consul furnishes them with transportation to Italy.

On their way to San Francisco from New York by auto, J. C. Penny and party arrived in Wenatchee today after having been on the road since June 1 with 25 actual running days. They left for Seattle via Blewett pass. Mr. Penny is head of the J. C. Penny company, which controls 83 stores in the United States, each known as the Golden Rule. The Golden Rule in Wenatchee is under his supervision.

Gift for British Captain.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The lords commissioners of the admiralty have just presented a hunter gold watch with inscription and their appreciation on vellum to Capt. Charles Fryatt of the G. E. R.'s steamship Brussels in recognition of the seamanship he displayed when attacked by a German submarine off Maas light on March 25. Gold watches have also been presented to the chief officer and chief engineer. The submarine passed under the Brussels' stern and came up against the port rigging, with the periscope right along the port side. The captain declared that: "You could have easily hung your hat on the periscope as she was hung alongside us." Then the submarine disappeared and was not seen again. Captain Fryatt had three weeks before been presented with a gold watch from the chairman and directors of the Great Eastern railway for eluding a German submarine on March 2.

Spies Many in Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—The measures against the presence of possible spies in Germany are continually becoming sharper. They started, so far as the public's cooperation is concerned, with an appeal to travelers to help guard tunnels and bridges by giving careful attention to the actions of their fellow-passengers. Some weeks ago a placard was posted in all public places, warning citizens to guard their conversation. Another placard, warning soldiers against permitting themselves to be questioned by strangers is now posted in public resorts and at the railroad stations, and a special warning has been published in the press declaring that spies in great number are constantly present in Germany. Most of these, it is declared, come from neutral countries, but there are also renegade Germans among them.
