AMERICANS SEIZE POSSESSIONS IN HAITI; ONE NATIVE IS SLAIN

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Aug. 7.—American naval forces took possession of the office of the port, the National Palace and the Haitian gunboat Pacific, which arrived in Port-au-Prince.

During the movement to take the office of the port, the Americans opened fire on the Haitians and one Haitian was killed.

The occupation of the office of the port and the National Palace gave the Americans the last positions held by the Haitians. The populace has been thrown into consternation by the operations of the Americans.

The president of the senate, in the name of the nation, cabled Solon Menes, Haitian minister to the United States, a new protest against the occupation of Haitian territory by the American naval forces.

Life and Property Safeguarded.
The American authorities have notified the diplomatic body and the consular agents that Colonel Eli K. Cole, United States Marine Corps, and commander of the American expeditionary forces, is entrusted with the maintenance of order and the safeguarding of life and property.

Captain Edward L. Beach, chief of staff to Admiral Caperton, remains in charge of the work of settling any differences of an administrative nature which may arise with the Haitian authorities.

Dr. Rosalvo Bobo, leader of the revolution, arrived here on board the United States refrigerator ship Celtic. On landing, he was cheered by the populace.

Meeting of Assembly Called.

A meeting of the national assembly has been called for Sunday to elect a new president.

CAPE HAITIAN, Haiti, Aug. 7.

The American battleship Connecticut has arrived here from Port au Prince and has landed men.

The American authorities have taken over control of Cape Haitian. American marines are disarming the people of the city, and the forces of the revolution have received orders not to enter the city limits.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Children's Bureau of the Labor Department, in a bulletin advises mothers who are taking their babies to the country for a vacation to Look into the supply of milk and drinking water.

Select, if possible, a place where windows, doors and porches are screened against flies and mosquitoes. Make certain of sanitary water closets.

Take along a bolt of cotton netting to protect baby's crib against insects. If uncertain about the water or milk boil it.

If baby is bottle fed, enough feedings should be provided at home to last through the entire journey. It is best to sterilize the milk for this purpose.

Two Are Held.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 7.—After they had stolen $50 worth of hop sacks from J. E. Brophy of Eola and taken them to Salem in a rowboat stolen from Jim Jacobs, L. W. ## WARSAW WAS OFTEN THE PRIZE OF WAR IN PAST CONFLICTS

CAPITAL OF POLAND HAS SEEN BLOODY STRUGGLES FOR MASTERY.

Many Revolutions Recorded—Most of the History of the City Are Full With Bloodshed and Oppressive Rule—Independence Regained and Lost at Will of Early Kings.

(Portland Oregonian.)

The history of Warsaw from the 16th century onward is intimately connected with that of Poland. The precise date of the foundation of the town is not known, but it is supposed that Conrad, Duke of Mazovia, erected a castle on the present site of Warsaw as early as the ninth century.

Casimir the Just is supposed to have fortified it in the 11th century, but Warsaw is not mentioned in annals before 1224.

Until 1526 it was the residence of the Dukes of Mazovia, but when their dynasty became extinct it was annexed to Poland.

When Poland and Lithuania were united, Warsaw was chosen as the royal residence. Sigismund Augustus (Wasa) made it in 1550 the real capital of Poland, and from 1572 onwards the election of Kings of Poland took place on the field of Wola, on the west outskirts of the city.

From the 17th century possession of the city was continually disputed between the Swedes, the Russians, the Brandenburgers and the Austrians. Charles Gustavus, of Sweden, took it in 1655 and kept it for a year; the Poles retook it in July, 1656, but lost it again almost immediately.

Freedom Regained in 1792.

Augustus II and Augustus III did much for its embellishment, but it had much to suffer during the war with Charles XII of Sweden, who captured it in 1702; but in the following year peace was made and it became free again.

The disorders which followed the death of Augustus III in 1763 opened the field for Russian intrigue and in 1764 the Russians took possession of the town and secured the election of Stanislaus Poniatowski, which led in 1773 to the first partition of Poland. In November, 1794, the Russians took it again, after a bloody assault on Praga, but the next year, in the third partition of Poland, Warsaw was given to Prussia.

In November, 1806, the town was occupied by the troops of Napoleon, and after the peace of Tilsit (1807) was made the capital of the independent Duchy of Warsaw, but the Austrians seized it on April 21, 1809, and kept possession of it till June 2, when it once more became independent. The Russians finally took it February 8, 1813.

On November 29, 1830, Russia gave the signal for unsuccessful insurrection, which lasted nearly one year. The city was captured after great bloodshed by Paskevich, September 2, 1831.

Military Rule Severe.

Deportations on a large scale, executions and confiscation of the domains of the nobility followed, and until 1856 Warsaw remained under severe military rule.

In 1862 a series of demonstrations began to be made in Warsaw in favor of the independence of Poland, and after a bloody repression a general insurrection followed in January, 1863.

The Russians, however, remained masters of the situation. Executions, banishments to the convict prisons of Siberia and confiscation of estates followed. Deportation to Siberia and the interior of Russia followed on an unheard of scale. Scientific societies and high schools were closed; monasteries of Russian officials were called in to fill the administrative posts and to teach in the schools and the universities; the Russian language was made obligatory in all official acts, in all legal proceedings and even to a great extent in trade.

The name of Poland was expunged from official writings, and while the old institutions were abolished, the Russian tribunals and administrative institutions were introduced. The serfs were liberated.

Much rioting and lawless bloodshed took place in the city in 1905 and 1906.

Life Terms Are Given Men Who Made Attack on Woman

NEWPORT, Ore., Aug. 7.—Twenty-four hours after having waylaid and mistreated Mrs. R. R. Lakin, aged 19, of Blodgett, near Chitwood, Charles Reynolds, 27, of Tulsa, Okla., and Frank Jones, 28, of Tillamook, Ore., were sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Hamilton.

The two men committed the crime at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and were captured at 7 o'clock. They were arraigned before the grand jury at Toledo, made a voluntary confession of guilt and were sentenced.

The men were indicted on two counts, "one of attack on Mrs. Lakin and the other of assault and robbery with intent to kill."

Mrs. Lakin was riding on horseback alone from Nashville, her home, to Toledo when she was first accosted by the two men. They asked her to stop and eat lunch with them. She declined and proceeded.

Woman Gagged and Bound.
On her way back in the afternoon she was again accosted by Reynolds and Jones. This time they drew revolvers and forced her to dismount and then marched her before them into the woods, leading her horse. Once in seclusion they gagged, bound and robbed her, after which they subjected her to indignities at their leisure.

Finally the two men left Mrs. Lakin, still bound, and proceeded leisurely on their way, thinking she could not set herself free. Mrs. Lakin did free herself, however, and dragged herself to the road, where she fell unconscious and was found later.

SECRETARY OF ACHOO CLUB MAKES STATEMENT

HOW THE SNEEZERS FORMED AN ORGANIZATION IS RELATED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—P. F. Jerome, visited at his office, 125 East 27th street, and asked for an authentic statement concerning the U. S. Hay Fever Association, of which he is secretary, sneezed, called a stenographer, sneezed again, and dictated the following:

Reverend Guy Roberts is the president of the United States Hay Fever association, which meets in convention September 2-3 in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Rev. Roberts was formerly the pastor of the large Methodist church in Bethlehem; He is active in promoting plans for the entertainment of the nearly three thousand hay fever victims who annually visit Bethlehem and Mapewood for relief from the onslaught of sneezing and weeping.

While Rev. Roberts is hailed as the "Main Sneezer" of the Hay Fever association, curiously enough he is not a "sneezer." For the first 35 years of this popular organization the office of the president was filled by a qualified veteran, ex-President C. E. Delemator, of Newport, R. I., who preceded President Roberts, urged the convention to elect a successor who could preside over their deliberations without punctuating his remarks with sneezes. In the old days it was not unusual to declare a recess until the interrupting sneezers had quieted down.

The oldest sneezer on the records of the association was M. Richard Muckle, of Philadelphia, who died during the past year at the age of 90. Holding the record for seventy-six consecutive years of sneezing. He was president of the association from 1878 to 1883 and did much to make Bethlehem famous as a haven for the hayfeverite. It was under the administration of Col. Muckle that the famous "experience meeting" of the annual convention was started. At this session the secretary reads from an alphabetical list the names of fifty-seven or more varieties of "cures" and the delegates applaud their favorite and knock trifles. Last year a delegate from Philadelphia sent a letter in which he said he had suffered for seventeen years, but since adopting Christian Science he "could take it or leave it alone." A high brow delegate said, "A man never knows how much he has in his head until he gets hay fever, and then he wonders where it all comes from. It beats a correspondence school for returns on by William B. Barnett, of Independence, who carried her in his auto to Chitwood.

As soon as Mrs. Lakin could tell her story, Sheriff Bert Geer was notified and with a posse went in search of the assailants. The men meanwhile, had been arrested by farmers and though both were still armed they offered no resistance. When turned over to the sheriff and questioned closely they admitted their guilt.

Farmers Threaten Lynching.

Sheriff Geer started at once for Toledo with his prisoners, and at one place was forced to drive at full speed through a crowd of men who had gathered, and who were threatening summary vengeance. After guarding his prisoners over night the sheriff took them before Circuit Judge Hamilton, the grand jury, which was in session, having meanwhile indicted them on charges of attack and assault with intent to kill.

After a scathing denunciation of the pair, Judge Hamilton sentenced them to 20 years' imprisonment on the attack charge and to life on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

The prisoners showed not the slightest trace of emotion while in court and paid little attention to what the judge said to them.

Judge Hamilton declared it was a decided compliment to the citizens of Lincoln county that the law had been allowed to take its course.

While Mrs. Lakin's condition was reported serious, it was considered that she was out of danger. Her husband is a blacksmith, employed on the railroad.

The investment? A delegate from Boston, quoted the classic cure suggested by Oliver Wendell Holmes. "Six feet of clean gravel, six feet down."

The hay fever season will end in the—achoo-achoo—end in the fall—achoo-achoo, when the golden—achoo-achoo—golden leaves and the poetic crisp ozone—achoo-achoo—brings delight to the sneezing victim. Achoo!

The hay feverites accept their tortures with good humor. No one laughs more about the affliction than one who has it, as is illustrated by the members of the association in their annual gatherings.

It's NOT Luck!

Tire service is not a matter of luck—of mere chance.

The number of miles any tire will travel depends first of all upon the quality and integrity that are "built into that tire!"

It's not necessary for you to buy tires blindfolded. The makers of Ajax Tires have enough confidence in their product to give you a written guarantee for 5000 miles with each and every Ajax tire you buy.

Yes that's exceptional—for when you examine into tires you'll find that most standard makes have only an "implied life" of about 3500 miles. You find that from custom alone, manufacturers' adjust tire differences on this basis.

But not so with Ajax Tires. They guarantee you in writing 1500 miles more or 43% more tires for the same investment—and the saving to you in dollars and cents amounts to from $3 to $15 on every tire you buy, according to size.

Your own experience has taught you that anything but the best is false economy. Play safe and equip your car with Ajax Tires.
